16TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

When he disembarked and saw the vast crowd, his heart was moved with pity for them, for they were like sheep without a shepherd; and he began to teach them many things. - Mk 6:34

PARISH NEWS AND NOTES

Mass Intentions Needed

We have many openings on the parish calendar for weekday Mass intentions for the remainder of 2021, especially for weekdays in August and September. Most of the weekend intentions, particularly for the remainder of the summer and into early fall, have already been scheduled. Mass intentions can be requested in memory of a deceased friend or loved one, in honor of a special occasion, or for a special prayer request. An offering of $10 per Mass is requested. If you'd like to schedule one or more intentions, please call the parish office at 414-332-9220 or email holyfam@hfparish.org.

Considering Becoming a Deacon?

The Archdiocese of Milwaukee Office of Diaconate Formation will be holding an information session at St. Sebastian, 5400 W. Washington Blvd in Milwaukee on Monday, July 26 from 6:00-7:00pm.

This is a multi-parish event used to answer questions about the diaconate. If you think you might be being called to be a deacon or if you just want to find out more about serving as a deacon, please come to this session.

The time between now and Thanksgiving is a very important window for men to discern whether to apply for admission into the Aspirant Class of 2022. The application process starts in January.

Jeremiah writes in our first reading, "Woe to the Shepherds who mislead and scatter the flock of my pasture." This is a daunting passage for priests to look at, but I would like to extend it to all of those who live out their "priestly" vocation by virtue of their baptism in making the world a holy place. As we look at the very order of this English sentence, I would like to dwell on the word "mislead". In order to mislead means there is an unsure path ahead, and some of the paths lead to loss and death (of a flock). I don't know if I need to list all the potential categories of uncertainty of our current time. How should we respond to the pandemic? You probably know the right answer, but your neighbor radically disagrees, and of course their answer is correct as well. How should we respond to environmental crises, droughts, rising sea levels, national conflict which challenges the supply of things like rare-earth metals central to making electric cars. Surely you know the right answer, although your neighbor radically disagrees with you. One more issue will suffice to get the point home - the issue of race. You have a well thought out opinion of the matter, and the gentleman down the street - you know the one with the sign you dislike, radically disagrees, so you go and rip up his sign in the lawn lest his ideas get out into the world. It seems like it is an unfortunate time to "shepherd" - a parish, a family, a workplace, a school, a peer group. How much easier would it be to disassociate yourself from those around you! Even trusted institutions are corrupt after all! No more Girl Scouts, or bowling leagues, or Elk's Lodge, or parishes. I can bowl alone, camp alone, pray alone, I can...be alone. Much of the world's response to crises has been to isolate. We have been following shepherds who lead us off into isolation.

Perhaps this makes sense of a 2020 Harvard study which indicates the young adults (those aged 18-25) are the loneliest people in America - with 63 percent of them experiencing substantial amounts of anxiety and depression - the largest rate recorded, more than the elderly and new mothers, other frontrunners in the group. Perhaps we need to look into the mirror and ask just what type of world we are "shepherding" our children into? 18-25 year olds have been the first to grow up fully under the secularized, tech-totalitarian world, so it makes sense that they are the un-happiest.(to read the whole report go here <https://mcc.gse.harvard.edu/reports/loneliness-in-america>)

Does the Church offer a response? I would like to offer four such responses. None of them are new, many of them have been rejected, but I would encourage families and individuals to make these four categories a part of the culture of your family, friendships, work, parish, and any other relationship worth spending time on. The first is worship. Sunday worship is an obligation, in old fashioned language, a mortal sin to purposely miss (aside from sickness, among various other reasons). Why? Because not isolating yourself from your neighbors, your enemies, those of a different economic background, the elderly, infants, etc... is so important as to be a sin not to do it. How many of us have the Brewers schedule pinned to our refrigerator with colors for home and away games? How many of us have holy days of obligation calendars pinned to our fridge?

The second is acts of charity done as a family. We have time for vacation (well hopefully we do, but that's another story). We have time for barbecues, movie nights, sleepovers, watching NBA finals, youth sports. Therefore we have time for service. Visiting the elderly neighbor, cleaning up trash along the Milwaukee River. I have even met people who have gone on family service trips! We MUST make acts of charity part of the culture of our lives.

