Fr. Gary writes:

Today we celebrate Mother's Day! I received the following tribute honoring the experience of Mothers.

"St. Paul tells us in his letter to the Romans, 'Rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep.' On this day when we acknowledge the importance of motherhood, we are grateful for all who have shown us a Mother's love, and grieve with those who are experiencing pain and loss.

To those who gave birth this year to their first child – we celebrate with you. To those who lost a child this year – we mourn with you. To those who experienced loss through miscarriage, failed adoptions, or running away – we mourn with you. To those who walk the hard path of infertility, fraught with pokes, prods, tears and disappointment – we walk with you. Forgive us when we say foolish things. We don't mean to make things harder. To those who are foster moms, mentor moms, and spiritual moms – we need you. To those who have warm and close relationships with your children – we celebrate with you. To those who have disappointment, heartache and distance with your children – we sit with you. To those who lost their mothers this year – we grieve with you. To those who experienced abuse at the hands of your own mother – we acknowledge your experience. To those who have aborted children – we remember them and you on this day. To those who are single and long to be married and mothering your own children – we await the fulfillment of God's plan in your life with you. To those who stepparent – we walk with you on these complex paths. To those who envisioned lavishing love on your grandchildren, yet that dream is not to be – we grieve with you. To those who will have emptier nests in the upcoming year – we grieve and rejoice with you. To those who placed children for adoption – we commend you for your selflessness and remember how you hold that child in your heart. To those who are pregnant with new life, both expected and surprising – we anticipate with you.

And to our Blessed Mother, we thank you for your example and motherly love, which leads us always to the divine love of your Son. Amen.

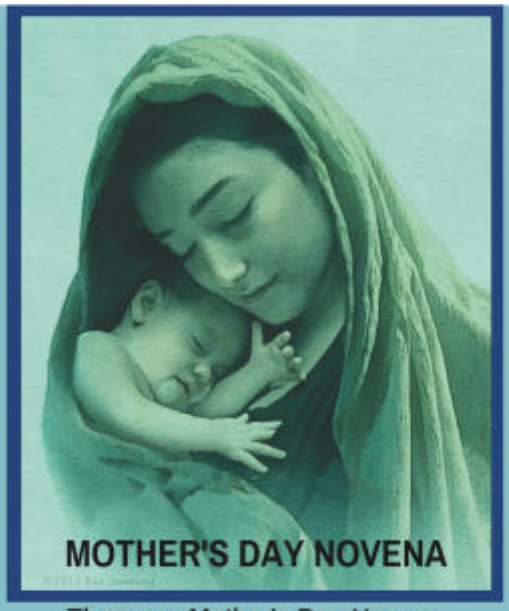
The Church gives thanks for each and every woman: for mothers, for sisters, for wives; for women consecrated to God in virginity; for women dedicated to the many human beings who await the gratuitous love of another person; for women who watch over the human persons in the family; for women who work professionally, and who at times are burdened by a great social responsibility. The Church recognizes that every part of every woman's genius is her call to motherhood, expressed not only in conceiving and bearing children, but in the particular sensitivity of all women to the needs of others."

Dispensation Lifted

Bishop Gregory Parkes has announced that the obligation for Catholics to attend Mass on Sunday will resume on May 22, the vigil of Pentecost. Bishop Parkes said, "It's my intention that the general dispensation from the obligation to attend Sunday Mass issued last March will be lifted effective on the vigil of Pentecost, which is the weekend of May 22 and 23. We will be updating and providing suggested protocols and guidelines to our parishes so that they remain among the safest places to be." He also added: "On April 5th, the vaccine (was) made available to every adult in our diocese, and in the state of Florida. This is a reason for hope. In the same way that many are returning to shopping, to restaurants, social gatherings, and vacations, it's time to come back to Mass. It's time to come back to church, it's time to come home."

PRAY

To honor the celebration of Mother's Day, pray the Rosary today for the intentions of our mothers, for those who have been motherly influences to us, and for those who long to be mothers.



There are Mother's Day Novena envelopes at the church entrances. These envelopes will be placed on the altar for nine days beginning on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 8 and 9. All mothers are remembered in prayer during these days.

Dance, dance, wherever you may be, I am the Lord of the dance says He...

Many people think of learning the alphabet, counting and recognizing shapes when envisioning early childhood education. While those components are certainly essential, music and movement are of equal importance. When music and movement are properly incorporated into an early childhood classroom, students thrive. Their social and emotional development is enhanced, and their language skills improve. The research is clear, music and movement stimulate brain activity which facilitates healthy growth and development in children.

Our early childhood students are exposed to music daily. It evokes movement and children delight in movement. We believe that educating the whole child, mind, body and soul is what promotes a healthy approach to learning and living. It provides a necessary balance of creativity and structure in the early childhood classroom. The positive environment that music creates allows us to focus while giving us an outlet for our energy.

