Gospel of Life

The Respect Life Ministry invites you to join us for a presentation on the "Gospel of Life: At the End of Life" presented by Dr. Robin Goldsmith, Co-Founder of the St. Gianna Molla Clinic and Atty. Greg Vanevenhoven. With the onset of nationalized healthcare, changing moral values, hospital budget concerns, and a growing elderly population, more people are asking questions about their "end of life" care. It is imperative to know your rights and moral responsibilities in any medical situation. Don't be caught off guard! Please join us on Monday, November 8, at 6:30 p.m. in the Social Hall. There will be babysitting and pizza for your children. We also invite those adults attending the presentation to join us for a light meal from 5 p.m. to 6:15 p.m. There is a sign-up sheet in the Gathering Space. You may also RSVP by calling 920-336-4033 Ext. 304. If you need babysitting, please specify that when you sign up. We look forward to seeing you.

Our Friends the Saints

This week we celebrate All Saints' Day, honoring those in heaven who have, as St. Paul so eloquently puts it in 2 Timothy 4:7, " fought the good fight, finished the race, kept the faith." As we aspire to join them one day in heaven, we can look to them as role models for our faith.

One of the grand traditions of our Catholic faith is naming after our children after saints, lending them a simple and meaningful patron to protect them and who they can look to for inspiration in their own lives. It's a tradition I've taken in naming my own children, teaching them about their name saints as they grow, and offering them as role models in their own faith lives. My own patroness, St. Bridget of Sweden, has been an inspiration to me, particularly as a mother of five–she herself raised six, one of which is a canonized saint! Father Jim speaks often of his patron, St. James the Greater, and the kinship he feels with him.

Think you're not named after a saint? Dig a little, and you might be surprised. My Godson, Colin, has St. Nicholas as a patron since Colin was originally a nickname for Nicholas. As another example, here at Our Lady of Lourdes we just baptized a little boy named Ezden, a derivation of Ezra the Prophet. Most names have some connection to a saint's name, and that saint just might add a little inspiration to your own faith journey.

Whether or not you can determine a namesake saint, I encourage you to explore the beautiful fullness of our faith and the gift we have in the lives of the saints. They are strikingly relatable in so many cases if only we take the time to get to know them. St. Monica prayed for decades for the return of her son Augustine to the faith. Just like so many of us, she mourned the loss of her child's faith, but her persistence in prayer paid off; and when Augustine returned, he became among the most prolific and most revered of saints. Her experience gives us hope for the conversion of our own loved ones. If you feel like life is a constant battle of impossible causes and struggles you should become acquainted with Saints Rita and Jude, who are the patrons of just such causes. Are you facing a complicated situation? Our Holy Mother as Our Lady, Undoer of Knots is a personal favorite. Whatever your situation, there is a patron saint for that and a saint who has walked a similar journey if only we seek them out.

As we celebrate the Saints, a treasure of our faith, I encourage you take the time to get to know them. Whether you share a name, a station in life, a problem, or only your faith in Christ, they are sure to help you grow in your faith and bring you closer to Christ.

Yours in Christ,

Bridget Destree
Parish Secretary

News from the Principal

Dear OLOL Parishioners,

Fr. Jim gave a presentation on the spiritual aspects of Halloween to our students. Very few of our students knew that Halloween is connected to the Christian and Catholic faith. I even learned a few things! I also enjoyed seeing Fr. Jim with his students from Chicago. Thank you, Fr. Jim, for spending time talking to our students.

I would like to thank all of the families that joined us for our Harvesting Faith Family night last week. Students were able to carve pumpkins, make a Halloween craft, do some estimating with pumpkins, and other STEM activities. Due to the generosity of our families, we were able to provide gift bags to child cancer patients. A win-win for everybody! Thank you to the OLOL elementary teachers for putting the event together.

The Night of Keys is two weeks away. We invite all OLOL Parishioners to purchase a Key Raffle ticket for two dinner tickets and the chance to win $10,000. This is our biggest fundraiser of the year, and we hope that you can support our school and the excellent Catholic education we provide. Tickets can be purchased at either the parish or school office. The Night of Keys is Saturday, November 13, at the National Railroad Museum. I hope to see you there!
