From the President

A MESSAGE FROM SUSAN RATNER

Spring is definitely here (weather permitting!) and we are finally seeing some of the changes we have been waiting for. Consecration was held outside in the Wain Pavilion with joyful families and kids, singing and dancing with their masks firmly in place – exemplifying the beginning transition from our Covid world to normalcy. Likewise, an inspiring Confirmation was held on Shavuot with a similar spirit, our clergy and staff together, making it a memorable occasion following our longstanding traditions.

As all of you know, Pepper Pike has approved our zoning changes and we are good to go! We are starting work in June and you will all be kept up to date on the when, where and how as we start to make this vision of our new campus a reality. We plan to hold all activities at the synagogue throughout construction, continuing to use the creativity of our staff and clergy in utilizing all our spaces. The estimated date of completion is September, 2022, so we are really on our way.

We have continued to talk to many of you about your support of the campaign and we have been heartened and inspired by the gifts of so many of you. Our annual meeting will mark our congregational launch of the campaign with a zoom/filmed presentation, including participation of members of the congregation. The annual meeting is, in many ways, a celebration of the Park community and this campaign launch is emblematic of what a wonderful community Park is and the whole congregation's commitment to its future.

We are launching our campaign with 28 million dollars raised to date, a remarkable commitment from so many of you through this difficult year of the pandemic. Park Synagogue as a community has remained clear and constant throughout this extraordinary year and we are starting our congregational launch from a position of strength, thanks to so many of you. Now we are looking for the participation of the rest of our community, asking for your joint contribution to solidify our future.

We continue to explore solutions for our Cleveland Heights site, meeting with Cleveland Heights, arts organizations, and developers who have an interest in our beautiful campus. John Carroll's change in leadership removed them as an option and yet others have emerged as possibilities and I will keep you all posted. At the same time, we are creating our historical archive, which will be available for all to see in our lobby – with a video of Park Main, all our confirmation pictures and memorabilia available on a console. Unlike Jews of history, we are able to take much of our past into the present, both virtually and in reality. As we started to look through Park Main, we realized that, in addition to our ritual items which will come with us, the Agam windows are a part of many people's memory of the Cleveland Heights building, so we are incorporating them into our new Lois and Larry Davis Community Hall, a room that will be used for both prayer and celebration that has reminders of the past as we look to the future. In some ways, this transition replicates all of Jewish life, as it preserves the past at the same time as it adapts and reconfigures to celebrate the future – together. I thank you all for your support.

The Muscles of Flexibility

In these summer months, we are getting ready for this coming school year - a year in full swing! As we prepare, we reflect that this past year has been a good reminder that while we continue to study, Judaism is an evolving tradition. Our Jewish leaders of the past have found ways to adapt Judaism so that it would survive. Those who preserved Judaism were committed to understanding what had to remain and what had to be refashioned. It is this flexibility of Judaism which has enabled us to pull through difficult times. These past 14 months encompassed stretching, flexibility, creativity and possibilities! So we have made a few 'adjustabilities' that will keep us together as a learning Jewish community continuing to appreciate and enjoy one another.

There is a Talmudic story of the willow and the oak illustrating this approach to life, the ability to adjust. The mighty oak stands straight, tall and powerful. And then there is the willow - bending and yielding. One day, a big wind comes and topples the oak even as the willow sways in the wind, giving a little here and there. After the storm has passed, the oak has fallen but the willow remains. So it is with life. Those who remain rigid find it hard to persevere, but like the willow, those who learn to adjust continue to flourish! SEE YOU IN AUGUST!

Opening Day & Looking Ahead

Here is a peek at the opening of the 2021/2022 school year. We are so glad that we will be in person!
The Sunday times for first semester will continue the same hours as this past year, 9:30-11:30 am, EXCEPT the first Sunday of each month, October, November December, when we'll celebrate Rosh Chodesh with an extended day, 9:30 am -12:30 pm, including lunch.

Thursdays, first semester, will now be our In-Person day for Hebrew School. We have consolidated two-day-a-week Hebrew School into one day for first semester. This session will include Hebrew & Shabbat prep (challah braiding each week).

We are looking into zoom Hebrew enrichment. This will not replace Thursday School, but will be a possibility that we are investigating.

There will be a 2021/2022 PSWRS calendar available in July.

Park Preschool Corner

We thought we could...so we did.

When most preschools resumed in the fall, Park Synagogue Preschool offered an alternative choice for families who were reluctant to send their child to in-person learning. Director Marilyn Zaas explains, "Bridging the Gap was designed to provide daily social/emotional, cognitive, literacy, and physical experiences for preschoolers via zoom and instructional videos. Students were provided with all the materials they would need for academics, art and science, yoga, Music with Jesse, movement, and Teacher Debbie".

Zaas recalls, "When we embarked on this innovative adventure, we had no idea it would evolve into an amazing experience for all - students, teachers and parents".

"Park Preschool's Bridging the Gap program has been amazing for our family. The combination of pre-recorded videos, activities and live zoom lessons and specials all themed together really made our daughter feel like she was at school. What a wonderful experience the kids had together as a class and most importantly how much our daughter has learned and grown before kindergarten".

-Meredith Solomon, Parent

As exciting and interesting as this year has been, teachers and students alike are looking forward to returning to in-person learning, which will resume on August 16th.

Todah Rabbah to Park's Volunteers!

While this past year has posed challenges for having as much volunteer activity as Park normally has, there were still many Park members who gave of their time and talents during the pandemic. Thank you to everyone who attended countless board and committee meetings on Zoom, helped run Zoom programs, made phone calls to check on homebound members, attended minyan services to make sure that everyone could say kaddish, and helped with a Mitzvah Day project. You played in important role in making Park the warm and giving community it is. You are the stars of our congregation! We look forward to having many more people involved in the coming year as we transition back to a more normal year of in-person programs, projects and activities.
