WHAT DOES FATHER FOX SAY?

Parish financial update. As we approach the six-month mark of this fiscal year, income is short of what was already a budget of conservative estimates—this takes into account, for example, the cancellation of the festival. However, people are always generous at Christmas time, so I'm confident that will help. That said, it is not too late for any special gifts before the end of the calendar year.

Remember, we also have the ability to receive contributions electronically. If you'd like more information about that, please contact Maria in our parish office.

January 1, Mother of God, is not obligatory because of covid, but is still a Holy Day. We will have Mass at 5 p.m. on December 31, and at 9 and 11 a.m. on January 1. There will be no 7:30 am Mass – which I eliminated last year, after many years of very low attendance. There will be no evening Mass on January 1, despite it being First Friday, but the group that organizes the all night vigil is planning to do so again. Watch St. Remy's Facebook Page for details.

The true story of the Christmas Tree. There are many claims about the origin of the Christmas Tree, including that it has some pagan meaning. This is not true! Here is what I have learned with careful research. The bottom line? The Christmas Tree is a deeply biblical, Christian symbol.

The story begins with an obscure detail of Catholic liturgy unknown to most. Every saint, including figures from the Old Testament, are assigned a day on the calendar. For example, the Prophet Elijah is a saint, and his day is July 20. Moses' day is September 4. But because most of these saints aren't observed at Mass, most people don't know about this. Thus, few know that Adam and Eve are also considered saints, and their day is: December 24 – Christmas Eve.

Now let's get in the "wayback" machine... and transport ourselves to the year AD 1200, and let's land in Germany. This is before the printing press, so books were few and expensive. Most teaching of the Faith took place in other ways, including something called "mystery plays." Some of these still survive: i.e., the Passion Play.

These plays would be presented in church, or else in the town square. No doubt they were popular community events, just as school plays and athletics are to this day.

If we arrived on December 24, the people in small towns (much like Russia) would be planning a "mystery play" to tell the story of Adam and Eve. It was a perfect lead-in to Christmas, after all. We know that a prominent feature of these plays was a "Paradise Tree," and that they would use a fir tree, which after all, is the only green tree available late in December. This tree was meant to represent the Biblical "Tree of Knowledge of Good and Bad," so it had to have fruit, right? Again, historical accounts tell us what fruit they used: apples! And this makes sense, as apples are one fruit that will stay edible if kept cool. (Note: Genesis 3:3 doesn't actually refer to apples, only to "fruit").

Two kinds of "fruit" on the tree. What's more, we also know that they decorated the "Paradise Tree" with something else: small wafers of bread! What does that sound like? The Eucharist! Not actually the Body of Christ, of course, but unconsecrated bread.

All this makes perfect sense when you think about it. The Bible specifies two trees in the Garden of Eden: not only the Tree of Knowledge, but also the Tree of Life. Eating the fruit of the first led to death; but the fruit of the second gave everlasting life. So what our ancient forebears did was combine the two trees into one! And of course, this is what God Himself did with the Cross of Calvary: the tree that brought death, actually brings life – and the Eucharist is, truly, the "fruit" of this sacrifice, and the Eucharist indeed is the food of everlasting life. Those Catholics of Germany, circa 1200, were very insightful!

The Paradise Tree becomes our Christmas Tree. We also know that some time later, these plays came to an end, so people starting putting up Paradise Trees in their homes. Along the way, they began making glass ornaments and creating special cookies to be hung on the trees. Still later came candles (even in the early 20th century – when my mother was a girl – candles were still used in some places!), and then electric lights (much safer!).

So if anyone says the Christmas Tree is pagan, nicely inform them that it's 100% Biblical. Merry Christmas!

Prayer to the Holy Family

Dear Lord, bless our family. Be so kind as to give us the unity, peace, and mutual love that You found in Your own family in the little town at Nazareth.

St. Joseph, pray for the head of our family. Obtain for him the strength, the wisdom, and the prudence he needs to support and direct those under his care.

Mother Mary, pray for the mother of our family. Help her to be pure and kind, gentle and self-sacrificing, for the more she resembles you, the better our family will be.

