Everyday Stewardship - Choosing Deafness

If you're a parent, you know that hearing evaluations are usually done at a child's annual physical exam starting around age four. The little person gets hoisted up onto the exam table, fitted with a pair of special headphones, and then they need raise their hand when they hear a sound.

I bet all of us parents who have sat through one of these tests with a preschooler — especially a particularly strong-willed one — have experienced a moment where we ask ourselves: I wonder if there's something wrong with her hearing. Is that why she doesn't listen to me? 'Come here, put on your shoes, pick up your toys, finish your carrots, don't touch that' — she isn't being naughty, she just can't hear it!

And then that moment, for those of us whose kids passed the hearing test with flying colors, comes crashing down into a realization that, yep, they can hear just find. They're just choosing deafness.

But how can we really get mad when we remember that we do the same thing to God day in and day out? I often wonder if God, sitting in His Heaven, tires of calling to us in the same way young parents tire of calling out unheeded directions to their small children. Help that person. Hear My voice. Open your heart. Give of yourself here. Talk to Me.

What is the call He wishes you to hear today? Can you hear it? Are you listening? — Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS

Restoring Hope Gala tickets and tables are available for purchase

We are excited to announce our 7th Annual Restoring Hope Gala will take place on Friday, Nov. 12 at the Radisson Hotel and Conference Center in Green Bay. For the past six years, we have watched this signature fundraiser grow into an extraordinary night of community partnerships to care for our homeless brothers and sisters.

At this year's Gala, hope and inspiration will fill the room. Y100's Randy "Shotgun" Shannon will emcee the event with WBAY's Bill Jartz as our auctioneer. The Bluewater Kings band from Chicago will headline the night with jazz and music from the prohibition era. We are excited to bring this event back to an in-person setting and roar into the 20s. We will also have a virtual option for those wishing to support from the comfort of their home.

Because health and safety is paramount during these times, St John's will be working with the Radisson to have the highest standards in place.

Why Do We Do That? Catholic Life Explained

Question: As we celebrate Labor Day, can you tell me about Catholic teaching regarding labor?

Answer: One of the most important principles of Catholic social teaching is the dignity of work and the rights of workers. Four encyclicals address this foundational social teaching: Rerum Novarum (1891) by Leo XIII, Quadragesimo Anno (1931) by Pius XI, Laborem Exercens (1981), and Centesimus Annus (1991) by John Paul II. They address both the theology and dignity of work. In Genesis, God takes the initiative in creating the world, calling forth human beings to be faithful stewards of creation. We are thus formed to share in God's continuing creative activity by partnering with God in finishing the world and helping bring it to completion and fulfillment. From this perspective, work can be spiritually understood in terms of sharing in God's ongoing activity to build, create, and transform the world. Human beings are co-creators with God. This vocation demands self-discipline.

Besides an exercise in self-discipline, work is also the means by which we develop and fulfill ourselves. In work, we shape the world and our environment. Through work, we also shape ourselves. Pope John Paul II summarized this point in Laborem Exercens #6, "the value of work is not primarily the kind of work being done, but the fact that the one who is doing it is a person."

Labor Day offers an excellent opportunity to reflect on how we view work in light of our Catholic social teaching.

September 5, 2021

The next time you're in a public place, look around you. Notice the variety of people coming and going: the smiles, the frowns, the strong, the fragile, the confident, the broken. Now imagine not noticing those unique characteristics but recognizing those people for their faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. I didn't say measure their faith, rather acknowledge that they are our brothers and sisters in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ.

See, we are all equals when we consider ourselves and each other in the context of the redeeming grace of Jesus. Sure, some of those people might practice Judaism or Islam and, perhaps, haven't yet had their eyes opened to the Gospel.

You and I have welcomed the truth of the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Like our Jewish brothers and sisters, we hold tight in our hearts Isaiah's message to be strong and fear not; God comes to save us (35:4). If, indeed, this is true for you and me, then it is our responsibility to put these values into practice and act accordingly.

In today's Gospel reading we see Isaiah's vision fulfilled when Jesus helps a deaf man with a speech impediment hear and talk plainly (Mark 7:35). Jesus didn't just help those who could offer him something in return; he recognized everyone who came to him as an equal in God's Kingdom.

