ARCHDIOCESE OF CHICAGO

Administered by the Resurrection Fathers and Brothers

Celebrating 132 years in the Bucktown Community

WEEKLY REFLECTION,

Dear Parishioners of Sts. Hedwig and John Berchmans,

I would love to share with you my vision for our united community. This vision for our united community came through prayer, listening and reflection, but mostly from the need of renewal of the Church. We heard this many times, but lately more often that the parish we create is not built on bricks and mortar but on the living stones, which we are. Each day God is calling us to renewal and He gives us new directions and guidance through people to share with you my vision for our united community. This vision for our united community came through prayer, listening and reflection, but mostly from the and situations, but also through the saints who help us on the way. We have saints as models to follow. They intercede on our behalf, they give us ideas, and show us how to live and become true disciples of Christ. It is important to have a patron in the parish, and we already have two amazing saints, St. Hedwig and St. John Berchmans. They will be with us and in our parish always. However, remember that God is calling us for renewal, and God is giving us the opportunity to see a new vision and mission for our united parish. In the Name Survey, you gave your preference and we received feedback getting a list of many wonderful saints, one of them is Blessed Carlo Acutis. I would love to tell you more about him and why I think he could be an amazing patron for our united community. We could build on his holiness and example a beautiful future for our school and parish.

Carlo Acutis was born May 3, 1991. Known as a computer whiz, he also liked to play soccer, video games, and the saxophone. He enjoyed making short films with his star cast of cats and dogs. He had many friends and enjoyed spending time with them.

Yet Carlo was a little "different" at school, and on the soccer field. What set Carlo apart was his constant pursuit of holiness. In addition to his hobbies, he spent time teaching catechism classes and serving in soup kitchens. Carlo loved to attend daily Mass and frequent Eucharistic adoration. The Word of God and the Eucharist were the center of his life. Carlo's unwavering devotion to the Eucharist inspired him to tell the story of Eucharistic miracles through a website he created, he wanted to deepen and to strengthen his devotion to Jesus, and to invite others to grow in love for the Eucharist.

PRAYER WARRIORS

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

During the last week or so, you may have might have heard mentioned Prayer Warriors. What are Prayer Warriors? Prayer Warriors are people who come before God, with all their hearts and commit themselves to praying for a very special intention. You are invited to become Prayer Warriors as we begin the unification process for our new parish of Saints Hedwig and John Berchmans Parish.

Within the next couple of weeks everyone at both worship sites will receive a prayer which you will be asked to pray each day, at a time that you choose, for the Holy Spirit to guide us all as we move forward together to create and define this new parish. Stay tuned for more details.

Blessings, Sister Diane Marie,

Director of Evangelization

IF HEAVEN WERE LIKE HARVARD

There's no getting around it: life on earth can seem easier if you're rich. Most of the bodily and material needs a person could have are fulfilled if you've got a little bit of money behind you. So why doesn't this same theory apply to entering the kingdom of Heaven? Why isn't Heaven like an Ivy League school, where a connection and a hasty tuition check might open a lot of doors?

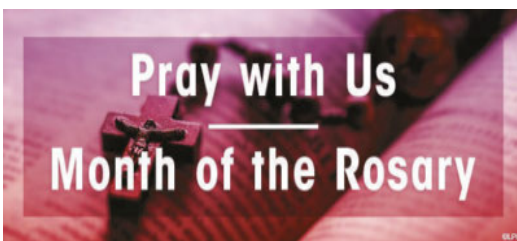

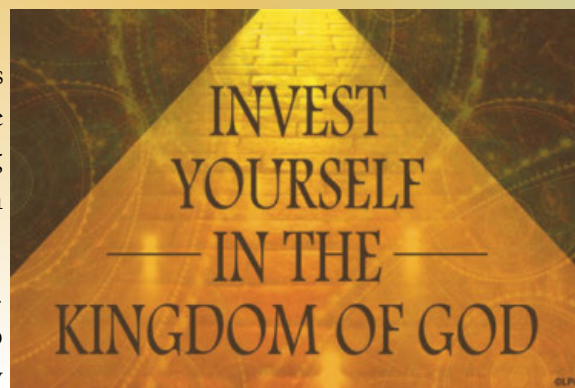

When you think about it, the virtues required to enter Heaven — things like charity and justice and courage — should be even closer within the grasp of those who never had to worry about where their food is coming from. In theory, your capacity for good works should only increase with the resources at your disposal.

The same is true for stewardship potential. Let's say I've got a lot of talent. Maybe I've got a lot of free time. On paper, it should be easier for me to give freely of these gifts, because I have the luxury that eluded the widow and her two coins: I can see my ample gift being put into action, when so many can only offer what they have and remind themselves that God sees it and appreciates it.

But here we get into the mess of humanity: if we have a lot of something, it means we have a lot of something we could use any way we want. And then we hear the whisper of the serpent: Think of what this (money, time, talent) could do for you.

May we pray for God to give us the heart of the widow, no matter our resources.

- Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

First Reading: Today's reading presents wisdom and prudence as life's most precious gifts. Why do you think these virtues were held in such high regard by ancient Israel?

Second Reading: Hebrews connects the power of the word of God with divine judgement — one day we must all "render an account" of our lives before the Lord. How often do you think about your own judgement day?

Gospel: Jesus teaches the rich man and the disciples that while wealth can often hinder one from entering the kingdom of God, self-sacrifice and discipleship can earn eternal life. How well do you balance these realities in your life?