Even now, as social distancing has become our new normal, music and movement are a part of everything we do. We choose to dance our way through the Pandemic!

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION
JEANINE'S STORY

I once saved up my money all year long so that I could go to a workshop. I was standing in the dinner line next to the workshop presenter as she stretched her arms wide and said loudly, "Ah! It's good to be alive!" That set me thinking. For her it is good to be alive. For me it is good to be alive. But what about the homeless person, sleeping tonight in a public park? What about the person diagnosed with cancer who has no health insurance? What about the family living in a tent in Haiti, the woman on the streets of Los Angeles addicted to heroin? What about the children who are starving in a refugee camp in Darfur, and the mothers who cannot feed them? Just what does it mean when you say it's good to be alive? I do not intend to be self-righteous. I happen to be a middle-class person with many blessings in life. What I wish is that everyone could have what I do. This is naïve, I suppose. Idealistic, certainly. And what, after all, do I propose to do about it? Where is my plan, my solution to the poverty and hunger that plague the majority of the world's population? I am not arrogant enough to propose a solution. Others smarter, wiser, more politically savvy, have proposed solutions since the beginning of time. I only know I cannot wish idly for others to have a better life. I must try to work for it in whatever ways I can; otherwise my gratitude becomes meaningless. I will have closed the door on the better part of my Christianity and my humanity, cut off from the love, learning, and pain that are essential to living, trapped in complacency. Then I am very poor indeed.

Due to the pandemic, we have lost many bulletin advertisers and are trying to rebuild the bulletin revenue. 2021 Annual Pastoral Appeal
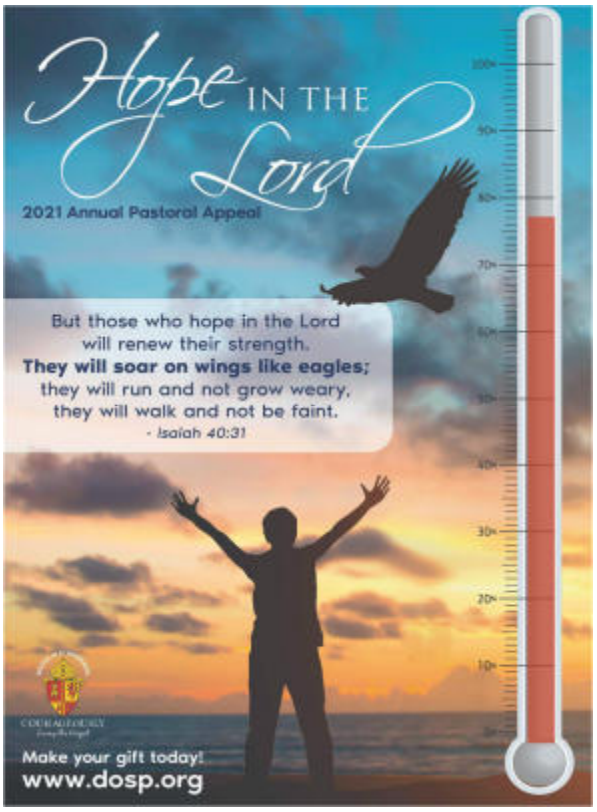
Hope in the Lord

Thank you to the 455 families who have responded so generously to the Appeal so far. We have reached $176,985 in pledges and $149,955 has been paid toward our goal of $228,225 for this year. If you have not yet made a gift or pledge, please prayerfully consider the blessings you have received.

The Office of Worship assists the Bishop in his mission as "promoter and guardian of the liturgical life" of the diocese by:

- Coordinating diocesan liturgies, such as the Rite of Election, Chrism Mass, Ordinations
- Developing programs and workshops that contribute to the advancement of liturgical life
- Providing liturgical formation and serving as a resource to clergy and laypersons in the parishes of the diocese regarding liturgical matters.

Please make a gift to the Annual Pastoral Appeal, knowing you will be helping in the mission of promoting and providing liturgical programs across the Diocese.



Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion Are Needed

We need Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion to bring Communion to Catholic residents and patients in the nursing homes, assisted living facilities, and to the homebound. Applicants must be registered members of the parish and Confirmed Catholics. Volunteers will meet with Fr. Jonathan, receive procedural training, Diocesan Level II background screening and Safe Environment Training. Family members may bring Communion to their loved ones without screening. This is a beautiful, rewarding, spirit filled ministry. Our absent brothers and sisters really appreciate the love and caring we show by bringing them the Eucharist when they are unable to attend Mass. Contact: Christina Lapointe, Mondays and Tuesdays in the Parish Office, (727) 733-3606 or christina@ourladydunedin.org.
