New! Adult Faith Formation Quads

This year OLQH will be doing things a little differently when it comes to Adult Faith Formation. We are turning towards creating small groups rather than large groups. A quad is a group of four people who journey together as disciples through weekly gatherings of fellowship, ongoing conversion, and learning. This 12-month path of accompaniment fosters growth through prayer, accountability, and authentic relationships. Each quad, with the help of the Director of Religious Education, chooses the topic they wish to study. If you are interested in joining a quad, please contact Rebecca at rzalar@our-lady.org or 715-423-125. Quads will officially begin in September.

CALAVARY CATHOLIC CEMETERY LANDSCAPING

We are beautifying the area around the Calvary Cemetery "Good Shepherd" Mausoleum. We are looking to plant three or four more trees on all sides of the mausoleum, along with 3 to 4 concrete benches. Would you like to help? We are purchasing about $500.00 worth of shrubs. Each shrub is about $25.00, and that is half-price at this time of the year. The trees are $500.00 plus $200.00 to transplant, as they are larger trees. These will be placed this fall when it is the best time to transplant. The three concrete benches are about $900.00 each and they will be placed on three sides of the mausoleum. As of right now two trees are spoken for along with one bench and a portion of another. Can you help defer or purchase outright a tree, bench or some of the shrubs. Let Deacon Tom know by calling 715-421-0863, and God Bless you.

The Spiritual Poverty of our Time

If Catholicism is true, that means a lot of other stuff is false. Relativism is the belief that there is no truth, as if Catholicism, Buddhism, Protestantism, Wicken, and any other religion were equal because different people prefer them. The problem with this belief is the existence of the martyrs: if all religions were equally valid, then why would anyone choose one that demanded hardship? Why would anyone die for their faith if there were easier faiths? Indeed, such questions clearly show that relativism is insane. Our preference for something does not make something true. Either Jesus rose from the dead or he did not. Either the Eucharist is Jesus or not. Either Jesus is the one true God or he is not. Either abortion is evil or it is not. Catholicism never chose these doctrines because people liked them; it chose them because they are true.

Relativism is a great ailment, "the spiritual poverty of our time," as Pope Francis has said. It gets its support from the promise of promoting harmony, as if everyone will get along better if everyone is somehow "right." But what ends up happening is that everyone is just equally wrong: there are no morals and no truths. Vague religion and spirituality essentially means whatever anyone wants it to mean, and that frequently translates to some individual thinking himself more enlightened than thousands of martyrs and deep spiritual thinkers who lived and died under the commands and unique lordship of Christ. We tend to not do this leap of self-faith with science and other things that are complicated, but when it comes to the delicate eternal realities of the soul, many are surprisingly ready to jump.

Online, I see this relativistic sentiment most prevalent online cleverly disguised: "Religion is a guy in a church thinking about fishing. Relationship is a guy out fishing thinking about God." The problem with this saying is that it assumes religion is not a relationship. Couples understand this: there are rules to love. A man cannot just love a woman how he wants, but how she wants, and vice versa. Chores need to be done, bills are paid, and diapers need to be changed. If selfish passions just dominated the day, there would be no house to live in! The same is true with God, and there are rules to love, and it is "Thy will be done." Hell is "my will be done" and it is lonely. Therefore, when helping people struggling with relativism, we must communicate that loving God is on his terms, not ours. Religion is a relationship, and relationships are not simply about preference, but they are about "Thy will be done."

Stay close to Him, Fr. Weller
