"And then they will see 'the Son of Man coming in the clouds' with great power and glory." - Mark 13:26

We will all have that day when we are standing before God and our life is played out like a movie. When this happens and God asks each of us, "What have you done with the gifts that I have given you?" How will you respond? The good news – it is never too late to live and grateful and generous lifestyle.

FATHER RANDY WRITES . . .

"He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead."
- Nicene Creed

There is something within us that resists the second coming of Christ and in particular the teaching of Christ the judge. We easily tell the story of the first coming of Christ, namely the baby in the manger, the shepherds and the star in the sky that led the wise men. Yet, we greatly resist the thought of the second coming and the images of ". . . the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will be falling from the sky and the powers in the heavens will be shaken."

What is it that resists the thought of our own mortality and the coming of Christ to judge the living and the dead?

We would do well to ponder our own mortality and as the psalmist offers:

"Lord, teach us to number our days that we may gain a heart of wisdom." - Psalm 90:12

Saint Francis de Sales offers the following meditation on your own personal death.

- Imagine yourself on your deathbed. The day of your death, will it be summer or winter, in the town or country, by day or night, suddenly or with warning; due to sickness or accident; will you have time to make a Confession or not?
- The world is at an end for you and all pleasures, joys, vanities, and empty delights will be a fantasy to you.
- Your soul will say farewell to this world, to riches, pleasures, and idle companions, to amusements, to friends and neighbors, to family and to its own body.
- Consider how others will remember you for a brief time after your death and then say "God rest his soul!"
- Consider how when a soul leaves the body it goes to the left or the right; to which way will your soul go?

Thomas Kempis, in the Imitation of Christ instructs:

"Every action of yours, every thought, should be those of one who expects to die before the day is out. Death would have no great terrors for you if you had a quiet conscience . . . Then why not keep clear of sin instead of running away from death? If you are not fit to face death today, it is very unlikely you will be tomorrow."

Jesus ends this teaching on the second coming with the words: "What I say to you, I say to all: keep watch."

Peace, Father Randy

ADVENT CANDLE LIGHTING

If you or your family would like to light an Advent candle at one of the weekend Masses during the Advent season, sign-up in the sacristy.

COLLEGE OUTREACH

Parents, we miss your college students! For many years the parish has mailed care packages to the diocesan seminarians and our college students who are living away from Saint Dennis. We cancelled last year because of COVID. We would like to let the college students know we are thinking of them and praying for them. Rather than cookie packages we will be sending Christmas cards and include a gift card.

Contact the Parish Office at 246-5124 or email Jacque at jchilds@stdennisparish.org with the student's name and complete address. Suggestions for what type of gift card would be helpful too. We are thinking Starbucks or Subway. Due date is Tuesday, November 23.

If anyone would like to donate toward this project, you can put your donation in an envelope and mark it "College Outreach." Drop in the offertory basket. Thank you.

CARE FOR CREATION

Winter Came Early

Be Salt Wise This Winter. We rely on salt to keep our roads, sidewalks, and driveways safe in the winter, but using more salt than is needed comes with a heavy price. In Wisconsin and much of the United States, chloride from salt is infiltrating our lakes, streams and groundwater. It only takes one teaspoon of salt to permanently pollute five gallons of water to a level that is toxic for freshwater ecosystems. But we can help protect our waters and still keep sidewalks and driveways safe this winter. Just follow these simple steps:

1. Shovel: Clear walkways and other areas before the snow turns to ice. The more snow you remove manually, the less salt you will have to use and the more effective it will be.
2. Scatter: If you use salt, scatter it so that there is space between the grains. Believe it or not, a 12-ounce coffee mug of salt is enough to treat an entire 20-foot driveway or 10 sidewalk squares.
3. Switch: When pavement temperatures drop below 15 degrees, salt will not work. Switch to sand for traction or use a different ice melter that works at lower temperatures. Calcium chloride, for example, is effective at temperatures down to minus 20 degrees, and is less harmful to vegetation. Another alternative to salt is calcium magnesium acetate, a salt-free product that works down to 20 degrees F.
4. Select a Certified Contractor: If you use a contractor for snow and ice control, check to see if your contractor is already certified through the Winter Salt Certification Program. If not, encourage them to become certified and to follow locally developed application rates.
5. Store Correctly: Store ice melting products in airtight containers to maintain maximum effectiveness.

