PASTOR'S CORNER

Last week was the first week of the Passion of our Lord. Jesus is going up to Jerusalem for what he knows will be the last time. As we recall the death of the Lord every year we do well to accept this invitation from God Himself to appreciate what Jesus in his love has done for us.

The society of Israel was fraught with all kinds of crisis: Political, economic, religious and personal. The problems of Jesus' day are not unlike those of our own time. The effects of original sin make for a plethora of problems.

Many people in our own era and situation lament today's problems. And yes these problems involve politics, religion and economics. We live in an era of too much information as well as fake news. Many people are repressed by the effects and fallout of the pandemic. Hopefully we have learned to survive with less and to concentrate on the things that are truly important.

Let us immerse ourselves in the Passion of the Lord as we participate in the struggle between good and evil, of light and darkness. Please consult the bulletin for the times and places of our Holy Week services and liturgies.
