Gospel Reflections... Living the Mission

At Easter, Pentecost, Trinity and Corpus Christi Celebrations we received various mandates to find peace, receive the Holy Spirit and go out to evangelize. Therefore – awayyyyy we go.

There are three steps to leadership:

Make a decision.

Align resources.

Assure sustainability.

In our first reading a lady named Shunem was moved by the prophet Elisha so she and her husband decided to commit the top floor of their house to giving him a place to stay.

We need to decide to say yes to the various mandates to be a person of peace, receive the Holy Spirit and to share the good news through words and deeds.

Quickly we need to align the resources. To get peace we need to ask for and give forgiveness more. We need to be committed to discovering truth and living in the balance necessary for justice. To receive the Holy Spirit we need to ask and be open to changing the patterns of our lives. We need to grieve our old patterns of life – die to our self – so as to live. To genuinely proclaim the good news, we need to move beyond our anxiety to gently talk about our spiritual experiences and care for others.

What will it take for this to be sustainable? We need to give everything including our whole hearts to God. Since the success of our year of Eucharistic adoration events and the dedication of the St. Katharine Drexel church on the feast of the Body and Blood of Christ two weeks ago, I am convinced that God is calling our four parishes toward more prayer with the Blessed Sacrament. Therefore I am drawing up plans for a Society for Eucharistic Adoration that will teach, encourage and discuss the possibilities of contemplation and exposition of the Blessed Sacrament. Here we allow Christ to open up our hearts to their fullest so we can more fully live out the mandates given us by Christ.

May God bless our graduates this weekend as we pray for them. In their journey ahead, may they make space in their lives for the mandates of Jesus Christ which bring us so much love and purpose.

Fr. Erick is preparing to leave in a month. Thank you for your ministry as you have helped us up the path toward Christ's Love.

5 pm Saturdays St. John the Baptist, Clyman
8 am Sundays St. Columbkille, Elba
10 am Sundays Holy Family, Reeseville

Please help us spread the word!

2. We will be celebrating First Communion at the Tri Parishes masses on the weekends of July 11/12 & 18/19. Keep the children and families in your prayers.

FAITH FORMATION NEWS

1. Youth Group continues to meet over the summer. If you are a student in grades 6-12, join us, check us out. We pray, play and seek to extend our faith to others. Contact John Pryme (920) 887-2082, ext. 308. Be sure John has your email and phone number to stay in contact.

2. Attention First Communion Families: There will be a Zoom Mtg/Mini Retreat on Wednesday, July 1st, 6:30 - 7:30 pm. Watch for an email later this week containing a link to join in with your child. We ask for at least one parent to attend with your child. Banners have arrived and will be distributed to families following the meeting to work on together.
