MASS PROGRAM

FIRST READING

2 Kgs 4:42-44

A man came from Baal-shalishah bringing to Elisha, the man of God, twenty barley loaves made from the firstfruits, and fresh grain in the ear. Elisha said, "Give it to the people to eat." But his servant objected, "How can I set this before a hundred people?" Elisha insisted, "Give it to the people to eat." "For thus says the LORD, 'They shall eat and there shall be some left over.'" And when they had eaten, there was some left over, as the LORD had said.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Ps 145:10-11, 15-16, 17-18

The hand of the Lord feeds us; he answers all our needs.

SECOND READING

Eph 4:1-6

Brothers and sisters: I, a prisoner for the Lord, urge you to live in a manner worthy of the call you have received, with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another through love, striving to preserve the unity of the spirit through the bond of peace: one body and one Spirit, as you were also called to the one hope of your call; one Lord, one faith, one baptism; one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all.

GOSPEL

Jn 6:1-15

Jesus went across the Sea of Galilee. A large crowd followed him, because they saw the signs he was performing on the sick. Jesus went up on the mountain, and there he sat down with his disciples. The Jewish feast of Passover was near. When Jesus raised his eyes and saw that a large crowd was coming to him, he said to Philip, "Where can we buy enough food for them to eat?" He said this to test him, because he himself knew what he was going to do. Philip answered him, "Two hundred days' wages worth of food would not be enough for each of them to have a little." One of his disciples, Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, said to him, "There is a boy here who has five barley loaves and two fish; but what good are these for so many?" Jesus said, "Have the people recline." Now there was a great deal of grass in that place. So the men reclined, about five thousand in number. Then Jesus took the loaves, gave thanks, and distributed them to those who were reclining, and also as much of the fish as they wanted. When they had had their fill, he said to his disciples, "Gather the fragments left over, so that nothing will be wasted." So they collected them, and filled twelve wicker baskets with fragments from the five barley loaves that had been more than they could eat. When the people saw the sign he had done, they said, "This is truly the Prophet, the one who is to come into the world." Since Jesus knew that they were going to come and carry him off to make him king, he withdrew again to the mountain alone.

PRAYER FOR THE SUCCESS OF THE VICTORY FUTURE PROJECT

Almighty God and Father,
You established your light on this hill in Delhi and generations have kept that light burning brightly. As we look forward, bless our efforts and our deliberations. Give us wisdom and courage so that we can build the kingdom you desire and the community you long to see. Give us generous, kind hearts and bless our efforts with Success. Amen

Fr. Ben's Column

"You give them something."

My grandparents' home was very small and sparsely decorated. In fact, I can only remember three things hanging on the walls of their main living room; a mirror above the fireplace and on the opposite wall, on either side, two colored pictures- one of John F. Kennedy and the other Jackie. My grandparents were so proud that an Irish American Catholic had been elected President of the United States.

On January 20th, 1961, toward the end of his inaugural address, President Kennedy said these incredible words: "And so, my fellow Americans… ask not what your country can do for you — ask what you can do for your country." His words seem so full of possibility, generosity, and hope. They seem so unselfish, encouraging, and sacrificial. In a way they are youthful, energetic, and vigorous. The President is speaking to a people he hopes first look to help not themselves but others, the community, the nation, and the world. In fact, John Kennedy is addressing something that is, or was, part of the character of Americans and America, a self-determination, an individualism, a spirit of independence that didn't look to the government first, but last, if at all. Kennedy's words seem even more incredible today when the refrain of so many seems to be "what is the government going to do for us?" When so many seek to provide for their own needs, wants, and advancement first and foremost.

Today we have St. John's version of the Gospel reading about "the feeding of the five thousand." In this version, St. John leaves out a small detail that St. Mark includes in his telling of the same story. In today's gospel passage, St. John has Jesus ask how so many are going to be fed and then he tells the apostles to have the crowd sit and Jesus blesses bread and fish and all have enough to eat. In Mark's Gospel, Jesus first says to the apostles "you give them something to eat."

It was not acceptable to Jesus that the apostles simply send the crowd away to find something for themselves. Jesus demanded that they provide for the crowd themselves. The apostles were not to send the crowd away hungry. Like Jesus, they were to feed them, even if that meant giving up all they had, their own meager rations. They were to be personally committed to the crowd, no longer as strangers but as family, their children, their relatives, their own people. Families eat together and share what they have, so we see the vast crowd move from anonymous strangers, to being brothers and sisters, the family of Jesus, and so the family of the apostles.

We can get into a habit of asking "What about me?" "How am I being provided for?" "What's in it for me?" We can look for what we are owed and that might even be legitimate, just, and fair. Nevertheless, Jesus didn't say to his followers "send the crowd away and prepare something for us to eat, because after all of our work, we deserve it." Rather, Jesus said to His disciples (which includes us) "you give them something to eat." Another important point in this Gospel message is not simply that if we share what we have, we will have enough to go around. As the modernists would have us believe – the miracle is that everyone shared. Rather, Jesus teaches that if we are willing to sacrifice and give even the little we have for others in God's name, God will bless and multiply our gift so that more than enough, a superabundance, will be provided. Jesus is saying to us that we are to be personally invested, committed, willing to sacrifice. We are called to be generous, to be the givers, to be the youthful generation that creates a community that is hopeful, enriched by our presence, our gifts and our giving, our generosity, and our goodwill. Every generation is a new generation, and every new generation brings with it potential, possibility, and hope. Here at our beloved Victory, with God's grace and blessing, together we can build a better future, together we can feed the crowd, together we are stronger, together we are better, together we can make a difference for everyone.

How do we attract people each year who consider becoming Catholic?

The short answer is YOU!

Our parish has many inquirers year after year because our parish members open their hearts to welcome others. As members of a welcoming and evangelizing community, we must take seriously our call to share the Divine message of salvation. The invitation happens in our families, in the workplace, with friends and neighbors, and in daily contacts.

Give thanks to God as He continuously strengthens each of us who seek to do His will in offering a gentle, humble, and clear welcome to the Catholic faith.

"Go out into the whole world and proclaim the Gospel to every creature." (Mark 16:15)

Please contact the Office of Religious Education to find out more about how to sign up for RCIA sessions that begin again in September. Call 347-2071 for more information.

Bulletin Deadline

If you would like to submit an article or announcement for the bulletin, submissions are due on Mondays at 9:00AM. Written notices can be emailed to olvbulletin@olv.org

Thank You!

Thank you to the bereavement team for taking care of families in their time of need. From meeting with the families to planning the Mass, your support and guidance through the process is invaluable.

SafeParish™

In July, the Archdiocese moved to SafeParish as the new platform for Child Protection training and compliance. All volunteers and employees whose accounts were active in Virtus received an email from SafeParish with instructions for registering on the SafeParish website. SafeParish will continue to work with our current background check provider – Selection.com. All training and background information that was in your Virtus account will be transferred to SafeParish. No new live training through SafeParish will be required if you had an active Virtus account and had previously completed live child protection training through Virtus. Ongoing child protection training will still be required for all volunteers and employees and will consist of quarterly interactive video-based training instead of monthly bulletins. Please see our website for instructions on registering for an account at https://www.olvdelhi.org/safeparish or contact our Safe Environment Coordinator
