Vision Statement: "To offer every person in our community a life-changing encounter with Jesus."

POPE FRANCIS

DIVINE LOVE HAS APPEARED

What is the meaning of this light that shone in the darkness? Saint Paul tells us: The grace of God, “bringing salvation to all” (Tit 2:11), has shone on our world this night.

But what is this grace? It is divine love, the love that changes lives, renews history, liberates from evil, fills hearts with peace and joy. Tonight the love of God has been revealed to us: it is Jesus. In Jesus, the Most High made himself tiny, so that we might love him. But we can still ask ourselves: why does Saint Paul describe the coming of God into our world as “grace”? To tell us that it is utterly free. Whereas on earth everything seems to be about giving in order to get, God comes down freely. His love is non-negotiable: we did nothing to deserve it and we will never be able to repay it.

The grace of God has appeared. Tonight we realize that, when we failed to measure up, God became small for our sake; while we were going about our own business, he came into our midst. Christmas reminds us that God continues to love us all, even the worst of us. To me, to you, to each of us, he says today: “I love you and I will always love you, for you are precious in my eyes”.

God does not love you because you think and act the right way. He loves you, plain and simple. His love is unconditional; it does not depend on you. You may have mistaken ideas, you may have made a complete mess of things, but the Lord continues to love you. How often do we think that God is good if we are good and punishes us if we are bad. Yet that is not how he is. For all our sins, he continues to love us. His love does not change. It is not fickle; it is faithful. It is patient. This is the gift we find at Christmas. We discover to our amazement that the Lord is absolute gratuity, absolute tender love. His glory does not overwhelm us; his presence does not terrify us. He is born in utter poverty in order to win our hearts by the wealth of his love.

The grace of God has appeared. Grace is a synonym of beauty. Tonight, in the beauty of God’s love, we also discover our own beauty, for we are beloved of God. For better or worse, in sickness and in health, whether happy or sad, in his eyes we are beautiful, not for what we do but for what we are. Deep within us, there is an indelible and intangible beauty, an irrepressible beauty, which is the core of our being. Today God reminds us of this. He lovingly takes upon himself our humanity and makes it his own, “espousing” it forever.

The “great joy” proclaimed tonight to the shepherds is indeed “for all the people”. We too, with all our weaknesses and failures, are among those shepherds, who were certainly not saints. And just as God called the shepherds, so too he calls us, for he loves us. In the dark night of life, he says to us as he did to them, “Be not afraid!” (Lk 2:10). Take courage, do not lose confidence, do not lose hope, do not think that to love is a waste of time! Tonight love has conquered fear, new hope has arrived, God’s kindly light has overcome the darkness of human arrogance. Mankind, God loves you; for your sake he became man. You are no longer alone!

What are we to do with this grace? Only one thing: accept the gift. Before we go out to seek God, let us allow ourselves to be sought by him. He always seeks us first. Let us not begin with our own abilities but with his grace, for he, Jesus, is the Savior. Let us contemplate the Child and let ourselves be caught up in his tender love. Then we have no further excuse for not letting ourselves be loved by him. Whatever goes wrong in our lives, whatever doesn’t work in the Church, whatever problems there are in the world, will no longer serve as an excuse. It will become secondary, for faced with Jesus’ extravagant love, a love of utter meekness and closeness, we have no excuse. At Christmas, the question is this: “Do I allow myself to be loved by God? Do I abandon myself to his love that comes to save me?”

So great a gift deserves immense gratitude. To accept this grace means being ready to give thanks in return. Often we live our lives with such little gratitude. Today is the right day to draw near to the tabernacle, the crèche, the manger, and to say thank you. Let us receive the gift that is Jesus, in order then to become gift like Jesus. To become gift is to give meaning to life. And it is the best way to change the world: we change, the Church changes, history changes, once we stop trying to change others but try to change ourselves and to make of our life a gift.

Jesus shows this to us tonight. He did not change history by pressuring anyone or by a flood of words, but by the gift of his life. He did not wait until we were good before he loved us, but gave himself freely to us. May we not wait for our neighbors to be good before we do good to them, for the Church to be perfect before we love her, for others to respect us before we serve them. Let us begin with ourselves. This is what it means freely to accept the gift of grace. And holiness is nothing other than preserving this freedom.

If you think your heart is poor in love, this night is for you. The grace of God has appeared, to shine forth in your life. Accept it and the light of Christmas will shine forth in you. —Francis

“The grace of God has appeared”

But what is this grace? It is divine love, the love that changes lives, renews history, liberates from evil, fills hearts with peace and joy.

FROM FATHER ERIC

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

On behalf of Father Peter, Deacon Mark and the staff of Epiphany Parish and School... Merry Christmas! And a Happy New Year!

Christmas and its Octave (the 8 days of celebration) should be a festive time, but we all continue to feel the weight of the pandemic. Here we are with our second Christmas overshadowed a bit. These are things that we will all remember for the rest of our lives, but we all want the pandemic to become soon and very soon a distant memory. In the meantime, let's push forward and celebrate the best we can.

As in every other year, the parish and school staff and I hope that Christmas 2021 finds your family united in health, peace, and filled with the abundant grace of Jesus Christ, the Emmanuel ("God is with us")! It is a hope and a prayer rooted in reality: despite appearances and the circumstances of our risky lives as mortal beings, God does have us in the palm of his hands. Blessed be God!

Celebrating the Nativity of the Lord offers us all the opportunity to contemplate the things that truly matter, beginning with God, family, and friends. We ourselves, led by our parents and other adults in our lives, must make it a season of faith, hope, charity and good will to all, and especially with those who continue to face setbacks or sadness because of the pandemic.

It is my prayer that each of you will have a safe, fun and merry Christmas. We look forward to the day when we will shake off some of the impediments to easy-going rapport, get back together, and move forward with renewed energy and sense of purpose as a parish and school.

May God bless America, our state, and our town!

—Father Eric

Cover: The Heavenly and Earthly Trinities, Bartolomé Esteban Murillo, 1675, The National Gallery, London.

This painting illustrates the belief that Christ was both human and divine: the embodiment of the 'Two Trinities'. At the center of the composition the Christ Child forms part of the Heavenly Trinity with the dove of the Holy Ghost and God the Father above, and part of the Earthly Trinity with his human parents, Mary and Joseph. The scene is not based on a particular biblical event, though a story in the Gospel of Luke echoes its theme. Aged 12, Christ disappeared after a trip to Jerusalem; he was eventually found in the Temple debating with religious scholars. When confronted by his anxious parents Christ spoke simply of his divine mission. Mary gazes lovingly at her son. Joseph looks towards us, inviting us to adore Christ, who stands on a sharp-edged rock.

This is possibly intended to symbolize an altar or may refer to biblical descriptions of Christ as the 'cornerstone' upon which God's household would be built.

Giving Tree contributions is December 6th. Please consider assisting those less fortunate.
