Dear Parishioners,

Two weeks ago, when our missionaries were with us, I had a wonderful blessing. Fr. Mike came to talk to me during the 11 am confessions, and then he went to confession. When he was done, I said, "Well, I guess it is my turn!"

My regular confessor was my first pastor and he died two years ago. He was always so kind and I always left feeling like a weight was taken off me. I told Fr. Mike I had not been back because I thought I would be disappointed. But Fr. Mike and I shared a wonderful time and a wonderful sacrament.

It is good to know that this sacrament is available when we are feeling weary and find life burdensome. Jesus is there to refresh us.

My old pastor always ended confession the same way. He would say, "You are good." Sometimes we need to be reminded.

Peace,
Fr. Neil

Family Perspectives

Jesus went to the mountain for some quiet time with the disciples. When 5000 people arrived unexpectedly, he put aside his agenda, welcomed and fed them. Jesus teaches us to be people of hospitality who welcome the stranger and cheerfully give time and nourishment to others.
