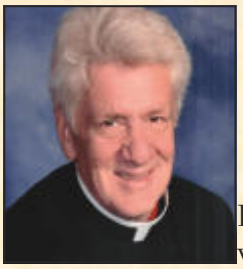
3rd SUNDAY OF EASTER



LITURGICAL LIFE

Not Abstract

I do not like today's art. I like artwork that I can easily recognize. If it is a picture of a house, I want to easily recognize that it is a picture of a house. If it is a picture of a dog, I want to easily recognize that it is a picture of a dog. If it is a picture of a human being, I want to easily recognize the features that make it a human being. Much of today's art is so abstract, that I end up asking the question, "What is that?" For example, a friend walked into my office with a picture and asked me if could identify what it was. As he showed me the picture, he rotated it ninety degrees, then another ninety degrees, and still another ninety degrees. He then asked which end was supposed to be the top and which end was supposed to be the bottom of the picture. I could not tell either. The concepts of abstract art are difficult for me to grasp. Even with years of schooling, it would be a hard task for me.

The Gospels from the very beginning indicate that the resurrection of Jesus was a phenomenon difficult to grasp. The disciples had trouble understanding this abstract concept, even though Jesus spent three years talking about it. Like abstract art, they had trouble understanding what it was and what it looked like. After all, no one before had ever risen from the dead. What example could they look to understand the concept? Even when Jesus appears to them after being raised, they could not recognize what it was they were looking at. They were terrified thinking they were seeing a ghost. But Jesus showed them that resurrection is not just some abstract concept, not some theory to be discussed by philosophers for centuries to come. He showed them he had flesh and bones, and that he was able to eat. Ghosts cannot do that. Resurrection is real and he chose his disciples to be witnesses to the world. They are witnesses of Christ dying on the cross, rising from the dead, and the forgiveness of sins.

In the first reading from the Acts of the Apostles, Peter is acting as Christ's witness, obeying Jesus' call to preach about how the scriptures have been fulfilled in Christ's suffering. He acknowledges the fact the people acted out of ignorance, that they did not recognize that the Son of God was in their midst. But there is still time to repent and to be converted so that sins may be wiped away.

Now that two thousand years have gone by, is Jesus in the resurrection real to us, or is he an abstract concept that we have grown to believe in? It seems to me that many times we come here believing in the resurrected Jesus, the son of God in theory, in the abstract, as a historical figure, but we hardly ever recognize Jesus real presence every day in our world. Recognizing Jesus real presence seems as abstract as that picture my friend showed me.

For example, some people find it is difficult to recognize Jesus in the Eucharist. After the consecration, we should be able to recognize Jesus in the Body and Blood of Christ. But too many times we continue to refer to the Body and Blood of Christ as bread and wine, and the ministers of the Eucharist as bread minister or wine minister. Many of us sometimes lose sight of that concept, and forget that what we are holding in our hands.

One of the things Pope John Paul did in his papacy was to emphasize the Real Presence of Christ in the Eucharist and Eucharistic adoration. One of the reasons why he did this is because of the decline of the number of Catholics belief in the Real Presence. A long time ago, a poll revealed that only forty-two percent of those who attended mass each Sunday had orthodox views on the Real Presence. Another survey revealed that two-thirds of all Catholics did not believe that the bread and wine were really changed into the Body and Blood of Christ.

We call the Eucharist the Body of Christ. But all of us here today are members of the Body of Christ, by virtue of our baptism. Christ is really present among us when we gather in his name.

When we depart from Mass, we are called to go in peace glorifying the Lord by our life. We encounter Jesus in our very lives each day in the people we serve. Mother Theresa had been known to say that she sees Christ in the face of Christ in each of the poor that she serves. Are we ever able to say that?

Jesus Christ is not a piece of abstract art that we cannot recognize. He is really present in the Eucharist. He is really present among us as we are members of the body of Christ. He is really present in those who we serve in his name, especially the poor.

