"Death is a decisive moment in the human person's encounter with God the Savior. Helping the Christian to experience this moment with spiritual assistance is a supreme act of charity. It encompasses the patient with the solid support of human relationships to accompany them and open them to hope. While palliative care cannot entirely eradicate suffering from people's lives, it provides an authentic expression of human and Christian care—allowing us to 'remain' at the side of a suffering person, as the Blessed Mother and the beloved disciple remained at the foot of the Cross."

My Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Way back in 1989, Waleed Sadruddin was a 17 year old high school student who lived in Portland, Oregon, across the street from boarded up windows of a crack house. When he saw his friends joining street gangs he felt a strong urge to get involved and do something positive. He organized his peers into a high school fraternity that sponsored dances, cleaned up graffiti and helped each other with homework and family problems.

Waleed felt like he was walking in the tradition of Jesus who says in today's Gospel, "I have come to set the earth on fire, and how I wish it were already blazing!" Those are pretty strong words.

Jesus goes on to say that taking a stand and lighting a fire often invite opposition. It often divides a nation or a city, sometimes even a family. God's people often endure suffering to bring people closer to God. In the first reading Jeremiah is cast into a pit and left for dead after delivering God's warning to the people. The author of the second reading urges us to keep "our eyes fixed on Jesus" so that we don't lose heart. And Jesus himself warns us of the hornet's nest that his mission will stir up.

The portrait of Jesus seen here is hardly the calm shepherd with a lamb on his shoulder. I think Luke is urgent in wanting his readers to understand what discipleship demands. The anger, rejection and suffering that Jesus experienced, his disciples must be prepared for as well. Are you?

FACE driver Request

Do you know of someone who might want to drive the FACE bus to Cape Girardeau next year? It would be 3 times a week. Every other week. The schedule would be Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday. It does not require a special license. The bus leaves Herrin at around 6am and returns around 5-ish (depending on clubs after school). We would pay that person for the day. They can do anything they want during the day. But we just ask that they be a good steward when it comes to the gas and not drive to St. Louis or something like that. Just stick around Cape. Maybe a retired person? Someone with a good driving record.

GOSPEL MEDITATION

August 14, 2022
20th Sunday in Ordinary Time

An inward transformation occurs in a person who decides to follow Jesus Christ. Things change. They see the world differently, understand their journey more deeply and profoundly, have their sights fixed on eternity and union with God and hold themselves to higher standards and virtues. It requires a conscious choice to be a Christian, and this choice must be renewed at least daily. While the basic premise of Jesus' message may appear heartwarming and straightforward: love of God, neighbor, and self, the implications of doing so are challenging. The true disciple is called to live radically, and often finds themselves at odds with the world or even with those in their own homes.

Holding ourselves to higher standards comes with a price. We have to leave other things behind. It is difficult to be people of faith, hope, and love in a world often fixated with its own fulfillment and self-absorption. Justice, temperance, prudence, and fortitude require sacrifice if they are to be lived with integrity. God's ways are not ours. This becomes crystal clear to those who have enough courage to stand against the tide. Putting love into action requires that we challenge accepted modes of doing business and fight complacency. This is what makes the saints stand out as witnesses. They are simply sinners, just like us, who persevere.

People do not want to be told that they're sailing their ships in the wrong direction. Clinging to their insistence and need to be correct, they can become defensive when challenged. This can happen even with those closest to us. As much as the Gospel calls us to unity, it also can easily create division. When we love seriously, we encounter more than feelings of warmth and acceptance. "What does love look like? It has the hands to help others. It has the feet to hasten to the poor and needy. It has eyes to see misery and want. It has the ears to hear the sighs and sorrows of men. That is what love looks like (St. Augustine)." Love also has the courage and honesty to tell people what they may not want to hear but need to, and model, without wavering, a life of humble, loving, and faithful service. Don't lose heart! There are many examples of faith before us and around us. If Jesus endured the voices of opposition, so too can we. There is no need to apologize for speaking the truth. ©LPi
