STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION

Today's second reading reminds us that we are the adopted sons and daughters – the heirs – of God. We are good stewards of our inheritance when we share our faith and fulfill Our Lord's command to "go...and make disciples of all the nations."

VOCATION VIEW

Today we celebrate a central mystery of our faith. Our triune God calls us to be his own and blesses us on our life journey.
What impact does this mystery have on your vocation?
(Psalm 34)

LITURGY LINES

LAUDA SION
BY FR. PAUL TURNER

Lauda Sion is the Latin title of the sequence for the solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ, formerly known as the feast of Corpus Christi.

A sequence is a hymn before the gospel that develops the theme of a particular day. Throughout history, the liturgy has included many sequences. Today, there are only a few, and some of them, including Lauda Sion, are optional.

The melody of this hymn is even older than the words. The words were composed by Thomas Aquinas (+1274), at the request of Pope Urban IV, who set the feast of Corpus Christi on the universal calendar. The lengthy text helps the community announce what we believe about the Eucharist.

The hymn opens with praise to Christ for the Eucharist. "Sion" refers to the church, the new Jerusalem. "Lauda" is the command to praise or laud.

The text then professes our belief: The Eucharist replaces the former way of offering sacrifice. The church continues this sacrifice at the request of Christ. Faith, not sight, believes that bread becomes his body, and wine becomes his blood. Christ is whole under either form. Eating does not break Christ apart; rather, it unifies thousands of believers. People eat and drink their judgment – salvation or doom.

The final few verses may be sung alone, as a shorter version of the sequence: The food of angels is given to pilgrims. The Eucharist was foreshadowed in the sacrifice of Isaac, the paschal lamb and the manna in the desert.

The hymn closes with a prayer that Jesus might grant the singers a place at the heavenly table with the saints.

Hoy celebramos un misterio central de nuestra fe. Nuestro Dios Trino nos llama a ser suyos y nos bendice en nuestro viaje de vida. ¿Qué impacto tiene este misterio sobre tu vocación?