Let us pray that we would always recognize the real presence of Christ in our Church. He is the Bread of Life, the saving cup, to which we are called to adore.—TB

LIVE THE LITURGY

Inspiration for the week

When the greeting "Peace be with you" is sincerely offered to a person, it can resonate very deep within, bringing comfort and reassurance. When someone possesses the power to bring peace, it brings us to a place of safety and fills us with joy. The resurrected Christ has this power. God can open our minds so that we can more fully understand the meaning of Sacred Scripture and God's compassionate, loving, tender, and untiring embrace constantly present and offered to people throughout history. Without the anchor of truth that only God can provide, we can easily become startled and terrified at the sight of what life brings us. Being open to God's offer of peace, we can turn away from old habits and short-sighted vision and experience the gladness and joy of God's gift. Only then can what is wounded and broken be mended and reconciliation achieved. We are the resurrection witnesses called to proclaim the Good News.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP

How to Fail Your Way to Heaven

You know what are some of my favorite moments in Scripture? The little "Easter eggs" of Jesus' humanity, things like Jesus falling asleep, Jesus drawing in the sand, Jesus playing with kids. And how about Jesus rising from the dead, appearing to his disciples and saying, "So, have you got anything to eat?"

It's right for us to always keep in mind that Jesus is God. But we also have to remember that he was man. He got hungry. He cried when he felt sad and laughed when he felt happy. He got tired. He got bored.

Because he was God, none of those feelings ever led him into sin, like they do us. He never spent a car ride trying to pass the hours by seeing how annoyed he could make his older sister. He never smacked Peter over the head for saying something really stupid. But he did unleash some Biblically righteous anger on those traders in the temple, didn't he? And he wasn't shy about calling Peter "a Satan" when his friend tempted him to take the easy way out.

It's the tightrope walk we all try to balance every day, honoring our human emotions while still answering God's call to be better. Being perfect isn't the domain of the Christian-that's the domain of Christ only. Trying and failing, then trying again (and failing again) and again and again? That's the domain of the Christian.

Sacred Relics Of The Saints: Treasures Of The Church

St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Parish presents a teaching and exposition of Sacred Relics Tuesday May 11 at 6:30 pm. Father Carlos Martins of the Companions of the Cross will be here with an extraordinary Vatican collection of over 150 relics, some as old as 2000 years. Among the treasures will be relics of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, St. Joseph, St. Maria Goretti, St. Therese of Lisieux (the "Little Flower"), St. Francis of Assisi, St. Anthony of Padua, St. Thomas Aquinas, and St. Faustina Kowalska. There will also be a portion of the Veil of Our Lady and one of the largest remaining pieces of the True Cross in the world. Those in attendance will be able to examine and venerate each relic. Throughout history, many healings have been worked in the presence of relics; and many have been come about through this ministry. Do not miss this opportunity. You are encouraged to bring your articles of devotion (such as rosaries, holy cards, etc.) and pictures of ill friends/ family members, which you will be able to touch to the reliquaries as a means of intercession.

EXTRAORDINARY FORM MASS

My Sacrifice and Yours

The Priest is about to recreate Christ's sacrifice on the altar for us, in the silence of reverence. It will be as if he were the High Priest passing through the veil into the Holy of Holies.

Did You Know?

The Latin phrase saecula saeculorum doesn't seem to make sense when translated. But it is based on the way that the Hebrew language would apply a superlative, for example "King of Kings" or "Holy of Holies." In this case, "ages of ages" means "forever and ever."

...Now consider this: if Hebrew superlatives are formed by doubling a word, think what it means when a word is tripled...such as in the Sanctus.

From the book of Treasure and Tradition
by Lisa Bergman

"...pray that my sacrifice and yours may be acceptable..."

In the Mass, Christ offers the perfect sacrifice for us, but He asks us to join our own sacrifices with His as well. When we "take up our cross and follow Him," uniting ourselves with the host upon the altar, then we shall be consecrated with Him, and our sufferings will become like the rungs of a ladder reaching up to Heaven. Martyrs like St. Julia, pictured here, gave the ultimate sacrifice for our Lord, but our own little daily sacrifices please Him too.
