God is at Work at St. Hubert

By Fr. Bennet Tran, Pastor

One of the joys of my ministry at St. Hubert has been discovering how many good things are happening here.

When I arrived in July, I expected to find an active parish. What surprised me was the depth and breadth of participation. People are engaged in the life of the parish. Groups are meeting. Children and families are being formed in the faith. People are serving, giving and welcoming others into the Church.

Sometimes we need to pause and recognize what God is doing among us.

This issue of HALO is one way of doing this. The numbers matter, but they tell only part of the story. Behind every baptism is a child welcomed into the life of Christ. Behind every First Communion is a person encountering Jesus in the Eucharist. Behind every Confirmation is a young person being strengthened by the Holy Spirit. Behind every marriage is a couple beginning or deepening a vocation to holiness.

We see this life at St. Hubert through the sacraments we celebrate throughout the year. We also see encouraging growth in the number of people entering the Church through OCIA, the Order of Christian Initiation of Adults. These are not simply numbers in a parish database. They are people responding to God's invitation and taking a step toward a deeper relationship with Jesus Christ and His Church.

We see the same spirit in our small groups. Participation continues to grow as parishioners gather to pray, learn, share their faith and build relationships. Our school and faith formation programs continue to form children and young people in the Catholic faith. Parish life extends far beyond our weekend Masses. Our faith grows when we gather, learn, pray, and serve together.

None of this happens without people who give their time and talents. I am grateful for the many volunteers who serve St. Hubert in so many ways. I am also grateful for our staff, whose hard work and dedication make so much of parish life possible. Their service often happens behind the scenes, but the fruit of their work is visible throughout our community.

This same generosity is visible in the way our parishioners have supported the Lord, Renew Your Church capital campaign.

Because of your generosity, St. Hubert has completed important projects throughout our campus. New security doors and fencing have strengthened the safety of our school children during the school day. A new sound system and video equipment have improved our ability to worship, communicate, and share the life of the parish. New lighting and painting have improved our church environment.

These projects strengthen the places where we worship, teach, gather and serve.

Our work continues. Several important needs are ahead. We are preparing for the replacement of our obsolete elevator equipment, and our rooftop HVAC units have reached the end of their life expectancy and are scheduled for replacement as I write this. These investments will improve reliability and help reduce long-term maintenance costs.

Soon after my arrival, I also realized how much meeting space our active parish needed. I moved my office from its traditional location so the space could be used for meetings and ministry, and we are reorganizing space in the parish offices to create another meeting area. We are also repurposing the old rectory to provide additional space for ministry and parish gatherings.

There is something encouraging about having more people who want to gather than rooms available for them.

At the same time, we need to fulfill our financial commitment for the new rectory. We purchased the rectory with a three-year loan, and I invite everyone to help us pay off the remaining balance. Retiring this loan will strengthen our financial position and free future parish resources for ministry, maintenance, and other capital needs. If you are able, please consider making a gift specifically toward paying off the new rectory loan.

To help us approach these needs responsibly, we are forming a Hard Hat Committee. The committee will help us identify future capital projects, establish priorities, and develop a practical plan for maintaining our campus.

All of this points to the deeper meaning of stewardship. We receive our gifts from God and return them through our time, talents and treasure. At St. Hubert, those gifts are bearing fruit through worship, formation, service, fellowship and generous support of our parish mission.

This issue of HALO is not simply to say, "Look what we accomplished."

It is an opportunity to say, "Look what God is doing among us."

And then to ask: "God, show us what you are calling us to do next."

I am grateful for the generosity, service and participation I have encountered at St. Hubert during these first months. The growth we are seeing gives us reason for gratitude and encourages us to keep moving forward.

Our task is not simply to maintain St. Hubert.

Our task is to help one another know, love, and imitate Jesus Christ. Everything we do, every ministry we support and every resource we steward serves this mission.

Our Family in Christ

Ministry Highlights 2025-2026

Youth Formation

Our goal through Faith Formation at St. Hubert is to provide meaningful programs that are rich in quality and provide a foundation for spiritual growth. Our education programs explore the Catholic Church's rich traditions and help people of all ages strengthen and deepen their faith. Everything we share in our Faith Formation programs are designed to supplement the prayer life and faith learning that happens at home.

