Peace in Christ

A recent survey asked what most Americans would want after love and relationships, the answer was peace. In a society that has more creature comforts than almost anything in history, we are still seeking some of the most basic elements- peace.

Many people equate peace with calmness or stillness. So, in a society that has overdosed on politically correct statements and compromises, why are people still searching for an elusive peace? In this world we try to fix problems by doing good things… feeding the hungry, building wells and homes, regulating markets, conserving wildlife, funding schools, thereby trying to reach a type of peace. These are good and noble efforts.

The world's peace tries to fix symptoms of sin, but may not see how the root of the problem still exists. Money, regulation, and reform can only go so far… the healing answer lies in Jesus.

Jesus said, "Peace I leave you; my peace I give you. I do not give as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid". When Jesus meets His disciples after the resurrection, he continually says to them, "Peace."

The Old Testament word for peace is "Shalom". It has a wide range of meanings including the notion of total completeness, success, wholeness, harmony, security and wellbeing. In the New Testament, Shalom is revealed as the reconciliation of all things to God, through the work of Christ. Peace with oneself is not just the absence of suffering or challenge. It is a deeper sense that all things will be ok. That in the end, with Christ as our center and source of faith, we will be given what is needed to be complete and in a right relationship with God. There is no consumerism, isolation, family challenges, spiritual wounds that cannot begin to heal when we accept that true "Peace" comes through a deep abiding relationship with Jesus.

Take care of yourself and each other,

Deacon Jeff Hofacker

Divine Mercy Sunday: April 11, 2021

In the Jubilee Year 2000, Pope John Paul II proclaimed that from that year forward the Second Sunday of Easter would be celebrated as Divine Mercy Sunday. This was proclaimed at the Canonization Mass of St. Faustina Kawalska, who worked throughout her life to make all aware of the merciful love of God. St. Faustina (1905–1938) was born and raised in Poland. Following a vocation to religious life, she was accepted by the Congregation of the Sisters of Our Lady of Mercy. As a member of the Congregation, she worked as a cook, gardener, and porter. In her spiritual life, her contemplation on the Mercy of God led her to develop a childlike trust in God and deep love for her neighbor.

In her years in the convent, St. Faustina heard a call from God to make God's mercy known to the world so that the world may more fully receive God's healing grace. St. Faustina promoted the Chaplet of Divine Mercy which consists of the recitation of prayers to the Eternal Father with the use of the rosary for the sake of Christ's sorrowful passion.

When celebrating Divine Mercy Sunday, the faithful are called to reflect more personally on the graces won through the life, death, and Resurrection of Jesus Christ. In this way their hearts may be more fully aware of the mercy of God for them personally and for the sake of the world.
