The Virtue of Patriotism

The Virtue of Justice. To understand patriotism as a virtue, we must look to the broader virtue of piety. Before we can understand piety, we must understand the cardinal virtue of justice. The word “cardinal” comes from the Latin word meaning “hinge.” A cardinal virtue is one upon which all the subordinate virtues hinge. These are prudence, justice, temperance, and fortitude.

Justice exists between beings that can act morally towards one another. It regulates the way that we operate and interact. Justice uses things that exist outside of us to move others to the good. This interaction of seeking justice can take place between individuals or between an individual and his greater community. Generally, all people of good will, motivated by justice, seek the common good of every person. The Christian, of course, knows that the common good must always direct a person or a community to the greatest good: God.

St. Thomas Aquinas defines justice in this way: “the proper act of justice is nothing else than to render to each one his own.” Justice thus requires that all people are treated with equal respect and dignity. Every single person is made in the image and likeness of Almighty God. We are all sinners, and so even the worst sinners, are worthy of being treated justly. Justice dictates that we treat one another in accord with this reality.

The Virtue of Piety. Underneath the umbrella of justice is piety. The gift of the Holy Spirit of piety recognizes our total reliance on God so that we come to him with humility, trust, and love. Piety works in tandem with this gift. St. Thomas Aquinas writes: “it is by piety that we do our duty towards our kindred and well-wishers of our country and render them faithful service.”

Piety recognizes God is the primary source of life and government. We are born into a family, into a society that is governed. Therefore, we know that God sustains the propagation of humans and the rightful authorities that require our obedience. Secondly, we receive our own being from our parents, and we receive government from our country. Aquinas teaches that after God, we owe our lives and well-being to our parents and our country. Therefore, we give honor to our parents, our family, and our country, including our fellow-citizens.

The Virtue of Patriotism. The power of the State is granted by God, but this does not allow the State to make or enforce laws and orders that violate our natural rights. If the State is not infringing upon our natural freedoms, then we are obliged to act in obedience to the legitimate authority.

There can be no patriotism without freedom. Civil allegiance is patriotism combined with obedience. We must be free to give our service to the State, otherwise, we live under oppression. Patriotism means having a reasonable love and esteem for country, observing the laws that are in accord with Catholic social teaching and the doctrines of faith and morals, and being willing to lay down one’s life for country.

Patriotism has a just consciousness of the past and a balanced pride in national identity, not a blind, senseless, and unreasonable form of nationalism that can’t see any past sins, nor is it the other extreme of historical revisionism that sees only the injustice of the past while forgetting the good.

The Gospel of Life

“Having received the gift of the Gospel of Life, we are the people of life and a people for life. It is our duty to proclaim the Gospel of Life to the world. To proclaim Jesus is to proclaim life itself. Gratitude and joy at the incomparable dignity of the human person impel us to bring the Gospel of life to the hearts of all people and make it penetrate every part of society.”

Walking with Moms in Need

"The Catholic Church has a long history of service to those who are most vulnerable and remains the largest private provider of social services in the United States. Through the sacrificial efforts of faithful Catholics, the Church serves millions through diocesan ministries and agencies, Catholic hospitals and healthcare systems, immigration clinics, shelters, and Catholic schools and parishes. From religious communities to pregnancy care centers, from refugee resettlement services to foster care and adoption agencies, and from maternity homes to parish-based ministries, the Church consistently bears witness in word and deed to the beauty and dignity of every human life—including both mother and child."

—USCCB Committee Chairmen, "Standing with Moms in Need"

14° Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

3 de Julio 2022, Año C

“Jesús no quiere obrar solo, vino a traer al mundo el amor de Dios y quiere difundirlo con el estilo de la comunión, con el estilo de la fraternidad. Por ello forma una comunidad de discípulos, que es una comunidad misionera. Inmediatamente los entrena para la misión, para ir. La finalidad es anunciar el Reino de Dios, ¡y esto es urgente! También hoy es urgente” (Papa Francisco). Que importante noticia anuncia Jesús en su tiempo y hoy. Compartir la Buena Nueva a pesar de los tiempos que estamos viviendo. Llevar la alegría a la familia y amigos cercanos de que Jesús está entre nosotros. Y nos envía a la misión como nos lo indica el Papa Francisco.

Ir en misión no es cosa de una sola persona, es cuestión de dos en dos. “Después de esto, el Señor eligió a otros setenta y dos discípulos y los envió de dos en dos, delante de él, a todas las ciudades y lugares a donde debía ir él” (Lucas 120,1-2). Hay mucho trabajo por hacer, y espero que ustedes hayan sido elegidos para la misión del Sínodo. Cada diócesis tiene la responsabilidad de preparar sus misioneros. Y estos, a la vez, de compartir la alegría del Reino. Se debe de compartir la felicidad, de saber que tenemos vida y salud y que nuestro nombre forma parte de la historia de salvación. “Alégrense no porque los espíritus se someten a ustedes, sino más bien porque sus nombres están escritos en los cielos” (Lucas 10,20).

Caminando con Mamás en Necesidad

“La Iglesia Católica tiene una larga historia de servicio a los más vulnerables y sigue siendo el mayor proveedor privado de servicios sociales en los Estados Unidos. A través de los esfuerzos sacrificados de fieles católicos, la Iglesia sirve a millones a través de ministerios y agencias diocesanas, hospitales católicos y sistemas de atención médica, clínicas de inmigración, refugios y escuelas y parroquias católicas. Desde las comunidades religiosas hasta los centros de atención de embarazos, desde los servicios de reasentamiento de refugiados hasta las agencias de adopción y hogares de acogida, y desde los hogares de maternidad hasta los ministerios parroquiales, la Iglesia constantemente da testimonio de palabra y obra de la belleza y la dignidad de cada vida humana, incluidas ambas madre e hijo.” —Presidentes del Comité de la USCCB, “De pie con las mamás en necesidad”.

Como se mencionó anteriormente este año, nuestra parroquia ha comenzado la planificación inicial para un grupo de Caminando con Mamás en Necesidad para ayudar a mujeres embarazadas en nuestra comunidad. ¿Interesado en ayudar?
