If one asks: "How am I to become humble?" The immediate answer is "by the grace of God," and that is indeed the truth. Only the grace of God can give us the insight into our own condition and realization of His exaltation that make for humility. But even though it be a grace, it is a grace with which we must cooperate.

The first thing to do is to ask in prayer for the grace of humility and to ask sincerely. The second thing is to accept humiliations when they come our way; but, let us never forget that there is an enormous difference between being humble and being humiliated. The next thing is to accept as lovingly as we can our own limitations, our own defects, our own lowliness; and even to be resigned—if we cannot be glad—when these shortcomings become known to others. Human nature being what it is, all this is not easy; in fact without confidence in God, it is morally impossible.

Confidence and humility always go together... His hope is placed in God. He sees no hope in himself... All that matters is that God should get His way... because he knows his sufficiency is from God. He knows his life is a partnership [and] he trusts with unshaken confidence in God.

— Fr Eugene Boylan, O.C.R. (+1964)

PATRIOT DAY - 911

Three months after the September 11, 2001, attack on the United States, President George W. Bush signed into law a bill designating September 11 as Patriot Day.

Not to be confused with Patriots' Day, an April holiday in some New England states celebrating the first shots fired at Lexington and Concord, Patriot Day honors the nearly three thousand people who lost their lives on the morning of September 11, 2001.

Flags are flown at half-staff throughout the country, and a moment of silence is observed at 8:46 am Eastern time, the minute the first plane struck the North Tower of the World Trade Center in New York.

While Memorial Day and similar state observances honor those who have given their lives in service to their country, Patriot Day is unique in that it honors first responders, as well as the many civilians who died on that day.
