Quiet time before the Blessed Sacrament is an important and necessary part of a healthy prayer life and a critical part of our faith journeys as Catholics. To be in the same room with the True Presence of our Lord and be humbled by His love and grace is an indescribable feeling - you have to experience it for yourself to truly understand. Our parish is blessed with First Friday of the Month Eucharistic Adoration, and I encourage everyone take full advantage, if available, of this incredible access to Christ and humbly seek Him out at every opportunity for worship, prayer and to unburden ourselves to Him. NEXT Holy Hour is FRIDAY, September 4th — 5:30 p.m.

Join us at St. Patricia Church every 1st Saturday of the month.
Our next gathering is September 5th @ 8:00 a.m.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

TWENTY-FIRST SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME: AUGUST 23, 2026

Dear Sisters & Brothers in Christ,

Peter's confession is a pivotal moment in the Gospels, occurring near Caesarea Philippi (at the foot of Mount Hermon, amid pagan temples and the Grotto of Pan). It marks a turning point in Jesus' ministry: the disciples' clearest recognition of His identity, followed immediately by Jesus' first explicit prediction of His suffering, death, and resurrection.

The event appears in all three Synoptic Gospels, with Matthew providing the fullest version:

- Matthew 16:13–20: Jesus asks the disciples, "Who do people say that the Son of Man is?" They reply with popular opinions (John the Baptist, Elijah, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets). He then asks, "But who do you say that I am?" Simon Peter answers: "You are the Christ [Messiah], the Son of the living God." Jesus responds that this was revealed by the Father (not "flesh and blood"), renames him as Peter ("rock"), declares that on "this rock" He will build his church (and the gates of Hades will not prevail against it), and gives him the keys of the kingdom of heaven with authority to bind and loose. He then charges them to tell no one that He is the Christ.
- Mark 8:27–30: A shorter parallel. Peter says simply, "You are the Christ." Jesus strictly orders them not to tell anyone about Him, then immediately begins teaching about the Son of Man's coming suffering.
- Luke 9:18–20: Similar to Mark. Peter answers, "The Christ of God." Jesus commands silence and predicts His passion.

The setting is deliberate. Caesarea Philippi was a center of imperial cult (temple to Augustus) and pagan worship of Pan and other deities, with a cave often associated with the underworld. Against this backdrop of "false gods" and death imagery, Peter's declaration of the living God stands in sharp contrast.

Peter's words have two closely linked parts:

- "The Christ" (Greek Christos, equivalent to Hebrew Messiah)
- "The Son of the living God"

This is presented as a breakthrough: earlier acknowledgments of Jesus as Messiah or Son of God existed (e.g., by demons or in private moments), but this is the first clear, considered disciple confession of His full identity in the narrative flow of the Synoptics. It is not mere human deduction but revelation.

Jesus pronounces Peter "blessed" because the insight is divine gift. He plays on the name: Simon becomes Peter (Greek Petros; Aramaic Kepha/Cephas = "rock" or "stone"), and "on this rock" (petra) he will build his ekklesia (assembly/church). Interpretations of "this rock" have varied historically:

- Peter himself (common in Catholic tradition, linked to the keys and binding/loosing authority).
- Peter's confession/faith (common in many Protestant readings).
- Christ himself, or the place/setting as a symbolic contrast to pagan "rocks."

The "gates of Hades" (or hell) will not overcome the church—evoking the nearby cave and underworld associations, promising ultimate victory over death and evil powers. The keys and binding/loosing language draw on Jewish imagery of authority (e.g., Isaiah 22) for opening the kingdom and exercising discipline or teaching authority.

This moment is a narrative hinge: from public ministry in Galilee toward Jerusalem and the cross. It establishes core Christian claims about Jesus' identity (Messiah and divine Son) and the foundation of the church. In early Christianity, it undergirded confessions of faith (echoed in Romans 10:9–10 and creeds). It also highlights themes of revelation, authority, the contrast between human opinion and divine truth, and the cost of following the suffering Messiah.

In short, Peter's confession is not just a personal insight but a foundational declaration that Jesus is the long-awaited Messiah and uniquely related to the living God—setting the stage for the church's mission and the path through the cross to resurrection.

May God Bless You!

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS: By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

Only Peter Has the Answer — "What do you think of the Pope?" After the election of Pope Leo XIV in 2025, all my non-Catholic friends texted me this question. T he result of the papal conclave was dominating the news cycle, and everyone was curious about this man who would now be so prominent on the world stage, making me temporarily popular with people who apparently need more (and better) Catholics in their lives.

In today's Gospel, we see Jesus entrust Peter and his heirs with the stewardship of the kingdom here on earth, creating an unbroken line of authority that stretches through the millennia all the way to our current Pope — whoever he is at the time you are reading this.

I don't know if you like the Pope. The same goes for your local bishop and your pastor. If a friend texted you, "What do you think of him?" I have no idea how you would respond. All I know is this: it doesn't really matter. What really matters is what we would say if a friend texted us the same question about Jesus Christ: "What do you think of him, and why?"

In today's Gospel, Jesus doesn't ask his disciples to take an IQ test. He doesn't try to find out which one is the nicest, the hardest worker, the most humble, or even the holiest. He asks a very simple question: "Who do you say that I am?" Peter has the answer.

I am not Catholic because I like the Pope. I am not Catholic because the human representatives of the Church have anything to offer me (they often do, but this is beside the point). I am Catholic because only Peter has the answer. ©LPi

Elvis Has Left the Building

However, Memories Of His Performance Remain! The St. Patricia Holy Name Society and Logan Ramey (Elvis Performer) want to sincerely say THANK YOU for what was a truly amazing night of entertainment. THANK YOU to ALL Parishioners and Friends of St. Patricia for supporting this fabulous night. A special THANKS for all of our helpers who made this night possible, including photographers. THANK YOU Holy Name bartenders and assistants. THANK YOU Parents Club Members and St. Patricia School students. THANK YOU Root Beer Float Girls. THANK YOU Ticket Sellers, and Rectory Secretary. ■ A special THANK YOU to our 2 young men from Stagg and St. Laurence High Schools who graciously assisted so many with their food and drink needs. It is only with the help of ALL of you who made it possible to bring our Parish and its Parishioners together and enjoy venues like the Elvis Show Night. ■ We look forward to seeing you at the next Holy Name-Sponsored Event!

St. Patricia Parish offers a BIG THANK YOU to our donors who supported our ELVIS Show on August 15th. It was with your help that made our ELVIS Night a HUGE SUCCESS!