320
Registered in preschool through high school faith formation programming

Sacraments

"Christ instituted the sacraments of the new law. There are seven: Baptism, Confirmation, the Eucharist, Penance, the Anointing of the Sick, Holy Orders and Matrimony. The seven sacraments touch all the stages and all the important moments of Christian life: they give birth and increase, healing and mission to the Christian's life of faith. There is thus a certain resemblance between the stages of natural life and the stages of the spiritual life."-CCC 1210

Responding to the Needs of God's People

Living out our lives by helping those in need is a hallmark of our Catholic faith. We are guided by sacred scripture - especially Matthew 25, in how we serve the least of our sisters and brothers. We are also guided by the Church's teaching and the corporal works of mercy, and at St. Hubert by the charisms of our patron saint, who was known for his outreach and generosity to the poor.

Our commissions help support, invite, and make known to our parish opportunities to serve people in need locally, regionally, and across the world. For more information about how to get involved with any of the ministries below, please contact the parish office at 952-934-9106.

Love INC

Love In the Name of Christ is an ecumenical coalition of 30+ churches in Eastern Carver County that provides a wide range of services, and gap ministries to those in need.

Love INC Baby Ministry

109 donations of cribs, bedding, high chairs, strollers, and pack-n-plays were made to families in need through our Love INC Baby Ministry in 2025-2026. Other miscellaneous items were also donated. We are always very thankful for the support we receive for this ministry, and the recipients are always so grateful.

Love INC Birthday Closet

The Birthday Closet serves 45 families per month in Eastern Carver County. They provide birthday party supplies and a small gift.

Sharing & Caring Hands

Sharing and Caring Hands serves over 157,000 meals each year (3,000 per week) to people in need.
St. Hubert provides meals and volunteers to help serve regularly at Sharing and Caring Hands. Opportunities to participate are included in the Messenger e-newsletter, and donations can be delivered to the parish in the days leading up to the meal. Families and individuals are consistently very generous and this ministry serves 50+ people per meal. Volunteers help prepare, serve, and clean up meals.

Advent Gift Collection

Our Advent Gift Collection provided essential items and gifts for families in need in our community. This collection supports several local nonprofits including Birthday Bags, Sharing and Caring Hands, Love INC, and Bountiful Baskets. In 2025 we collected 743 items plus cash and gift cards.

Lenten Gift Collection

Our Lenten Gift Collection supports families in need in our community by providing necessary items and gifts. This collection supported several nonprofits including Love INC, Feed My Starving Children, St. Hubert Outreach, Bountiful Baskets, and Sharing and Caring Hands. In 2026 we collected 690 items plus cash and gift cards.

PROP

People Reaching Out to People serves Eden Prairie and Chanhassen residents.

PROP manages a food shelf and a thrift store and provides counselors to help people in need. St. Hubert collects food and contributions once per month. St. Hubert School collects food at their weekly Masses during the school year.

Feed My Starving Children

Feed My Starving Children is a non-profit Christian ministry founded in 1987 in the Twin Cities that provides nutritionally complete meals specifically formulated for malnourished children. These meals are shipped to over 70 countries across the world. Their mission is to feed God's starving children hungry in body and spirit.

St. Hubert organizes group packing sessions on a regular basis. See the bulletin boards for specific dates or organize your own packing session. Some families celebrate special occasions like birthdays by packing food at FMSC. They are family oriented and invite adults and children over the age of five to help.

Time to Renew

By My Two Cents Worth: A Widow in the Parish

Once again, it is time to renew my car insurance. This year, if I want a discount—and who doesn't?—I need to take the Safe Driver course again. Four hours of videos and questions to remind me how to drive safely.

I have been driving for more than 50 years. I haven't had a ticket in more than 30 years, and my last at-fault accident happened when I first got my license. Still, a 10 percent discount is a good reason to take the course!

