If Only I . . .

The 19th century poet, John Greenleaf Whittier, wrote the following during a difficult time in his life: “Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these, ‘It might have been.’” His words came to mind while I was reading the seventh chapter of John’s Gospel where Nicodemus is mentioned and reminds his colleagues in the Sanhedrin that Jewish Law requires that a person be heard before being judged (Jn 7:50-51).

In response, Caiaphas, the High Priest that year, retorted, “No prophets have come from Galilee!” As a result, Nicodemus voted for the judgment, leaving Joseph of Arimathea as the only member of the Sanhedrin to vote “No”. I always wondered why Nicodemus who had been a secret disciple of Jesus would do so, and more importantly, did he ever regret what he had done. That is when I found the story that might be true.

As Jesus’ mother, Mary, was walking to the tomb after the crucifixion, Nicodemus walked beside her along the rocky ground. Mary stumbled and Nicodemus took her arm to steady her. During that encounter however, a small gold jar fell out of Mary’s pocket, and Nicodemus stooped down to retrieve it. Commenting on the beauty of that jeweled item, he handed it back to Mary, who held it close. “Yes,” she said softly, “it is beautiful. It was a gift given to my son when he was born in Bethlehem.” Nicodemus blanched and mumbled “If only I had known . . . if only I had known.” Perhaps if he had known the facts, Nicodemus would have voted differently. But, as many of us who face making decisions in unclear situations, we, too, are often at the same disadvantage.

So often I am guilty of Nicodemus’ mistake. I assume that I know all the facts, and even when I don’t, I make a decision that appears to be correct and the best way to go. Responding with “What I thought. “or “It seemed the best alternative” places me in the role of God who definitely I am not!!! The fact is no one knows what might have been. All we do know is that the infinitely good God can and often will take the mistakes we make in good conscience and turn them around for good .

The story of Joseph in the Old Testament is a classic example of the man who could have spiraled into the fantasy world of “If only” with the serious challenges he endured. God took Joseph’s misfortunes and changed them so that Joseph could proclaim: “You intended to harm me, but God intended it for good to accomplish what is now being done, the saving of many lives.” (Genesis 50:20)

Whittier’s statement often fits my outlook on the “might have been” events in my life: “Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these, “It might have been.” To this I add another verse, “It might have been a whole lot worse!”

OTHER INFORMATION

Located in Southeast Asia between the Pacific and Indian Oceans, Indonesia has beautiful beaches, diverse cultures and nearly 280 million people—the fourth highest population in the world!

Many of the country's more than 17,000 islands are in the Ring of Fire, a region around the rim of the Pacific Ocean where volcanic eruptions and earthquakes are common. Climate-related disasters such as cyclones also threaten the islands and are becoming more frequent and destructive.

Strong rains and wind from these storms—combined with long periods without rain, called drought—make it difficult for people like Evita Tiro Wada to grow food. Evita and her family live on Flores Island, where she keeps a home garden for food and income.

To help her family and community become more resilient against natural disasters and have more reliable access to food, Evita participated in a Catholic Relief Services' program, through which she joined a disaster preparedness group.

The group helps their community stay safe during emergencies like cyclones and earthquakes. They created a system to warn people to evacuate and identified evacuation routes, assembly points and resources they can use during a crisis.

The group also maintains a community garden. They grow vegetables like beans, eggplant and water spinach to provide healthy food for their families. They use a drip irrigation system that conserves water so the vegetables can grow even during a drought. Evita and her group members use the garden to teach people from other communities how to start their own.

To protect their garden from the wind and prevent erosion from the ocean waves, Evita and her group planted trees. They also cleaned up the river and other areas in their town by picking up trash, which helped prevent flooding.

Evita says, "When I first joined the village disaster preparedness group, I thought, 'What will I do or give to help the community?' After I've been involved, I see the benefits of what the community and I did."

Entrance Chant 352 Lord, Who Throughout These Forty Days

First Reading Jeremiah 31:31-34

The days are coming, says the LORD, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and the house of Judah. It will not be like the covenant I made with their fathers the day I took them by the hand to lead them forth from the land of Egypt; for they broke my covenant, and I had to show myself their master, says the LORD. But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the LORD. I will place my law within them and write it upon their hearts; I will be their God, and they shall be my people. No longer will they have need to teach their friends and relatives how to know the LORD. All, from least to greatest, shall know me, says the LORD, for I will forgive their evildoing and remember their sin no more.

The Responsorial Psalm Psalm 51:3-4, 12-15

R. Create a clean heart in me, O God.

Have mercy on me, O God, in your goodness;
in the greatness of your compassion wipe out my offense.
Thoroughly wash me from my guilt
and of my sin cleanse me.

R. Create a clean heart in me, O God.

A clean heart create for me, O God,
and a steadfast spirit renew within me.
Cast me not out from your presence,
and your Holy Spirit take not from me.

R. Create a clean heart in me, O God.

Give me back the joy of your salvation,
and a willing spirit sustain in me.
I will teach transgressors your ways,
and sinners shall return to you.

R. Create a clean heart in me, O God.

Second Reading Hebrews 5:7-9

In the days when Christ Jesus was in the flesh, he offered prayers and supplications with loud cries and tears to the one who was able to save him from death, and he was heard because of his reverence. Son though he was, he learned obedience from what he suffered; and when he was made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him.

Gospel John 12:20-33

Some Greeks who had come to worship at the Passover Feast came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and asked him, “Sir, we would like to see Jesus.” Philip went and told Andrew; then Andrew and Philip went and told Jesus. Jesus answered them, “The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. Amen, amen, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies, it produces much fruit. Whoever loves his life loses it, and whoever hates his life in this world will preserve it for eternal life. Whoever serves me must follow me, and where I am, there also will my servant be. The Father will honor whoever serves me.

“I am troubled now. Yet what should I say? ‘Father, save me from this hour’? But it was for this purpose that I came to this hour. Father, glorify your name.” Then a voice came from heaven, “I have glorified it and will glorify it again.” The crowd there heard it and said it was thunder; but others said, “An angel has spoken to him.” Jesus answered and said, “This voice did not come for my sake but for yours. Now is the time of judgment on this world; now the ruler of this world will be driven out. And when I am lifted up from the earth, I will draw everyone to myself.” He said this indicating the kind of death he would die.

Offertory Chant 696 In Every Age (Whitaker)

Communion Chant I Am the Bread of Life

And I will raise you up, and I will raise you up, and I will raise you up on the last day.

I am the Bread of life. You who come to me shall not hunger; and who believe in me shall not thirst. No one can come to me unless the Father beckons.

The bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world, and if you eat of this bread, you shall live for ever, you shall live for ever.

Unless you eat of the flesh of the Son of Man and drink of his blood, and drink of his blood, you shall not have life within you.

I am the Resurrection, I am the life. If you believe in me, even though you die, you shall live for ever.

Yes, Lord, I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, Who has come into the world.
