Meet Jake Barajas

Hello. My name is Jake Barajas. I’m from Dyer, IN and I’m a recent college graduate from IU Bloomington. I am speaking at all of the Masses this weekend about my upcoming endeavor to work as a college campus missionary with FOCUS (Fellowship of Catholic University Students). God has called me to serve college students at the University of California, Berkeley.

My desire is that the students I meet on campus can have their lives transformed by the overwhelming love that is found through a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. I look forward to sharing with you more about the mission and this incredible organization.

If you like to set up a time to meet and learn more, you could email me at jacob.barajas@focus.org or call 219-743-1956. I would love to meet you and explain the program to you.

“Take care to guard against all greed, for though one may be rich, one’s life does not consist of possessions.” - Luke 12:15

The Gospel message today is contrary to our modern culture where advertising continually tries to convince us that our value lies in the things we possess. Jesus showed us that our true value lies in the way we live our lives.

He challenges us to not hoard material possessions, but rather to live a grateful and generous lifestyle and become more “other-centered” and less “self-centered.”
Eighteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

The cake is frosted, the guests have arrived, and the gifts are piled high. One by one, the packages are opened, and one by one, the child reaches for another. Who among us hasn’t seen a child who appears crestfallen when the gifts run out? Even the abundance isn’t quite enough. Today’s Gospel tackles a key question in the spiritual life: "rich in what matters to God.”

Jesus doesn’t condemn prudent saving or owning necessary items. He calls God’s People to get rid of our greed. "One’s life does not consist of possessions." We are called to be good stewards. This means being practical. It also means remaining open to God’s invitation with our resources. Are we tithing to our parish? Do we give to the poor? No. "You have so many good things stored up for many years, rest, eat, drink, be merry!" The man wants to hoard and indulge with no concern for others. Jesus doesn’t condemn prudent saving or owning necessary items. He calls us to purify our attitudes. "Guard against all greed... one’s life does not consist of possessions." We are called to be good stewards.

Do you love working with children? Are you a practicing Catholic? Do you have a Bachelor’s degree? Are you interested in sharing your passion for music or your expertise in computer technology? Please consider a vocation in education.

St. Thomas More School is looking to fill part-time positions:

MAKE TODAY YOUR FAVORITE DAY

There are some people who never seem to be happy with the day given to them. They find a million reasons to grumble and complain. However, the day is a gift, pure and simple. We need to learn to appreciate each day for the gift it is.

I know that is a balancing act for many of us. I, myself, find it hard to be positive all the time. Sometimes, I wake up with my head pounding from a sinus headache or eyes itching horribly from allergies. Sometimes, I wake up and think about the day ahead and dread having to take care of certain matters. Sometimes, our lives can be a real chore.

However, the day, in and of itself, is a gift and we need to embrace it for that. I often joke with people as they come in for Mass. When they ask how I am, I tell them that I can’t complain because it wouldn’t do any good if I did. I tell them I can’t complain because I woke up on the right side of the grass. I tell them I can’t complain because even though I might think I have it rough, I know others who are facing much worse challenges.

They smile or laugh at our brief exchanges before Mass; but, I hope they also get the point: we can’t have it rough, I know others who are facing much worse challenges. When things are said and done, we can still do any good if I did. I tell them I can’t complain because I woke up on the right side of the grass. I tell them I can’t complain because even though I might think I have it rough, I know others who are facing much worse challenges.

They smile or laugh at our brief exchanges before Mass; but, I hope they also get the point: we can’t complain. When things are said and done, we’ve got it good.

If we could adopt the simple attitude of Pooh by saying “Today is my favorite day”, we would be able to see the many blessings that await us. Attitude does determine how much we see or how much we miss.

If we view our day as a favorite day, we would notice the smiles around us, the invitations extended to us, and the love shared with us. If, on the other hand, we view our day negatively, we will miss the positive and key in on all the negative. We will see suspicion, cruelty, and hatred all the while missing the kindness and love surrounding us.

Do you ever wonder if Jesus had bad days? I’m sure He must have. He is as human as you and me. He probably had sore feet days and sand blowing in the eyes days. Yet, his attitude must have been extremely positive — He must have thought every day was His favorite day — because He always met people with love, care, and concern. He noticed the crippled, the blind, the infirm, and the lepers. He reached out to them in their need and provided for them as He healed them of their infirmities as well as forgave their sins.

God loves us immensely. He provides for us still to this day. He feeds us in the Eucharist. He forgives our sins. How can today not be our favorite day?

FAITH ACTION: Ask God to open your eyes to all the beauty and love that surrounds you.

I thank you God for this most amazing day, for the leaping greenly spirits of trees, and for the blue dream of sky and for everything which is natural, which is infinite, which is yes.

~ e. e. cummings

THE NEXT TIME I COMPLAIN, SLAP ME

You know, I, as a number of fellow priests do, have found myself complaining a lot about “the bishop”, “the Pastoral Center”, and the like through the years. The past month has been a real eye-opener for me. I never truly appreciated the amount of work, the variety of work, and the wishes and demands that went to the Pastoral Center. There are so many things that go into the running of a diocese that, to use a favorite British term, I am simply gobsmacked.

All I can say is, when we receive a new bishop, I am going to view him and his work with an entirely different set of eyes because he’s got a tough job to do.

Kudos, as well, to our diocesan employees who work so hard providing services to parishes, providing support to the priests and deacons, and who often go out of their way in doing so. I have seen employees ignore what they were supposed to be working on in order to provide immediate assistance to someone who needed their help. It didn’t seem matter to them that they were going to have to remain longer in order to get their work complete.

Our diocesan employees really make me feel happy and proud!

FOR YOUR PLANNING

Don’t forget that next week, Thursday, August 15th, is a Holy Day of Obligation. Masses are at 6:30 and 9:00 a.m. as well as 5:00 and 7:00 p.m. The 9:00 a.m. Mass is also an All-School Mass as well as our First Day of School.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE

A man followed a woman out of a movie theatre. She had a dog on a leash. He stopped her and said, “I’m sorry to bother you, but I couldn’t help but notice that your dog was really into the movie. He cried at the right spots, he moved nervously in his seat at the boring parts, but most of all, he laughed like crazy at the funny parts. Did you find that unusual?”

“Yes,” she replied, “and to think I almost didn’t take him. I found his reaction extremely unusual because he hated the book!”