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Presumption can be a great sin. We can easily convince ourselves that as long as we do the bare minimum or master the basics, it is sufficient. Love doesn't operate this way. If we are truly in love with God, then the basics are not going to be enough. That love is going to want to get expressed in going above and beyond, in leaving the comfortable and familiar, in stretching and growing and in following a voice other than our own. This is what those who are truly in pursuit of wisdom come to realize. Just like any human relationship worth achieving reveals, we never reach a plateau in following the Gospel or growing in wisdom and holiness. Wisdom is the rudder that guides us through all of life's attractions and options. It alone determines what is worth pursuing and what must be left behind. That is why those who are only concerned about checking the boxes and doing the least amount possible often walk away sad when offered God's gift of life eternal. They are not truly in love.

ST. TERESA OF ÁVILA FEAST DAY OCTOBER 15

St. Teresa of Ávila (1515-1582) was a Spanish Carmelite nun who lived in the 16th century. She was a mystic and author of spiritual writings and poems. The originator of the Carmelite Reform, she founded numerous convents throughout Spain and restored a contemplative life to the order. She became well known for the mystical experiences, many of which she described in her autobiography.

The first of only four women to be named a Doctor of the Church, St. Teresa's ascetic doctrine and Carmelite reforms shaped Roman Catholic contemplative life, and her writings on the Christian soul's journey to God are considered works of art. Her writings, especially the "Way of Perfection" and "The Interior Castle," have helped generations of believers.

St. Teresa of Avila died on Oct. 15, 1582. She was canonized on March 22, 1622, along with three of her greatest contemporaries: St. Ignatius Loyola, St. Francis Xavier, and St. Philip Neri.

Carlo died suddenly from leukemia in 2006 at the age of fifteen. In less than a decade, his story spread across Italy and around the world. After Pope Francis declared him venerable in 2018, his beatification was celebrated in Assisi on October 10, 2020. The next step will be his canonization, making him the first millennial saint.

He had an awareness of the meaning of life and how to live well. "To be always united to Jesus is my program of life." "Find God," he stated, "and you will find the meaning of your life."

Blessed Carlo had an ardent love for Jesus in the Eucharist. He lived a Eucharistic life, calling the Eucharist "my highway to heaven." He attended daily Mass from the time he was seven and spent time each day in adoration. "The more Eucharist we receive," he believed, "the more we will become like Jesus."

He had Eucharistic amazement. It didn't make sense to him that there would be huge crowds for soccer games and rock concerts but no lines before the tabernacle where God is present and lives among us.

He had a deep love for Mary. "The Virgin Mary is the only woman in my life," he said, and he called the Rosary, which he prayed daily, the "shortest ladder to climb to heaven" and the "most powerful weapon," after the Eucharist, "to fight the devil."

He had a love for the Church and the saints. "To criticize the Church means to criticize ourselves," he said, because "the Church is the dispenser of treasures for our salvation."

He had a vibrant charity. He stuck up for classmates being bullied, invited to his home kids who were suffering because of their parents' divorce or domestic problems, tutored classmates who were struggling with homework or computer problems, patiently rescued friends experimenting with drugs, spent time with the elderly helping them with tasks, brought warm drinks and food to the homeless and used his allowance to buy them sleeping bags or warm clothes. "Life is a gift," he said, "because as long as we are on earth, we can increase our level of love."

His greatest charity was to try to share the faith. From the time he was 11, he taught catechism and sought to inspire younger kids to choose to strive for sanctity. To make the faith practical, he made a "Holiness Kit" for them that involved nine steps that he himself practiced: to love God with all your heart, each day to try to go to Mass and receive Communion, pray the Rosary, read a passage of sacred Scripture, make a visit to Jesus in the tabernacle each day, to go to confession once a week, to help others as often as you can, and to rely on your guardian angel as your best friend.

He attracted people to the faith more by his example and friendship than by words. Mission simply means the Church's engagement to bring about the Kingdom of God through a simple life of prayer, service, and charity.

Doesn't our parish and the people around us today need a joyful witness of power of God's love? Doesn't it need more young, old men, and women who, by their life and work, are able to sow the seeds of peace and fraternity? Doesn't our school and our children need a role model to live a happy and meaningful life?

Today, in this moment, God is calling us to be His messengers and an extension of his love and peace, which we all need. He calls us to be one, big, loving and united family, to show hope to people who are hopeless, to show love to people who don't know how to love, and to welcome everyone with open arms welcoming them into our family.

Carlo's life was very generous, offered as a gift to God. What determination and commitment on the part of such a young man! He had heart and love, and with that love he reached out to everyone to let them know that Jesus loves them immensely. He indeed is a light that is lit for all to see and glorify God. Looking at him, we can also be inspired to be little lights that dispel the darkness of our times. With Carlo as a guide and patron, we too can strive to be genuine followers of Christ, stand for His Church and the Gospel, aiming for holiness. We too can be the light of truth that must be upheld by us in our homes, in the Church, in our school and in the world, living with true conviction of faith and love.

Why do I think Blessed Carlo should be our patron and our guide? Because his spirituality is appealing and his holiness does not consist in extraordinary things, but in doing simple daily activities in the best possible way. He gives us an example of prayer and a deep devotion to the Blessed Sacrament. He shows us concern for people, and a huge desire to evangelize the whole world with modern technology and media. I am sure that his life and witness will inspire young people to follow Jesus and spread His gospel. Yours in Christ, Rev. Tomasz Wojciechowski, C.R., Pastor
