PASTORAL THOUGHTS...

What is the Rite of Sending, Election, and Call to Continuing Conversion?

Depending on your location in the world, Catholic bishops, on a Sunday during Lent, gather those sent by the parish along with their godparents and sponsors for the Rite of Election and the Call to Continuing Conversion. The Rite of Sending, celebrated during Mass in the home parish, provides the parish community an opportunity to recognize the spiritual growth that catechumens and candidates have achieved, express their support for their election or recognition, and send them forth to the bishop with the assurance of the parish's care and backing. To send a catechumen or candidate to the bishop signifies that the parish has discerned the individual is ready to enter the Catholic Church.

In Sacred Scripture, the Book of Revelation speaks of a Book of Life, which contains the names of those who have chosen to follow the Lord Jesus and receive Baptism. Those who are already baptized, whether as Catholics or in other denominations, had their names inscribed in the Book of Life at the time of their Baptism. During this Rite, those preparing for Baptism are invited to approach and sign a book known as the Book of the Elect, symbolizing their desire to be counted among God's chosen people.

This Rite signifies a pivotal moment for the catechumens, marking their calling by Christ and affirming that only those mystically united with Him will enter Heaven. Throughout the Order of Christian Initiation of Adults (OCIA) process, catechumens are encouraged to engage with the parish community. The community, accompanied by godparents representing the parish, will enthusiastically recognize the participant's readiness. It is fitting for the bishop to acknowledge them, as he embodies the unity of the particular Church, and it is the parish community's duty to guide those in OCIA into the fullness of Church life. The godparents provide public testimony regarding the catechumens, highlighting their important role as representatives of the community. During this Rite, they are called to make significant affirmations about the catechumens. The decision of an OCIA participant to proceed through this Rite indicates that the judgment and decision-making regarding their entry into the Catholic Church—both by the catechumen and the parish—has concluded. From this point forward, they are no longer referred to as catechumens but are designated as the "elect." They have been chosen to enter the final phase of preparation for initiation, called by the bishop, their shepherd, to the holy mysteries to be celebrated during Easter.

For all who have been baptized, the profound reality of being chosen and claimed by Christ was established at their Baptism. As a result, the Rite of Election is not applicable to them, as they are already counted among the elect in Christ. Instead, the candidates are called to a process of ongoing conversion, and their intention to be fully initiated and partake in the Eucharist is acknowledged. This Rite is also conducted before the bishop, typically as part of the same liturgical event as the Rite of Election. With their sponsors by their side, the candidates are addressed by the bishop. In this way, together with the elect, the candidates are ushered into a period of intensive spiritual preparation.
