

St. Mary Catholic Church

7th Sunday of Easter | May 16, 2021

Back in January during the Knights of Columbus Novena for Life program the four city councils introduced a three-year-long fundraising program for the Monument to the Unborn. We have an update, After 8 weeks, The Knights are truly humbled by the generosity of our church councils, parishioners, and community members as it is obvious that the Holy Spirit has given us divine assistance in reaching our goal of $25,000. The Knights of Columbus, offer all of you our deepest gratitude and We look forward to seeing all of you at a dedication ceremony that will be held in about 6 months at All Saints Cemetery after the completion and installation of this monument.

Thank you all and God Bless.

LIVE THE LITURGY

Inspiration for the week

When Jesus was physically with his disciples, he guarded and protected them. One of his greatest desires was that they share his joy completely. God's love is the source of all things and their sustenance. As we conduct the normal routines of our lives it is easy to get caught up in the immediacies of this world and lose focus. We become very self and worldly dependent, forgetting that God wishes to guard and protect us. The joy the resurrected Christ can offer cannot be found in this world. It takes a bit of faith to realize that God's will is a constant in our lives and that God desires only the sustenance and goodness of both our bodies and our souls. We need to trust in God's constant and rejuvenating love. This radical resurrection trust allows us to experience the joy of God's presence in all of the good and the bad, positive and negative, life building and life destructive events that we encounter. God remains where love remains.

GOOD NEWS MESSENGERS

We proudly call ourselves Christians, people who are sent to “proclaim the Gospel to every creature.” That request came from Jesus himself as he sent his disciples, “to preach everywhere while [he] the Lord worked with them.” We too are sent to face the challenges of our world. We are strengthened by the Spirit and guided by the spiritual voices of the past, as we go into the world to proclaim the gospel. As Catherine of Siena reminded us: “Preach the truth as if you had a million voices, for it is silence that kills the world.”

As the disciples watched Jesus ascend, they must have been filled with grief, feeling like abandoned children left to stare at an empty sky. We have all had that same experience. We have grown accustomed to the presence of others in our lives---people with whom we have been intimately attached, and by whom we have been profoundly changed. We can imagine the emotions of the disciples as Jesus vanished from their sight. Without his presence, they experienced a great loss and a great apprehension about their future.

“...they were on-fire disciples ready to change the world.”

It was the presence of Jesus in their midst that told them of his great love for them. In Jesus they learned that the Father’s love became real, with hands to touch, ears to listen, a heart to ache and a body to suffer---in love, for love, and because of love. As theologian Karl Rahner explained it: “Jesus gave a name to the cause behind all that exists. He called it his Father, and allowed us also to whisper into the divine darkness, ‘Abba---Daddy---Papa.’ Jesus is the Father’s love, the Father’s mercy, and the Father’s wisdom in their midst.” The disciples knew that looking at the sky was a lot easier than getting down to the work of changing the world. Sky gazing doesn’t help address the needs of others. Spiritual experiences were important and spiritual leadership was vital, but the time had come for instruction to end and work to begin. Powerfully transformed, the disciples returned “to Jerusalem with great joy.” What a changed group! They were no longer frightened...indecisive...cowering behind locked doors, but now they were on-fire disciples ready to change the world.

The Ascension can be called: “the universal event of salvation history that must reoccur in each believer through grace.” It is this mystery of Jesus’ presence in our world 2000 years ago, and his presence in our world here and now that reminds us to strive for a greater, deeper, holiness, not only in church, but (most importantly) in the course of our daily lives. Through the Spirit who calls us to faithfulness and courage each day, Jesus becomes present, and the true celebration of the Ascension becomes evident.

As we celebrate the Ascension, we know we live in a world where affluence blurs the presence of God, making it difficult for the Spirit to strengthen us to change. But that change can occur when we recognize and celebrate the ongoing presence of Jesus and the power of the Spirit to transform and heal even our deepest fears. We accomplish that when we immerse ourselves in the world, taking on its burdens and its sufferings, and calling them our own. We become the Ascension symbol!

God is still present, still calling us and still sending us out into the world. It is rolling-up-our-sleeves time, as we become God’s presence by translating words into works, decisions into deeds, and goals into accomplishments. We become the messengers of God’s Good News and the wisdom figures of our time. And so we pray...“I am your message, Lord. Throw me like a blazing torch into the night, that all may see and understand what it means to be your disciple.”

---Deacon Wilson Shierk

Lifting up his eyes to heaven, Jesus prayed saying: “As you sent me into the world, so I sent them into the world. And I consecrate myself for them, so that they also may be consecrated in truth.”

- Jn 17:18-19

Congratulations to our ASCS 2nd grade students as they receive their First Holy Communion this month at their parishes. They have been anxiously awaiting and diligently preparing their hearts and minds for this beautiful Sacrament of receiving the body and blood of Jesus for the first time. They are blessed with the opportunity to now receive the Eucharist, with our 3rd-8th grade students, during weekly ASCS Masses, along with their families on Sunday. God Bless each of you!

SJCA has many fine programmatic and curricular components, but it is our students and their development, in mind, body and spirit, that are the absolute focus. Our student outcomes, their successes, their knowledge, the skills they have learned and the bonds they have forged, with classmates, with teachers and especially with God, are our entire reason for existing. At SJCA, our outcomes prepare our students to go forth into the world, well-equipped to meet the challenges ahead. To learn more about how an SJCA education will benefit your student, please contact the Admissions Department at (262) 654-8651 ext. 104 or visit www.sjcawi.org.

Thank you for your continued support of the Church through this difficult time.
