THE IMPORTANCE OF GRANDPARENTS

The feast of St. Joachim and St. Ann, the grandparents of Jesus, gives us the opportunity to celebrate our own grandparents as well as reflecting on the role so many of us play. My grandparents taught me a lot of things without ever using words. They showed me how to love people and treat them well. They helped me understand how to be honest and truthful and to see the importance of God in my life.

Grandparents, you have a unique chance—an unbelievable opportunity—to influence several generations… because the example you give your grandchildren will stay with them throughout their lives and will have an impact on how they relate to their own children and grandchildren. Your special bond with your grandchildren lets you play so many wonderful roles! You can be a caretaker, storyteller, family historian, mentor, scientist. The love of grandparents comes with no strings attached. And because of your special/unique relationship, you have an opportunity, like no one else, to lead your grandchildren to God.

Help to make sure your grandchildren learn the true faith. Teach them with your words but even more by your example. Teach them how to pray, to love the Church and to be proud to be Catholic and what that means. In other words, share with them the wisdom that earned you your grey hairs and is now leading you to holiness.

And grandchildren, ask your grandparents good questions. Say, "Grandma, tell me about Jesus." Or "Grandpa, do angels really exist?" Ask them anything you want to know.

Grandparent or not, together, let's teach the Gospel message that we need to learn to love one another, to not judge others, to do good for one another without expecting anything in return and learn to forgive. Then, we can expect to receive the same thing in return.
God Bless ~

Bible Versions and Commentaries: A bewildering array of Catholic Bibles are available for personal use. They all have imprimaturs.
#2) Confraternity Edition. Begun in 1936 by the American Bishops' Confraternity for Christian Doctrine as a translation from the Clementine Vulgate. The publication of Pius XII's encyclical Divino afflante spiritu (1943) caused the translation committee to switch to the original Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek texts. Not all books were completed by the time of Vatican II (1962-1965). Those that were finished were used in the liturgy in the 1950s and 60s. Published in a dignified American idiom. Though hard to find, this edition of the Scriptures is worth possessing.

A Family Perspective from the Office of Family Life Education:
In today's gospel, Phillip worried about "enough food" for the crowd. What is ENOUGH? When does our ENOUGH deprive another family of their fair share? Jesus performed today's miracle because one child was willing to share and risk living with less. Can your family live more simply so that other families can simply live?