The third is discerning proper use of technology. You'll have to excuse my rant on this one. The current CEO of Apple famously doesn't think children should use social media. The founder of Apple, Steve Jobs, when asked about how his children must love using an iPad said, "Actually we don't allow the iPad in the home. We think it's too dangerous for them in effect." Let love and faith be the primary influencer in your home. May every home be a "hype house" of Christian love. Don't know what a hype house is? I didn't either until a 14 year old told me last week, so I'll let you ask your local 14 year old. Don't know any 14 year olds? Probably a sign that we live in a fractured world. Children aren't the only ones affected by tech. Burgeoning technology, following Moore's Law, leaves the elderly in the dust too. Just turn the TV on for Grandma, she'll be fine. I recently was praying with a dying man at a local nursing home accompanied by a faithful chaplain, and he, in his last moments of breath, known rather grotesquely as the "death rattle", was listening to the "easy listening" channel on cable television, a replacement for hymns and Ave Marias of previous generations. The elderly in some countries have the privilege of using "PARO, the electronic therapy seal." PARO is a therapeutic robot baby harp seal, intended to be very cute and to have a calming effect on and elicit emotional responses in patients of hospitals and nursing homes, similar to animal-assisted therapy except using robots." Although I am writing with a dry sense of humor, all of these things are real, and are sad in my opinion and point to the fact that we have replaced human relationships with fake online / electronic ones. Don't be a slave to technology! It makes you lonely. If, God forbid, I ever become a bishop, I will take that as my episcopal motto. A quick rendering of that in google translate into Latin: "Ne serviret elit! Hoc facit sola."

The fourth is forgiveness. Forgiveness begins in the heart, but it cannot end there. Forgiveness which does not extend out to God and neighbor does not exist in reality, only in dreams. The letter of James instructs us to "confess your sins to one another". Jesus in the Gospel of John gives the disciples the power to 'forgive and retain sins'. Elsewhere, he says that our offerings are useless if we hold a grudge against our neighbor. EVERY Sunday at Mass we say "forgive us our trespasses AS we forgive those who trespass against us." I know I sound like a broken record promoting confession, but it makes us holier AND happier. Pope Francis says in Confession we reach out and touch the grandeur of God's mercy with our own hands. Confession however is not a replacement for going to your neighbor, your co-worker, your family member and saying "I am sorry" and "I forgive you."

If you worship God communally, do regular acts of charity, take control of technology, and forgive others, people will think you are weird. I promise you that. Parents will shame you, kids will cry, but you will not be alone, and those you are tasked with shepherding will not be either.

Becoming Catholic

If you or anyone you know would like to become Catholic, Holy Family Parish invites you to join the RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults). It is for:

- Those not baptized
- Those from other faith traditions
- Those baptized Catholic, but not raised in the faith

For more information, please contact Donna Shriner at dshriner@strobert.org or 414-332-1164, ext. 3045. We welcome you to become Catholic and join our family of faith.

Worldwide Marriage Encounter Weekends

The Worldwide Marriage Encounter Weekend offers married couples an opportunity to get off the treadmill of life and focus on each other. It is a chance to look deeply into your relationship with each other and with God. Upcoming in-person Worldwide Marriage Encounter August 20-22 in Madison, WI; and September 17-19 in Geneva, IL. There are also virtual experiences on September 13 to October 4 and November 13-14. Early registration is highly recommended. For more information visit our website at: alifetimeoflove.org or call (888) 574-5653.

Become a Volunteer Driver for Eras Senior Network

Volunteer drivers at Eras make it possible for local seniors and adults with disabilities to get to their medical appointments, as well as providing a way for clients to receive groceries and food pantry stock boxes through contactless delivery. The pandemic has affected the number of volunteers able to help, but those who continue volunteering have gone above and beyond to support our clients. Many volunteers have taken on double - or even triple - their normal amount of rides to ensure our clients receive the services they need.

Eras is looking for more drivers to help keep rides manageable for our current volunteers. If you or someone you know is interested in volunteering, please email Joey.Jackson-Streeter@eras.org or call 414-488-6500. Thank you!
