From the Pastor's Desk…

Today is the Fourth Sunday of Advent. The first and second books of Samuel are part of the Old Testament known as the "former prophets." They tell the theological history of Israel as it sought to hand over governance to a kind. Samuel himself served as the transition went from rule by judges to rule by a king. It was he who was chosen by God to anoint Saul as the first king and will do the same 13 years later for David. David was known to be a shrewd leader and today he can be seen basking in peace. The Ark of the Covenant had been in a tent that had been moved through the desert, but David now wants to build a temple and he turns to the prophet Nathan, but God tells Nathan that he himself alone can build a dwelling suitable for himself just as he has been the author of David's success. While David was thinking of a dwelling place made by hands, God intends to build a house that is composed of a people made holy by law.

This sixteenth chapter of Roman's is the last portion and Paul wrote it in 57 AD. In contains mostly greetings and at the end, Paul asserts his authority. He articulates his authority as one who has been called to preach the Good News and to establish the faithful. Paul has not yet journeyed to Rome so the letter comes to the Romans from a stranger. The Romans will have to resolve the issue of inclusion—how do those born under the Hebrew law fit in with the Gentiles? Paul calls for "obedience of faith," so that others can see if there lives the glory of God as revealed to them through Christ.

The angel Gabriel plays a prominent role in the first chapter of Luke's Gospel. The name means "God is my strength." First the angel appears to Zechariah and foretells that his wife, who is barren, will give birth to a son who is to be called John. Six months later, Gabriel appears to Mary and foretells the birth of her son who will "be called great and will be called the Son of the Most High." These announcement stories serve as a foretaste of what will be a predominant pattern in Luke: that of reversal. In Luke, God will choose the lowly to humble the mighty and the poor are chosen to bring God's message to the rich. Both Elizabeth and Mary are women and considered voiceless in society, yet they are chosen for this grand purpose and both respond with no doubt.

You have all received a letter from me outlining the risk of our gathering in large crowds for the Christmas Masses. We will live stream the 5 PM Vigil Mass and the Christmas Day 10:30 AM Mass. As I mentioned in that letter, perhaps you might structure a prayer for your entire family at home rather than trying to come to church. This will be a Christmas like no other but we have to take every precaution to be safe and stop the spread of this virus. I hope you understand my concern.

We are also greatly curtailing the decoration of the church this year as there won't be that many people there to see it. Normally, we decorate the entire church in a festive atmosphere to celebrate the season, but this year we will curtail that. Hopefully by this summer or fall at the latest, we will begin to return to normal.

Each year you purchase Christmas gifts for children who otherwise would not have a gift. This year because of the Covid virus, St. Martin's Center is asking that we purchase $100 gift cards. If anyone is interested in helping, please contact the office.

I always give the staff off the week between Christmas and New Years. It is the slowest time of the year for us, and they deserve a break. I will be here the entire time if there is any type of an emergency. The office will re-open Monday, Jan. 4, 2021.

During the month of November our parish Food Pantry distributed 14,094 pounds of food at a cost to the parish of $365.15. We had anticipated a large increase in the number of people who would be seeking food because of the economy, but we've not experienced any of that.

Just before Christmas, the pastor was leading a children's service featuring an Advent wreath. He had told them what the three purple candles represented, then asked, "Does anyone know what the pink one means?" No one answered and finally, little Sarah's hand went up. "Are they expecting a girl?"

271 DAYS TO THE 2021 ERIE IRISH FESTIVAL

SANTA DEEMED ESSENTIAL IN IRELAND

Radio Telefis Eirann, Ireland's state run media outlet, announced last month, to the relief of many an Irish child, that Ireland's Minister of Foreign Affairs, Simon Coveney, had confirmed to the Irish legislature that delivering Christmas presents is deemed essential work by the government. Santa Claus will therefore not be subject to the 14 day Covid 19 quarantine travel restriction when he enters Ireland on December 24. Coveney did, however, warn Irish children to remain in their beds on Christmas Eve as there is still a need for Santa to practice social distancing.

Legend has it, however, that Santa doesn't need to quarantine because he is already in Ireland, buried in County Kilkenny in the ruins of the 12th century church of St. Nicholas, Jerpoint. It seems that many believe that the bones of the good St. Nicholas of Myra, a 4th century bishop from the town of Myra in what is now modern Turkey, were stolen by Irish Norman knights returning from the crusades in the holy land and brought back to Ireland. Or, that they were brought to Thomastown, the modern site of the ancient church, by a Norman family that stole them from Myra when they moved to Bari, Italy, and brought them along when they fled Bari for Nice, France, and then to Ireland when they fled Nice. Despite the fact that most scholars believe that the remains of good St. Nicholas are still enshrined in Bari (placed there by either sailors or merchants who stole them from Myra in 1187), the people of County Kilkenny still celebrate at his gravesite there by wearing old shoes to school and work on December 6, the feast day of St. Nicholas, and by giving presents to strangers in need.

St. Nicholas' renown comes from his generosity—he is said to have paid the dowry for three young women so that they could marry and so avoid becoming prostitutes and to have restored to life three children who were chopped up by a butcher and placed in a barrel of brine. (Myra was apparently a tough town!) In addition to his connection to Christmas, St. Nicholas is the patron saint of both Russia and Greece, and of unmarried women, children, of sailors or merchants (who allegedly stole his bones) and of many others. A very popular saint.

And waiting for Santa in every Irish home on Christmas Eve will be the traditional mince pie and pint of Guinness, and perhaps a carrot for his reindeer. So Nollaig Shona Daoibh, as they say in Ireland. Happy Christmas to you all. See you in 271 days.

Prayer in Time of Pandemic

Lord Jesus,
You came to bring salvation to our world.
You humbled yourself to accept death on a cross.
Be with us as we confront the spread of the coronavirus with courage and hope.
Be present to the sick and to those who accompany them in their suffering.
Strengthen our medical professionals and caregivers;
comfort families who are separated from one another.
Protect those who are at risk of the virus in their work.
Grant wisdom to our civic officials and perseverance to scientists.
Spare us from the ravages of this illness and console us in our uncertainty and fear.
Unite us in hope, enlighten us in faith,
and give us the grace as a Church to love one another as You have loved us.
Through the intercession of our Heavenly Mother,
we make this prayer as we place our trust in You.
Amen.
