GOSPEL MEDITATION

December 26, 2021
The Holy Family of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph

Families can be very difficult things to negotiate. This is true not only of our families of origin, the current family of which we are a part, the family of our Church, our society, and our global family as well. Everything human can be found in family stories. Those stories speak of wonderful life-giving successes as well as painful spirit-robbing abuses. Our greatest joys and our greatest wounds are usually connected with the experience of family. Our needs, experiences, and unresolved baggage often color what we bring to our familiar relationships. They contribute to our level of defensiveness, how guarded and protected we become, and what prejudices we believe.

In order to break the cycle of dysfunction we have to remember that it is not only by human effort that we negotiate the difficult and challenging events of our lives. There is a Divine Effort at work as well. For sure, the human effort can create quite a mess and easily destroy lives. This is true of any family with which we are associated. Today's Feast of the Holy Family serves to help us understand that there is a Divine Story being told as well. It is a story of perseverance in the face of hardship, determination in the face of despair, healing when we see nothing but wounds, and light where there is darkness.

Do we believe that God is always working, guiding, restoring, and leading? Unless we do, we will never be free from the imperfections and wounds that bind us and never be able to understand what it really means to forgive. Pope Francis tells us that the "light which comes from the Holy Family encourages us to offer human warmth to other families." While this is most certainly true, we can only really begin to do this when we realize that we are still works in progress, not anchored to the wounds and sins of our past, and still a leading star in God's continually unfolding story of love.

The Holy Family persevered and radiated warmth because they knew they were not alone. We can too.

A reflection on Psalm 72 in The Word Among Us some years ago began with the question, “Are we there yet?”, and continued, “This question, which is a favorite of young children enduring a long journey, is just as appropriate for us as we look at the world around us. Will we ever reach the destination

God has promised throughout Scripture .....

Appropriately, just a day after Christmas, we could ask ourselves a similar question, “Did we get there?” Was the Advent season and Christmas all we hoped they would be? Perhaps the answer lies in whether we find ourselves in a closer relationship with the One whose birth we celebrated or if we feel distant due to the many distractions, the “King Herod’s,” that tended to eliminate Baby Jesus from being all that He wanted to be for us during this special time.

Sadly, too often, the final experience ends up falling short of our expectations. But let us not lose hope, let’s learn from this experience and be more aware of the “King Herod’s” that try to eliminate Christ from our lives, not only during this special time of the year, but every day of our lives.

Call to mind the words of Sir Winston Churchill to the people of England during the dark days of World War II, “Never give up, never give up;” this encouragement can apply to our faith journey as well. Accept that setbacks are part of the “learning curve;” “Are we there yet?” probably not.

But let’s not be too hard on ourselves by remembering we are continually “under construction,” and will continue to be until the Lord takes us from this life.

If we do feel closer to the Lord, strive to continue to do whatever it was that brought us there; if not, let’s see what we may have learned from our setbacks and make the necessary changes. May we persevere as we continue our journey.

“We are not called to be successful, we are called to be faithful.”

KEEP THE FAITH

COMING BACK TO CHURCH

Question:

I have been away from the Church for a few years and really want to get active again, not so much for me, but for my children. Is this a bad reason to come back to Church?

Answer:

If you are on your way to the supermarket, and you are forced to detour from your usual route because of road work, does the food you buy taste different? Is the meal less filling? Are the vegetables less tasty? Of course not. In our faith journey, there are many detours called sin. Some are greater than others, some are even a bit longer. But God’s grace comes to us in ways we understand and recognize and need. Your children leading you back to the Church is not as important as the fact that you are back. This is an opportunity for you to renew, strengthen, and deepen your faith. Regardless of how we get to Church, or what draws us closer to God, the fact is we are there.

Do what you need to do to get right with God and the Church. Go to confession, begin good family religious practices, and be involved in the ministries your parish offers. Be more than a lukewarm parishioner. Be the kind of Catholic you want your children to be.
