Saint of the week

Servant of God Walter Ciszek was a Jesuit priest and theologian who spent 23 years as a prisoner of war during the World War II and the Cold War. His endurance of suffering for his beliefs and his writings reminds us of the importance of religious freedom and the power of faith.

Novena Week 5

REFLECTION:

Controlled chaos. Deafening silence. Bittersweet.

Oxymorons like these are an amusing part of speech. They place together words that, at first glance, appear to be at odds with one another. Yet in context, they often make sense and even bring about greater clarity when dealing with the nuances of life.

The Church, in her wisdom, gives us two seemingly contradictory terms to explain the primacy of the Eucharist: source and summit. "The Eucharist is 'the source and summit of the Christian life.' The other sacraments, and indeed all ecclesiastical ministries and works of the apostolate, are bound up with the Eucharist and are oriented toward it" (CCC 1324).

Let's dive a bit deeper into what is meant by "source and summit."

The Eucharist is the source of our Christian life.

In the Old Testament, God gave the Israelites a sweet bread called manna to sustain them while they journeyed toward the Promised Land. In the New Testament, Jesus miraculously multiplied bread to temporarily satiate the hunger of thousands. But, before his Passion and Death, Christ gave his very self by becoming bread to sustain us with his everlasting presence.

To use an analogy, just as a television can only operate properly when plugged into an electrical socket, Christians only function properly when they are connected to the Living God. God becomes our food, the power source for the human soul. When you have a source of life, you can be a source of life.

The Eucharist is also the summit of our Christian life.

The Eucharist is the pinnacle of our faith. There is no act of worship that is perfect or pleasing to the Father except for the obedience Christ offers to him, shown in its full glory through his Paschal Mystery. We have been given the chance to share in this worship through our participation in the Eucharistic Sacrifice. Christ in the Blessed Sacrament is a foretaste of our heavenly worship and our eternal reward. Christ's True Presence in the Eucharist allows us the opportunity to encounter this reality daily.

Sadly, we can forget about the primacy of the Eucharist by mistaking it for merely a symbol or reducing it to just another religious ritual. This can make us miss out on all the transformative graces available to us in the Blessed Sacrament. If we truly desire revival, we must desire a renewed encounter with Jesus. Luckily for us, God makes himself incredibly accessible to those who long for him.

A miracle transpires at every liturgy. Through transubstantiation, God dwells with us in the form of bread and wine. Though our five senses cannot detect a change in the substances, the eyes of faith reveal that Christ is truly present, Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity. For this reason, the Eucharist is the fount and apex—the source and summit—of every grace and blessing because the Eucharist is Christ, our Pasch.

In the sacrifice of the Mass, God offers us a chance to participate in divine communion, sharing his own life with us. In the Eucharist we are offered a chance for a deep and personal encounter with Jesus, who is both the foundation of our faith as well as the height of it. That may seem like a contradiction, but it is a consistent truth. Today, let us not miss the love that awaits us in the Blessed Sacrament.

PRAYER:

Jesus, we thank you for your great gift of yourself in the Eucharist. Please give us the grace to believe in your True Presence when our human senses fail. We desire the eyes of faith because we believe you are the spring of every good thing. Nothing is better than you. Allow us to be good and pure vessels, ready to partake and receive you in the Blessed Sacrament. We believe; help our unbelief. Amen.

CHALLENGE:

Visit Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament. If you have access to an adoration chapel, or even if it's a visit to your church where Jesus is present in the Tabernacle, go and make an act of faith. You could pray, "Jesus, I believe that you are present here with me, Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity. I pray for our Church, that all may come to believe in your Real Presence here."

Reflections & Questions

NATIONAL Eucharistic Revival

Waiting, Waiting, and Waiting

The word advent means coming, and is the name given to this pre-Christmas season of anticipation and reflection. It encapsulates three profound meanings that shape the essence of our Christian faith. Firstly, Advent serves as a poignant reminder of the faithful's anticipation of Christ's second coming. It beckons believers to cultivate a spirit of vigilance and preparedness, echoing Christ's own words in the Gospels that exhort followers to be watchful for the unknown hour of His return. This aspect of Advent invites a contemplative examination of one's life and the alignment of actions with the teachings of Christ.

Secondly, Advent heralds the eagerly awaited celebration of the first coming of Christ, culminating in the joyous event of Christmas. Beyond the commercial glitter, Advent invites believers to journey through the prophetic promises, the silent longing of the Old Testament, and the miraculous fulfillment in the birth of Jesus. The liturgical season provides a space for spiritual preparation, allowing individuals to delve into the significance of the Incarnation and to rejoice in the profound mystery of Emmanuel, "God with us."

Lastly, Advent encapsulates the anticipation of the coming of Christ in the Eucharist at every Mass. This sacramental dimension of Advent underscores the belief in the real presence of Christ in the consecrated elements, inviting the faithful to approach the altar with reverence and awe. This continual expectation of encountering Christ in the Eucharist serves as spiritual nourishment, fostering a deeper communion with the divine and reinforcing the notion of Christ's abiding presence in the lives of believers.

During Advent we are a people who wait: wait for Christ's second coming, wait to celebrate his first coming at Christmas, and wait for him to come to us in the Eucharist at every Mass. Together, these three dimensions weave a tapestry of anticipation, hope, and spiritual preparation that enrich the Christian journey during this sacred season.

Columbus Pro-Life Club The Pro-Life Club is a new student-led group at Columbus High School. It is hoping to make a difference in the Post-Roe vs. Wade Generation. From December 1-15 we will be collecting items such as nursing pads, infant and toddler toys, toddler clothes, and more to be donated to the First Choice Pregnancy Center in Stevens Point. There are boxes located in each church in the Marshfield Deanery with a complete list of items you can donate. If you are unable to provide items at this time we ask that you offer a prayer for all of the aborted babies, the unborn, and all mothers contemplating abortion that God may change their hearts and show them the beauty of motherhood. Thank you for your support—Columbus High School Pro-Life Club.

Sacred Heart Hall Update Currently, the masonry, the interior wall painting, and the staining of the windows has been completed; the tile in the restrooms, the soffit & fascia, the aluminum entrances, and the kitchen upper cabinets have been installed. The installation of the kitchen base cabinets and countertops, light fixtures, and gas service has begun and is near completion. Later this week, plumbing in the kitchen and restrooms, and sheetrock texturing and painting in the connecting corridor will begin along with the installation of acoustical tile; wooden doors, frames, and hardware; and toilet partitions and accessories.

Calendars Today, calendars will be blessed at Mass and distributed. During the distribution, The Announcement of Easter and the Moveable Feasts of the Year will be chanted. While this ancient proclamation traditionally happens on Epiphany, it seems more fitting for us to do it as we begin the new liturgical year to coincide with our calendar blessing and distribution.

Toys for Tots The last day to drop off toys will be this Tuesday, December 5, at Melody Gardens or any other Toys for Tots drop off location.