Lord Jesus, bless the children of our family. Help them to be obedient and devoted to their parents. Make them more and more like You. Let them grow, as You did, in wisdom and strength and grace before God and man.

Holy Family of Nazareth, by Your intercession, love, and holy example, make our family and home more and more like Yours, until we are all one family, happy and at peace in our true home with You. Amen.

This and other beautiful prayers can be found at www.praycatholic.wordpress.com.

Life Information For Everyone

The Year of St. Joseph

The announcement that many people have been anxious to hear for several years finally came on December 8 as Pope Francis declared the beginning of a Year of St. Joseph. The timing was perfect, coming on the 150th anniversary of Blessed Pius IX declaring St. Joseph as Patron of the Catholic Church and on the feast of the Immaculate Conception of Mary, Joseph's spouse.

Father Larry Toschi, an Oblate of St. Joseph committed to serving the interests of Jesus in imitation of Joseph, said, "It's beautiful that after 2,000 years, the Church is celebrating a special year in honor of the humble and hidden Husband of Mary...After his Holy Virginal Spouse, St. Joseph is the greatest model of sanctity and the most powerful intercessor ever. May this year bring renewal and reflourishment to our Church and help each of us grow in holiness through imitating him."

Father Stanley Smolenski added, "We have seen the importance of St. Joseph increasing in our times with social decay. Isodore Isolanis, a 16th century Dominican, prophesied that 'The sound of victory would be heard when the faithful acknowledge the sanctity of St. Joseph.'"

This Year of St. Joseph is ready to draw down graces upon us through the intercession of St. Joseph. Exactly 103 years after he appeared in the last Fatima apparition with Mary, and as he held the Child Jesus with whom he jointly blessed the world, St. Joseph is ready to bring this downpour of grace after grace upon us—if we accept and follow and ask and pray. What an unbelievable gift from heaven!

Our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ chose to enter the world through the human family. He came as an infant born into the marriage and home of the two holiest creatures who ever lived: Joseph and Mary. Although He was God, He was obedient to them as a child, and under their watchful care, "Jesus advanced in wisdom, and age, and grace with God and men" (Luke 2:51-52). Jesus gave us an example, that we too, as His disciples, are meant to entrust ourselves to Joseph and Mary, learning from them how to grow in holiness as the adopted children of God (Ephesians 1:5).

As Christians, we are blessed to have sweet Mary as our spiritual mother and valiant Joseph as our spiritual father. Just as Mary guides us from heaven with loving devotion, so too St. Joseph diligently provides for the needs of the family of God, the Holy Catholic Church. Let us pray to St. Joseph for guidance and assistance, for as St. Alphonsus Liguori said, "We must be convinced that, in consideration of his great merits, God will not refuse St. Joseph any grace he asks for those who honor him."

When the nights are cold, why not curl up with a blanket and a fascinating movie that exhibits an outstanding message? You might like to try one of these:

Come Before Winter tells the true story of two longtime foes of Adolf Hitler: Sefton Delmer and Pastor Dietrich Bonhoeffer. During the dying days of the Third Reich, these two men, in very different ways, helped bring about the fall of Hitler's regime. In Germany, Bonhoeffer spoke boldly against the evil of Nazism and called the church to turn away from its complacency. In England, Delmer ran a secret operation, transmitting "black propaganda" into Germany to demoralize the Nazis. The stories of these two heroic men and their companions intertwine as they work to end the war.

Harvest of Fire highlights the Amish, a peaceful people dedicated to the unchanging ways of their ancestors. When an arsonist brings violence to their non-violent world, they wonder if they have been targeted for a series of hate crimes. FBI agent Sally Russell is sent to investigate, but she may not get much help from the reclusive farming community, as she's an outsider who isn't to be trusted. Amish widow Annie Beiler, however, is curious about women of the outside world. She's willing to let Sally earn her trust, although doing so puts her in danger of being shunned by her own people. Can two women from such distinct worlds overcome the barriers that separate them? This would take patience, understanding, and courage. Share the excitement of a mystery solved and the life-affirming joy of a friendship discovered.