In our culture today, we often wonder 'what's in it for me' when we are considering any relationship we are attempting to kindle. Yes, it can be exhausting always giving of ourselves with little in return. Maybe we yearn for someone to fill our cup instead of draining ours to always fill those of others. Be strong and fear not, God will fill your cup; He will provide everything you need for your mission.

So, the next time I am feeling like I need to know what is in it for me when I am asked to do something, I'm going to remind myself of the words in our reading from James today: Show no partiality as you adhere to the faith in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ...We are not to make distinctions among us and become judges of others with corrupt intent (James 2: 1, 4). You and I are equals in the eyes of the Lord. It does not matter how much money we make; how many likes we get on Facebook or Instagram, how new our vehicle is, how big our home is, we are equals.

You and I started our lives the same way and we will end our lives the same way. From the moment we are born, God is directing our paths back to Him. He has a mission for each one of us to fulfil. When our time comes to an end here on earth, we just might be asked how well we did at helping our brothers and sisters, our equals, get to Heaven. Let's look into the hearts of people rather than what we see from the outside. Our hearts are one and longing for God to save us.

Can you play a musical instrument? We are looking for someone to play music for our weekend masses. If you or someone you know can play a musical instrument like guitar, piano, organ, klavanova, or play in a band, to name a few, we are interested! Please contact either Fr Sengole or Dcn Rich for more details.

RE (Gr 1-11) & Children of God registrations are in the mail. Please return them sooner than later so that we can order enough books. If you have not received a registration packet, there are extra packets in the hallway by the coat rack.

TWENTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Shopping made simple

What do you give to the saint who has everything? Mother Teresa of Calcutta was among the spiritually richest people on the planet throughout her productive life caring for the poor. The date of her death, September 5, was quickly recognized in Hungary as an occasion to be perpetually honored. In 2012, the United Nations declared this date as an International Day of Charity in her memory. As Mother Teresa demonstrated, simple acts of charity reach across divisions and make communities more resilient. Contribute to the healing of society today by charitable giving, locally or globally.

TODAY'S READINGS: Isaiah 35:4-7a; James 2:1-5; Mark 7:31-37 (128). "Did not God choose those who are poor in the world to be . . . heirs of the kingdom that he promised?"

Labor of love

This Labor Day, as we enjoy food at picnics and barbecues, let's remember who harvested this food—many of them Spanish-speaking migrant workers, many of them fellow Catholics. Consider what your parish can do for migrant workers in your area. Perhaps a clothing drive or a fundraiser to buy rosaries and Bibles in Spanish or other languages of a migrant group. Or enlist school kids to write translated notes of welcome and thanks for the hard work migrants do. Catholic Charities helped nearly 400,000 migrants, immigrants, and refugees this past year with all kinds of assistance—learn more about their work and how you can pitch in.

TODAY'S READINGS: Colossians 1:24—2:3; Luke 6:6-11 (437). "Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath rather than to do evil, to save life rather than to destroy it?"

Creation needs your caring prayer

Jewish believers celebrate Rosh Hashanah today, marking the birthday of the universe—recalling how God placed Adam and Eve at the center of creation as faithful stewards. For many Christians, it's also Day 7 in the Season of Creation. When the Catholic Church joined this observance in 2019, Pope Francis wrote: "In the silence of prayer, we can hear the symphony of creation calling us to abandon our self-centeredness in order to feel embraced by the tender love of the Father and to share with joy the gifts we have received." Pray to become a more selfless steward of creation.

TODAY'S READINGS: Colossians 2:6-15; Luke 6:12-19 (438). "Jesus departed to the mountain to pray."

FEAST OF THE NATIVITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

The birth of our salvation

In 431, bishops at the Council of Ephesus decreed Mary as Theotokos, a Greek word that means "God-bearer"—or, more commonly, "Mother of God." Her birthday was celebrated at the beginning of the year—in Constantinople, the calendar began on September 1—because Mary's birth is also the beginning of our salvation, through her son. "Be of good cheer," wrote Saint Andrew of Crete, "this is the Feast of the Nativity of the Virgin and of the renewal of the human race!" Honor Mary today by praying the Magnificat, also known as the "Ode of the Theotokos."

