Turning Our Minds to Lent

It's hard to believe we're at that time of year already (the older I get, the more often I find myself sounding like my parents...but it seems like Christmas was just yesterday!), but Ash Wednesday is next week!

Ash Wednesday, contrary to popular belief, is actually not a Holy Day of Obligation—and yet, after Christmas and Easter, I would say that it's the most well-attended day of the Church year. Don't get me wrong—I'm all about people coming to Mass as much and as often as they can...so my hope is not to discourage anyone from coming to Mass as a pious practice to begin their Lent. But I have to admit, it's the sort of "curious" thing that we priests ask ourselves about: 'why is it that people will come to Mass on Ash Wednesday, but not, for example, on All Saints' Day or the Assumption of Mary...or even, the following Sunday (days which are "required")?'

The more cynical types will readily speak their answer: "it's because people just come for the ashes!" And while I hope and pray (maybe naively) that that's not the entire answer, I think there is, for some, a little truth to that. Each year, rather sadly, I get questions from people asking if there's a time when they can come by the Church to receive ashes without having to come to Mass, or I see people come to Mass and leave right after getting their ashes (i.e. before communion). It bespeaks a certain misunderstanding of what we're all about as Catholic Christians. Shouldn't our reception of communion—the Body and Blood of our Lord—rank higher in our minds than a little dirt on the forehead?

To put it less crassly: ashes are a sacramental, meaning that they remind us of God's grace, in this case, reminding us of our earthly finitude and exhorting us to turn to God again and again for the grace of repentance and conversion, so that we might inherit eternal life. But the Eucharist or Confession: these are sacraments, the very things which communicate (i.e. bestow, give, lavish upon us) grace! Receiving the Eucharist or being granted absolution, in the order of helpful things, is infinitely beyond just putting ashes on our foreheads.

It's the difference between eating a hot dog and walking around with a picture of a hot dog; they're just not the same thing!

We do harm to the Body of Christ (and to our corporate witness as Catholics) if we walk around one day of the year with ashes on our heads, publicly identifying ourselves as Catholic, but then don't even attempt to live as Catholics the other 364 days of the year. It's for that reason that other Christians might accuse us of being shallow or insincere in our faith, concerned only with the rites and outward rituals and not the real tough work of conversion; and if that were entirely the case, they'd be right to exhort us to more!

But my sincere hope is that people aren't just coming for the symbol, but rather out of a genuine desire to take upon themselves what the symbol points to: repentance. That gift—the "clarion call" of the Church's season of Lent—is God's work in us, achieved by humbling ourselves to receive His grace in the Sacraments (cough, confession is a great way to prepare for Easter, cough), and reinforced by every act of prayer, fasting, and almsgiving that we take on during this season.

The exhortation that we hear from Jesus (on Ash Wednesday after all!) is not to perform these things so as to be seen or merely in an external way. Don't just come and get ashes so that others will think you're Catholic. Rather, I think Jesus would say—be Catholic, every day of the year! When we're fasting or doing penance, Jesus tells us to wash our faces and look alive (my paraphrase). Our Father, who sees what is hidden (not just what we present to the rest of the world) repays us in secret for what we do. Our faith is enriched by these beautiful practices, but only if we allow them to point to something deeper in the order of grace. I certainly pray that this would be true—for all of us!

So absolutely—come receive your ashes this Wednesday! But let's make that a spark that ignites a fire in us this Lent, a symbol for each of us of a new beginning, as we don our sackcloth and ashes and go about the hard work of conversion: crying out in humility for the gift of God's merciful and generous salvation, a gift which He wants for us always!

Keep spreading joy!

Fr. Friedel

Retreat

Retreat for Inner Healing - March 11-13th

During this retreat, we will look at what in our souls and stories prevent us from experiencing the full peace, freedom, joy, and happiness that Jesus offers us. We may have been Catholic Christians our entire lives, but not experience the abundant life that Jesus promises us. This retreat will facilitate an encounter with God's transformative and healing love.

If possible, bring a Bible for the retreat. Non-Catholics are welcome, although there will be Catholic elements such as Mass, Adoration, and Confession. One is not required to attend the entire retreat, although one may miss important information/meditations, as each part of the retreat is part of an integrated whole. Minimum age to be part of the retreat is 18. We plan on using the church building and the school gym (at Lourdes) for our retreat space. Please try to show up ~10min before the start of each day. We will start each day in the gym.

The retreat will span the weekend although it is not an overnight retreat. This schedule gives you a rough idea of how time will be spent. Light breakfast and snacks will be served Saturday and Sunday. Dinner will be provided on Saturday. To sign up you can call 217-877-4404 or email communications@ololchurch.com. Signups will also be in the back of OLOL and St. Thomas Church. It will be led by Fr. Trummer.

"...through him all things were made."

One of my favorite scenes from the live-action series on the lives of the followers of Jesus, The Chosen, is in the first episode of the second season. Jesus is asking John the apostle to help him choose a scripture passage to read in the synagogue. John suggests the very beginning of the book of Genesis, when God creates the heavens and the earth. Jesus is pleased with the recommendation and replies, "It is a favorite memory." I really enjoyed watching that scene.