As I began the videos, I thought, "Yes, yes, I know this. I've been driving for years." I dutifully watched each one and answered the questions, scoring 98 percent. I know how to be a safe driver.

But something changed after I completed the course. When I drove, I paid more attention. I checked my mirrors more often, kept my eyes moving, watched other cars, and looked farther ahead. I left more space between my car and the one in front of me.

I knew these skills and had practiced them for years, but I had begun driving on "auto-pilot." My mind was distracted and elsewhere. I had become overconfident because driving was so familiar. The course reminded me that knowing how to drive safely isn't enough. I have to actually do it. I need to be vigilant every time I drive.

Our prayer life and practice of the faith can be much the same.

Last month, I reflected on returning to the fundamentals of our faith. Think of that as taking a refresher driving course: remembering the foundations, the A-B-Cs of prayer and faith. But did we stop there? Did we think, "I've been praying for years; I'm way beyond the basics"?

In November, as the liturgical year draws to a close, Holy Mother Church gives us another opportunity for a spiritual refresher. She reminds us why we practice our faith and places the saints before us as examples of those who have persevered. She also reminds us of the Four Last Things: Death, Judgment, Heaven, and Hell. Like a driving refresher course, these reminders may not always be comfortable, but they are necessary.

Beginning with All Saints Day, we are reminded that God makes us His children and calls us to holiness. The Beatitudes show us the way of life that leads to the Kingdom. God calls us and shows us how to respond.

The following Sundays remind us to remain spiritually vigilant and ready for the Lord's coming. We are destined for Heaven; this world is not our final home. If we forget that, we can become too attached to earthly things and too confident in our ability to find happiness here.

We are then reminded that God entrusts gifts and responsibilities to each of us. Faithful service bears fruit. Are we faithful servants, or are we simply doing what we want without considering what lies ahead?

The final Sunday of the liturgical year celebrates Christ the King. Jesus is presented as shepherd and universal King, who judges us by how we have loved Him through our care for those in need. Our actions reveal how well we have loved. The faithful are surprised to learn that the care they gave their neighbors was really care given to Christ Himself.

November, then, is an opportunity to prepare for Advent and the beginning of a new liturgical year. It is a time to take a spiritual refresher course. How is my prayer life? Have I remembered the fundamentals? Have I become distracted, careless, or complacent?

One thing I learned in my driving course was the idea of an accident pyramid. At the base are hundreds of unsafe or careless actions: failing to pay attention, not checking around the car before backing up, or becoming distracted. Usually, nothing happens. But repeated carelessness creates a habit.

The next level involves "near misses"—those moments when we narrowly avoid an accident because we finally react to danger. At the top is the major accident, the consequence that might have been avoided if we had paid attention all along.

Perhaps our spiritual lives have a similar pyramid.

The base can be formed by inattentiveness and carelessness about our souls. Our prayers become routine or thoughtless. We go through the motions and congratulate ourselves for praying, even though our hearts are somewhere else.

Then come the "near misses." We become increasingly distracted by earthly concerns, scandals, entertainment, or whatever pulls us away from prayer, charity, and care for our souls. We may not notice that we are growing cold toward God. We simply choose the path of least effort.

And what is the "cap" of our spiritual pyramid? Perhaps it is turning away from God altogether—or becoming indifferent to His ways. We may convince ourselves that whatever makes us happy must be acceptable because God wants us to be happy.

November can be a somber month, but it is not a month for despair. The Church, in her wisdom, invites us to begin again. She gives us a spiritual refresher course and prepares us for a new year.

Let's build a new pyramid, beginning with sound practices of faith: daily prayer, not simply because it is routine, but because we desire holiness.

Then let's strengthen our faith by learning more about Scripture, the teachings of the Church, and the lives of the saints.

Finally, let the "cap" of our pyramid be deepening faith, holiness, and true charity toward others.

The Conversion of St. Hubert

The Story Behind the Painting

By Fr. Derek Gilde, Associate Pastor

Sometimes conversion begins when we finally set something down. That moment lies at the heart of the beautiful painting of the conversion of St. Hubert, recently gifted to our parish by parishioner and artist Abbie Marusich.