TODAY'S READINGS: Micah 5:1-4a or Romans 8:28-30; Matthew 1:1-16, 18-23 (636). "From you shall come forth for me one who is to be ruler in Israel, whose origin is from of old."

MEMORIAL OF PETER CLAVER, PRIEST

Call it out

Saint Peter Claver (1580-1654) was a Jesuit priest dedicated to baptizing and serving enslaved Africans in Cartagena, Colombia, a major slave-trade port. While Claver was ahead of many of his peers in at least recognizing the humanity of Africans and poured out his life to alleviate the great suffering he encountered, we need to acknowledge that the colonial system that enslaved Africans was allowed to continue unabated for centuries without much church resistance. How can we and our communities of faith challenge the enduring legacy of racism today, inspired by Claver's witness of service and the gospel mandate to love?

TODAY'S READINGS: Colossians 3:12-17; Luke 6:27-38 (440). "Do to others as you would have them do to you."

Friday, Sep 10, 2021

Because of you . . .

A 2014 study found that "young people with mentors, especially at-risk youth, have more positive visions of themselves and their futures, and they also achieve more positive outcomes in school, the workplace, and their communities." The value of mentoring is nothing new. Proverbs 22:6 says: "Train the young in the way they should go; even when old, they will not swerve from it." Whether you are teaching a practical or spiritual skill or a new technique or way of thinking, your instruction will have an impact. Take time to be a good mentor for the sake of the next generation and the greater glory of God.

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 Timothy 1:1-2, 12-14; Luke 6:39-42 (441). "When fully trained, every disciple will be like his teacher."

Heaven help us all

The attack on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon happened 20 years ago today. We still carry the memory of that awful day, and we continue to remember in our prayers the victims of the attack and their families and loved ones who continue to mourn their great loss. We remember the passengers and crew of the aircraft destroyed in the attack as well as the victims on the ground. We remember especially the brave first responders who ran toward danger rather than away, many of whom gave away their health and lives to save others. And we pray for the terrorists as well, because we believe in the redemptive power of prayer and because hatred and vengeance have no place in our hearts. May all of humanity be redeemed.

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 Timothy 1:15-17; Luke 6:43-49 (442). "A good person out of the store of goodness in his heart produces good."

Live the Liturgy—Life can be challenging and frightening. Sometimes, it really hurts to be a human being. We face brokenness of all kinds: physical, emotional, and spiritual. For no apparent reason, life can quickly fall apart. What we knew to be familiar is gone and something we relied upon is taken away. We are left sitting with our incompleteness and swimming in the pools of our sadness. Be strong! Fear not! These admonitions flow from the mouths of prophets and are echoed by Jesus. It is difficult to trust that restoration, healing, and rejuvenation will one day come, and remain steadfast in our faith. But we are here because of a God who loves us, not as the result of a random occurrence. When we reach for that truth about who we are and who God is, life changes for us. We are healed from our old distorted way of seeing things. Our eyes, heart, and soul are opened to the beauty and magnificence of life. The pulse of our loving Creator is felt in all things and we can't wait for God to come and touch us again. God made us, God loves us, and God keeps us. He has done all things well.

Stewardship-Due to bulletin deadlines, income and expense amounts this week will be posted next week.

CASA of the Fox Cities: Volunteers Needed

Families and children in our community need your help! CASA of the Fox Cities trains volunteers to work directly with children who have experienced abuse or neglect. The primary role of our advocates is to build and maintain a relationship with their assigned child through weekly one-hour visits and provide a voice for that child in the court system as decisions are made about their future. This work is critical to healing childhood trauma and breaking the cycle of abuse. Family stress is on the rise and with it comes a rising number of children to serve. We need more volunteers to meet this need, particularly men. We have a lot of young boys that could use a positive male role model in their life. You can play an active role in changing a child's story. If you are interested in helping one of these children, please consider joining our Virtual Fall Training Class, which will be held on Tuesday Evenings beginning September 7th.
