From the Pastor

It seems that our season of Christmas is on a very high speed this year! This Sunday we celebrate the Epiphany of the Lord already. And on Monday we celebrate the feast of the Baptism of the Lord!! With the holy days (Christmas and Solemnity of Mary) happening on Mondays this year it somewhat played a game with the calendar. One of the questions for mental health is to know what day it is and what year we are living in and where we are – basics, like here and now. We can get disoriented with the important days running so closely together.

Epiphany means manifestation, and this Sunday we celebrate how Jesus manifested himself to the magi, the three kings, who were Gentiles. He really manifested himself to all of us, and we highlight the three kings as a symbol for everyone.

Different cultures have unique ways of celebrating the visit of the 3 kings. The Navy assigned me to Puerto Rico for two years, and I learned how they celebrate this feast. The 3 Kings bring presents to the children. Lucky kids get presents from Santa and the Kings! The adults visit friends and relatives in the evenings and long into the nights! They form what looks like a parade as they travel from house to house. They bring instruments and sing and party – then they travel to the next house. Interesting also is many of the small towns have a patron saint, and on his or her feast day there is a celebration for the community.

It seems like it would be a Catholic country, but it is a dangerous country. The priest I was assigned with got mugged one Sunday evening in his neighborhood, and the Navy system for liberty is 3 people at a time instead of only two.

Some communities have the custom of blessing their homes on the feast of the Epiphany, and then they mark the year and the first initial of the 3 kings, and they place this over the front door. It would look like this: 20+C+B+M+24.

I would like to leave the Christmas decorations up until Ash Wednesday. The liturgists would not like this. There is a saying that the difference between a liturgist and a terrorist is you can negotiate with a terrorist!

God Bless Those Serving Our Country.

Anthony Vahling, Cody Bushue, Shawn Zerrusen, Ali Kingery, Andrew Simmons, Jesse Koester, Justis Coventry, Braydan Bushue, Mallory Stone, Paul Schumacher, Damon Sabo.
