ST. BENEDICT PARISH

ST. BRIDGET'S CHURCH · ST. MARY'S CHURCH · ST. MARY'S SCHOOL
CALVARY CEMETERY · ST. BRIDGET'S CEMETERY

Striving to know, love, and serve God in all others.

The one who wants to see better is the one who will get glasses. The one who wants to know more will learn to read. The one who wants their sins forgiven and to truly live will seek out Christ. However, the one who sees — in his or her arrogance — no sin is already lost because he or she denies their need. Such a person does not understand the word 'Savior' as applied to Jesus Christ. Just a guy with some good ideas, but not the way to become related to the Father he will remain.

The Church is the way, too, as I said last week, to become related to God. If we aren't achieving that goal, something needs to be taken to prayer. Earthly objectives and needs are inevitable in this life, but for Christians they must never betray the heavenly unity offered us. We lose everything this way – most especially, peace.

The Pharisees and Scribes were learned men and they still missed it. All of their knowledge did not make them able to see God in their midst. Why? Jesus points this out to them. Pride had moved them beyond the ability to recognize their own need. They had chosen to defend their earthly power rather than keep watch for divine power. They missed everything.

Our life together contains many things to tempt us. The temptations of pride remain the worst. Pride has resulted in even Christians, even priests, even bishops, and all of us, to miss Christ in our midst. How often do we seek out advice from those whom we know will tell us only what we want to hear? Do we choose what is easy to bear over what is right? Do we take the easy way out rather than walk the hard and difficult path that the Gospel calls us to? Does our learning make us superior to the unlearned or does it perfect us in charity to all?

These are fine Lenten questions to be sure. We are called to a great life, but not to an easy one. Holiness is more important than being right. And you are holy people who walk the path to perfection in Jesus Christ. So like this humble and grateful man, can we come to the words "I do believe, Lord!" with great joy in our hearts that we are called to this beautiful life. Do not run away! Embrace him and see!

Your servant in Our Blessed Lord,
Fr. Michael

Fourth Sunday of Lent

NOW, MORE THAN EVER.
Now, more than ever, do we need to support an institution like our own St. Mary's School that builds students with strong character. Students who are kind, generous, selfless, faithful, and inspirational children of God. We need Catholic schools so that each child is fully known, fully seen, respected, and encouraged to let their voices be heard.

Reflection on Stewardship for the Third Sunday of Lent: The blind man was willing to let Jesus minister to him and willingly did all Jesus asked of him. The Pharisees were more resistant to His message, spending their time and energy to disprove the miracle. Which am I more like, the man born blind or the Pharisees?

Saturdays: 3:45pm—4:45pm in St. Mary's Chapel