Finally, remember when dealing with snow and ice removal to wear shoes or boots with good traction so you can walk safely. And be sure to wipe off your pet's paws and underside when it comes in from being outside.

WE ARE A WORK IN PROGRESS

Every human being asks and answers a very important existential question. What happens to us when we die? The answer we provide will determine how we chart the course of our existence. It will also determine whether the Second Coming of Christ will be of any concern to us. For many, life is simply a random occurrence with no significant intention or meaning about it. For these people, their eventual death, and the end of the earth as they know it, have little importance beyond their personal consequences. But, for people of faith our natural death and the Second Coming of Christ have huge implications. It is to these things that our faith speaks volumes and can bring a keen understanding and direction that the secular world simply cannot provide. This is where the call to vigilance and the primordial virtues of faith, hope, and love become useful and meaningful. We are works in progress who can either resist the inspirations of the Divine Artist or give into the wonderful surprising creativity of his will.

THIRTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“And then they will see ‘the Son of Man coming in the clouds’ with great power and glory.” Take a moment to ponder these words from today’s Gospel. How does this image make you feel? For people to truly understand the significance of this message, something profound has to happen within. If we find ourselves reacting with a sense of dread or fear, we have to step back and ask why. Our answer will reveal a great deal about our relationship with God. It is hard to fall in love with a God of whom we are afraid. God does not want us to be afraid. Nor does He want us to align our wills to His in order to avoid some kind of horrendous eternal consequence. That sounds like too much of a superficial power play on the part of God who continues to seek out His children in love.

In order for these words to carry any type of significant meaning for us, they have to resonate with and touch us on a deeper level. They have to be able to connect some dots and have meaning for us in order for this promise to change our lives. Sometimes we get preoccupied with the uncertainty of our deaths. Not knowing when or how we will eventually die can be unsettling. But, more so than needing an answer to the “when” of death, the “what” of death answer we provide has more significance. What happens to us when we die? Whether we die during the natural course of our lives or when Christ comes again, the experience is the same. If we believe that we are meant to live in union with God eternally and that death completes and does not diminish us, then it is worth our time and effort to wait in vigilant hope of the Lord’s coming in glory. Our journey back to God is something beautiful to be desired, not dreaded or feared.

Sadly, many folks believe that life is no more than a random occurrence without any purposeful direction or meaning. Death is simply death and nothing more. For them, the Second Coming of Christ and God’s eternal promise have no meaning. When we understand the truth about who we are, it changes things up. We then can see ourselves as works in progress who have the choice to either resist the inspirations of the Divine Artist or give into the wonderful creativity of His will. Life awaiting the fullness of Christ to come becomes an unfolding of Divine surprises and abundant joy. God is eternally merciful, forgiving, and welcoming. It is only when we directly reject this gift and turn our backs on Love itself that we have anything to fear.

TEC RETREAT COMING TO SAINT DENNIS

The start date is December 27 from noon on Monday to Wednesday, December 29 at 3:30 p.m. The best Christmas present that you could ever give to yourself or a loved one! TEC (Together Encountering Christ) is centered on the Paschal Mystery of Christ. Our forward thinking Bishop Donald Hying has also centered his “Go Make Disciples” initiative on that same theme. TEC is especially designed to help us grow in our love for Christ and our Holy Catholic Church. It is an amazing experience for the young at heart who are fifteen years of age or older. Regardless of your present walk in our Catholic Faith, you will be rejuvenated. This is also a “shout out” to those of you who have already experienced a TEC retreat and would like to help with this one. Father Randy Timmerman is the spiritual director. Steve Davies is the lay director and can be reached at 608 220-2088 or sdavies@saintchristopherparish.com. Online or paper applications and more information about TEC can be found at madisondiocese.org/tec or contacting Marie Lins at 608-821-3135.