The idea began during Abbie's senior year of high school at Benilde-St. Margaret's. After taking AP Art the previous year, Abbie had the opportunity to continue with an art capstone project. She knew that she wanted her project to reach beyond the school community and to use her art in service of others. As an alumnus of St. Hubert Catholic School, the life of our patron saint quickly came to mind.

As Abbie researched artistic depictions of St. Hubert, she noticed that most depictions had a distinctly medieval character. Abbie wanted to approach the saint differently. Rather than presenting St. Hubert as a distant figure from another age, she wanted viewers, particularly young people, to encounter the humanity and ordinariness of the man at the moment God entered his life.

According to tradition, Hubert was grieving the loss of his wife and sought consolation in hunting and worldly pursuits. While hunting, Hubert encountered a deer with the image of the Crucifix between its antlers. That encounter became the beginning of his conversion. Abbie places us directly inside that moment.

St. Hubert kneels before the vision, but his face is turned away from us. By leaving Hubert's face unseen, Abbie invites viewers to imagine themselves in Hubert's place. This is not simply something that happened to a saint centuries ago. It asks us: What would I do if Christ broke into my life like this? What might I need to set down?

Look closely near Hubert's knee and you will discover three arrows lying on the ground. They represent Hubert relinquishing his weapons and, more deeply, letting go of his search for fulfillment in the things of this world. For Abbie, this surrender is one of the most important aspects of Hubert's conversion.

Most striking in the painting is the Crucifix itself. Resting visually between the great antlers, the cross becomes almost like the rays of the sun. Light extends outward from, creation seems to bend inward in praise of its light, and its rays reach outward toward Hubert. That may be the painting's most beautiful invitation. The light of Christ does not merely wait at a distance for the young Hubert to discover Him, it reaches out to him in the middle of his grief and waywardness.

Abbie's painting therefore gives our parish more than a depiction of our patron saint. It gives us a visual meditation on the subject of our own conversion. Like St. Hubert, each of us are invited to set down whatever keeps us from God, turn toward Christ, and allow His light to transform our very lives.

St. Hubert, pray for us!

ST. HUBERT CATHOLIC SCHOOL

This year, our Give to the Max fundraiser will help provide new iPads for our K–3 students! iPads are an important learning tool, allowing teachers to differentiate math and reading instruction while giving students opportunities to practice skills through educational apps. Students also use them to explore coding, practice cursive handwriting, and conduct research. With updated security protocols, our current devices can no longer meet the technology requirements needed to keep students safe and connected. Your generosity will help provide reliable, up-to-date devices that support learning, creativity, and academic growth. Every gift makes a difference!

UPCOMING EVENTS

SOLEMNITY OF ALL SAINTS - NOVEMBER 1

Sunday, November 1, is the Solemnity of All Saints. This feast celebrates not only the women and men declared by the Church to be saints, but all the holy men and women who now reign with God in glory. In the Eucharist, the saints join with us in praising God. What a glorious feast day! Children are invited to come to any of the Masses dressed as their favorite saint!

ALL SOULS DAY
NOVEMBER 2, MASS AT 6 PM
CEMETERY VIGIL AT 7 PM

Join us All Souls Day to pray for the faithful departed. We will begin the evening at the church with Mass. Then head to the cemetery for a candlelight vigil. At the cemetery, we'll learn more about All Souls Day from Fr. Derek.

Visit www.sthubert.org for details on purchasing a luminary to honor your loved one.

COUPLES CONNECTING IN FAITH - NOVEMBER 11

Couples are invited to our next Couples Connecting in Faith session on Wednesday, November 11 at Shakopee Bowl at 7:00 PM. Get ready for a night to socialize and bowl (not required). $20 a couple which includes bowling games and pizza. RSVP on our website or through Flocknote.

THANKSGIVING - NOVEMBER 26

Thanksgiving Mass will be held at 9:00 AM. We will not have the regular 7:30 AM Mass that day.

The parish office will be closed November 26 and 27 in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday.
