Twelfth Sunday in Ordinary Time
June 25, 2023

JER 20:10-13; PS 69:8-10, 14, 17, 33-35; ROM 5:12-15; MT 10:26-33

Today's readings call us to tackle the challenging issues of fear and trust — two concepts that must be confronted and dealt with by all of us who wish to live the stewardship way of life.

The Lord knows that facing down our fears and choosing to trust Him with all areas of our lives is an ongoing challenge for us. He is generous with reassurances to us throughout the Scriptures. Today's Gospel passage from Matthew is a case in point. In the span of eight verses, Jesus addresses the topic of fear four times.

- “Fear no one.”
- “Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul.”
- “Rather, be afraid of the one who can destroy both soul and body.”
- “So do not be afraid.”

And the reassurance continues. “Are not two sparrows sold for a small coin? Yet not one of them falls to the ground without your Father's knowledge. Even all the hairs of your head are counted.” Notice that Jesus says, “your Father” in describing God's intimate knowledge and tender care for each one of us. He is truly “Abba,” our Dad, Who knows us inside and out.

With that, let us all breathe a huge sigh of relief. All is well. Our Father knows us through and through, sent His Son to save us, and will always take care of us.

Let's stop wasting any more time with fear. Instead, let's put all our energy, all our time, our talents, and our treasure into trusting this great and loving God, using all that we are and all that He has given us to bring Him glory.

Miracle of the Corporals

Starting in the 8th century, Muslims (known then as Moors) conquered and maintained control over nearly the entire Iberian Peninsula. Eventually, after centuries of resistance and fighting that failed to regain substantial ground, Christian armies rallied to reconquer the lost territory.

On February 23, 1239, Christian troops from Daroca, Teruel, and Calatayud (in eastern Spain) prepared on Mount Codol to retake the castle of Chio (under Muslim control), south of Valencia.

Moments before the battle, the chaplain from Daroca was celebrating Mass, during which he consecrated six hosts to be received at Communion by the six captains of the troops. However, a surprise attack by the enemy forced him to cut the Mass short. The chaplain escaped, running away with the consecrated hosts wrapped in corporals, which he then hid on the mountain.

When the Christian forces had won the skirmish and the immediate danger was past, the commanders wanted to thank the Lord, and asked the priest to give them Communion. When the chaplain went to find the Blessed Sacrament where he had hidden it, he discovered that the six hosts were saturated with blood and were stuck to the corporals.

Upon seeing the miracle, the commanders took it as a sign from Jesus that they would be the victors in this battle. They had the priest lead the charge, raising up as their standard the corporals with the bloodied hosts. The Moors were thoroughly defeated.

After the battle, the Christian forces began to argue about which of the cities would have the honor of conserving the corporals. It was decided that they would place the corporals on the back of a mule and let the animal wander without a fixed destination. The mule traveled for 12 days, until it dropped dead in front of the Church of St. Mark (now the Church of the Trinity), in the city of Daroca. The corporals were kept in that church until they were transferred to the Church of St. Mary.

According to the legend, during the mule's journey from Luchente to Daroca a series of prodigious events happened: when the animal passed by the town of Játiva, a choir of heavenly voices was heard. As it passed near Alcira, a woman possessed by the devil was freed from his power, and when the mule with the hosts passed Jérica, two thieves, who were at the point of killing a merchant, repented, and returned to him all the goods they had stolen.

This miracle is well known in much of the world, and the blood on the corporals has been scientifically analyzed and proven to be of human origin.

A church was built in Daroca specially to house the Holy Corporals: The Church of St. Mary Colegiata, where the city celebrates its Eucharistic feast day with extraordinary solemnity. The Holy Corporals are carried around the city walls and shown to the pilgrims who gather with devotion to remember this prodigious Eucharistic miracle