Now, this is an imaginative portrayal of Jesus, for this scene is nowhere in the Gospels. What it displays for us, however, is very true. We believe that all things were created through the Word of God, who Jesus is. As we read in the first verses of John's Gospel, "All things were made through him, and without him was not anything made that was made."

While we generally attribute the creation of the world to God the Father, it would be a mistake to think that the Son and Spirit had nothing to do with it. The Persons of the Trinity do not act alone. Thus, we see in Genesis "the Spirit of God... hovering over the face of the waters." And we read in Psalm 33, also referenced in the scene in The Chosen, "By the word of the LORD the heavens were made, and by the breath of his mouth all their host." So we see that even in the scriptures of the Old Testament, there are signs of the work of all three persons of the Trinity in creation.

All things were made through The Word: the sun and stars, the sky, air, and wind, the dry land, the oceans, all plants and animals, and even all human beings. In a very personal way, even you and I were created by Him. I don't think we often think about it, but he made you. You were made by Him and you are held in being by him.

The same God who made you and holds you in existence is the one who you receive into yourself whenever you receive Holy Communion. He sees you, knows you, and loves you. "Through him all things were made."

TRUE
OF OUR HEARTS

February 27, 2022

8th Sunday in Ordinary
Time

What we say and how we say it reveals the true intentions of our hearts. The content and manner of our speech is a window into the recesses of our souls. Our consciences, attitudes, sentiments, weaknesses, and motives are displayed. As much as we think we can hide the truth of our lives from others, we cannot. Who we really are is not only expressed on our lips but is written on our faces. Jesus says precisely this, "For every tree is known by its own fruit." What does the fruit of our lives say about us?

Because we like to play the game of hide and seek with ourselves, in pretending that we are hiding we deflect attention others may give to us by becoming more critical of others.

After all, the more time one can spend analyzing others' behavior the less time one has to look at his or herself. Often, the behaviors we abhor most in others are the very ones we are guilty of ourselves. We just don't know it yet. The more we put ourselves in the role of a judge, the more satisfaction and control we seem to achieve. Yet, what about ourselves? In focusing our attention on the beams in others' eyes, the aridity and barrenness of our lives goes unchecked. St. Ambrose reminds us that "no one heals himself by wounding another." Bringing our brothers and sisters down by being overly critical, serves no positive purpose.

But the one who knows how easy it is to fall into sin and weakness and how quickly errors in judgment can be made, knows the depth of true compassion, mercy, and kindness. Having recognized our own poor choices, misguided opinions, negative emotions, and ability to do horrendous things, we can be more sympathetic and understanding of where others may be. We are designed to be mentors and guides to one another. In walking the journey together, we can help each other become the best we can be. Humility is the order of the day and the primary virtue that prevents us from being hypocrites.

Lord, please grant eternal rest to the soul of MARILYN MARIE DEHORITY, Mother to Doug (Carla) Dehority.

SOCIAL JUSTICE COMMITTEE NEWS

Flowing from the teaching of the Catholic Church

In many parts of the world today and in our country's cities, there is a need for paths of peace to stop violence, to stop wars, (to stop hatred - I added..) and to heal open wounds. There is also a great need for peacemakers, men and women prepared to work boldly and creatively to initiate processes of healing, of bringing truth and justice to situations, and to renewed encounter. Pope Francis has emphasized these points in Chapter Seven of "Fratelli Tutti." He also states that every "peace process requires enduring commitment. It is a patient effort to seek truth and justice, to honor the memory of victims, and to open the way, step by step, to a shared hope stronger than the desire for vengeance." We must start at home- Decatur, Forsyth, Macon County, our neighborhoods, our homes, etc.

Again, I invite you to attend the Decatur Peace Summit on May 4, 2022 at the Salvation Army. Mark your calendar now. OLOL/St. Thomas Social Justice Committee invites you to join us as we learn, work, and pray for justice and peace. Our committee hopes to have a meeting in the near future. Contact Walt Wessel at 217-433-8015 or Sr. JoAn at 217-877-4404 for more info. or e-mail Sr. JoAn at Sr.Joan@ololchurch.com and she will send you information

A Master's Degree in Administration (or working towards it) with proper certification is required.

Inspiration of the Week

"From the fullness of the heart the mouth speaks." What we say reveals so much about who we are. It discloses what is really going on within us: our integrity, priorities, depth of conscience, level of compassion and understanding of mercy. People whose speech is judgmental or overly critical usually reveal an interior life that is angry, unsettled, defensive, and shallow. Our speech communicates our sense of right and wrong, the strength of our relationship with God and how we feel about our fellow human beings. We are also quick to point out the faults of others, concentrating on their shortcomings and wrongdoings before our own. Only God fully understands what is going on inside the human heart. Only God can see the depth of a human soul. Perhaps it would do us well to consider what may be happening inside our brothers and sisters and temper our critical speech of what we see occurring outside. Looking within will also help us identify our own sins and weakness so that we can be better positioned to offer the type of wisdom and compassionate guidance that can really be of help to our friends.

Interested parties should send a cover letter and resume with the application to Fr. Michael Friedel at mfriedel@dio.org.
