SEEK HIM, FIND HIM, FOLLOW HIM—DAILY

Searching my computer files of past columns, I came upon the following from May 2004 which I believe bears repeating; I hope you will agree.

In the New Testament, Acts of the Apostles, Chapter 16, Verses 13 – 15, (was also included in first reading on Monday, 5/26/25) we hear very briefly about the effect of Saint Paul's words on a woman named Lydia. Verse 14, especially, needs to be re-read and given time for reflection. It reads, "One of them, a woman named Lydia, ……listened, and the Lord opened her heart to pay attention to what Paul was saying." It goes on to tell that she and her household were baptized and describes how she was changed.

The key message here, I believe, are in the words, (she) "listened* and the Lord opened her heart to pay attention;" then we hear about the results, about her conversion.

Perhaps after reading this, our response may be, "That's a nice story, but what should I get from it, how should it affect me?" I believe it's about personal conversion; and if we haven't experienced it yet, then we should hope to, the sooner the better. The commentary for May 17, 2004 in The Word Among Us, for this Scripture, provides some additional words for reflection:

> "From this point on, Lydia's life would now be characterized by a loving, life-giving relationship with Jesus – and this is the very nature of conversion. In conversion, God touches our hearts and makes us aware of his love, our sinfulness, and our need for his mercy. Such an awareness moves us to turn toward him so that he can begin a process of teaching and empowering us to embrace his goodness and reject the glamour of evil. ……..'conversion urges expression in visible signs, gestures, and works of penance' (Catechism of the Catholic Church, 1430). ….. shows that conversion is not just a one-time event but a lifelong process.* It involves continually bearing good fruit as we learn to cooperate with his Spirit.* As God continues to open our hearts to him, we are transformed bit by bit. …… . We leave behind the marks of our old life as selfishness gives way to service, wasted time becomes opportunities for prayer, and the approval of God eclipses human praise."

My friends, we are all in need of this personal conversion; a time when we listen, but most importantly, when the Lord opens our hearts to recognize what the Holy Spirit has for us. Truly, it can be a life-changing experience; the danger lies in thinking we don't need it, that we're OK just the way we are. May we continually seek on-going conversion, remembering: "With God there is always more!"

"Father, deepen the conversion of my heart and let me experience greater intimacy with you."
from The Word Among Us, May 17, 2004

GOSPEL MEDITATION

June 1, 2025
7th Sunday of Easter

John 17:20-26

The famous 20th century St. Padre Pio said once that he would wait outside the gates of heaven until the people in his life had entered. I'm not sure that I, or frankly many people I know, would say that and mean it. Yet that is precisely the kind of attitude we see in Jesus as he prays for us in the Gospel today. Having celebrated the Ascension of the Lord just a few days ago, we now hear the Son of God at the Last Supper pray to his Father *"that they may be brought to perfection as one" (John 17:23). What does this mean for us?

I'd wager that we are not surprised that Jesus wants to make us perfect — that is, happy, whole, and healed. The shocker is that he desires this for us collectively and not just individually. Perfection is a team sport. We need each other to be perfect. Jesus is like a mother longing for her adult children to learn how to be in loving support of one another. He wants the perfection of his disciples to be not some individualistic plan of moral uprightness, but a loving communion of brothers and sisters.

Let's apply this practically: Do I see my participation at Mass as something I do merely for my own peace and edification, or as something I do with and for the people around me? Do I see my ongoing need for forgiveness as something that simply makes me feel better, or as a task that heals those around me, too? Is my dearest hope to individually get to heaven when I die, or is it to be part of the great procession of souls, together marching towards the heavenly Jerusalem? Do I want to be in heaven with people I currently find difficult? How would my life change if I did?

— Father John Muir
