Pastor's Corner by Frieda Bertello

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

In today's gospel, Jesus and his mother are at a wedding feast in Cana. His mother tells him they have no wine. He replies: "Woman, how does your concern affect me? My hour has not yet come." His mother then tells the servers to "Do whatever he tells you." Afterwards, Jesus tells the servers to fill the 6 stone water jars used for purification and have the headwaiter taste some. When he did, the water had turned to wine. Astonished, the headwaiter told the bridegroom that usually the good wine is served first, not last. So began the first miracle.

Let's back up a little and talk about the marriage ceremony in Jesus' time. A typical wedding lasted 5-7 days, usually in autumn because the harvest was in, the grapes were ripe, the work was completed and evening was cool for a party. And oh! Everyone in the village was invited.

The bridegroom and his friends would fetch his betrothed from her father's house. Then the beautifully dressed bride was carried on a litter in a procession to the bridegroom's house with people singing wedding songs along the way. His parents would then bestow a traditional blessing and after the prayers, there were games and dancing for the groom and his friends. The bride and her bridesmaids (usually 10 of them) and friends were brought to another room.

The next day the wedding feast began. Men and women ate separately and presents were given. More songs and blessings were sung and recited. Later in the evening the couple left to consummate the marriage, then returned to the celebration to "party" for the rest of the days.

Back to Jesus and his mother's request. Now don't let your undies get in a bundle. Jesus was not being rude to his mother when he called her "woman", and he did not ignore her request. He basically was telling her that it was not time to begin his ministry. Yet, as you can see, his mother bypassed his response and told the servers to get ready. (Like us, perhaps God's mother knows her son.) It also might mean that God will always answer our requests but in his time and in his way. It is up to us to recognize it and accept.

There are a few other observations here. Mary knew that if the bridegroom ran out of wine, he would be the brunt of jokes in the village. (Not a good beginning for a couple.) Jesus recognizes the problem and delivers a miraculous solution. The end result: he pleases his mother, saves the bridegroom from humiliation, opens the eyes of the staff and headwaiter, satisfies the thirst of the party-goers who have no clue, and begins his public ministry. ALL are affected, knowingly or unknowingly. AND, his disciples listened, watched and learned.

So how do we relate to this gospel and apply it to our own lives? Reduced to its basics: we have a need, sometimes others intercede for us, we take it to Jesus, surrender to his will, he answers our need and everyone is affected positively.

Mary went to Jesus. We should follow her example. Jesus asked the staff to draw water and bring it to the headwaiter who tasted the wine. We should listen first and then obey Jesus. Everyone benefited from the miracle. We should have great expectations when we allow Jesus to enter into our lives. AND these are all GOOD SHOULDs!

Peace,
Frieda

Support Group
Thursday, January 20, 7:00-8:30PM

The St. Damian Mental Health Awareness (MHA) Support Group hosts regularly monthly meetings open to all. Our next meeting will be held on Thursday, January 20th from 7:00-8:30pm in the Pastoral Center.

To start off the New Year, a special presentation by Deacon Jerry T. Souta, Jr. from St. George Parish will address the topic of "Transformation". A "toolbox" of "transformation tools" will be provided.

How do we come to understand that physical, spiritual, emotional suffering is the grounds for transformation and the birth of new life. Common metaphors for transformation are the caterpillar birthing into a butterfly and the grains of sand swallowed by an oyster that birth into a pearl. In the gospel of Mark 2:18-22, Jesus offers his own metaphors for transformation. The focus of this presentation will be the theme of transformation.

We will discuss saints who dealt with mental illness, including St. Benedict, Joseph Labre, St. Dymphna, St. Christina the Astonishing, and Venerable Matt Talbot, to name a few. Join us!

For more information call the Pastoral Center (708) 687-1370 or (708) 284-6511.

Dearest St. Joseph,
at the word of an angel,
you lovingly took Mary into your home.
As God's humble servant, you guided the Holy Family on the road to Bethlehem, welcomed Jesus as your own son
in the shelter of a manger,
and fled far from your homeland
for the safety of both Mother and Child.

We praise God that as their faithful protector,
you never hesitated to sacrifice
for those entrusted to you.
May your example inspire us also to welcome, cherish, and safeguard
God's most precious gift of life.

Help us to faithfully commit ourselves to the service and defense of human life especially where it is vulnerable or threatened.

Obtain for us the grace
to do the will of God in all things.
Amen.

Birth Rates Dropping in the United States

The number of babies born in the U.S. dropped by 4% in 2020 compared with the previous year, according to a federal report released in the spring of 2021. The general fertility rate was 55.8 births per 1,000 women ages 15 to 44, reaching yet another record low, according to the data.

"This is the sixth consecutive year that the number of births has declined after an increase in 2014, down an average of 2% per year, and the lowest number of births since 1979," the National Center for Health Statistics said.

The U.S. total fertility rate, which estimates how many babies a hypothetical group of 1,000 women would have during their life based on data from a given year, remains far "below replacement" – meaning there wouldn't be enough babies born for a generation to replace itself.

"The rate has generally been below replacement since 1971 and has consistently been below replacement since 2007," according to the agency, which is part of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

The statistical replacement rate is 2,100 births per 1,000 women. But in 2020, the U.S. total fertility rate fell to 1,637.5 births per 1,000 women. One year earlier, it was just over 1,700 births.

Just over 3.6 million babies were born in the U.S. last year, according to the agency. Demographically, the number of births fell across all ethnicities and origins, according to the report, which relied on U.S. Census Bureau population estimates that were derived in July.

“Choosing to be “Child-free”

The following information was taken from an article containing research from many different sources not cited here. The article by Suzy Weiss titled, “First Comes Love. Then Comes Sterilization.” was published in Common Sense online.

Last year, the number of deaths exceeded that of births in 25 states — up from five the year before. The marriage rate is also at an all-time low, at 6.5 marriages per 1,000 people. Millennials are the first generation where a majority are unmarried (about 56%). They are also more likely to live with their own parents, according to Pew, than previous generations were in their twenties and thirties.

They also aren't having sex. The number of young men (ages 18 to 30) who admit they have had no sex in the past year tripled between 2008 and 2018. Cities like New York, where young, secular Americans flock to to build their lives, are increasingly childless. In San Francisco, there are more dogs than children. (Pope Francis recently addressed this global phenomenon of replacing children with pets).

According to a new poll, 39% of Gen Zers are hesitant to procreate for fear of the climate apocalypse. A nationally representative study of adults in Michigan found that over a quarter of adults there are child-free by choice. And new research by the Institute of Family Studies found that the desire to have a child among adults decreased by 17% since the onset of the pandemic.

The child-free find each other on social media, mostly on Reddit. There's r/childfree and r/antinatalism and r/fencesitters — as in, “I'm on the fence about this whole kids thing.” You can also find doctors who will sterilize you, and how-to guides with tips and frequently asked questions like “Can you trust a fence-sitter boyfriend who doesn't want a vasectomy?”

It is important to know that these thoughts exist, that these life altering decisions are being considered and made by our young people. It reflects a loss of hope for our future. This is unsettling. It is a call to action. How can we communicate that LIFE is a gift? How can we work to rebuild a culture of LIFE and restore HOPE?

#FIGHT FLU

How can you tell the difference between a cold and the flu?

Because colds and flu share many symptoms, it can be difficult to tell the difference between them based on symptoms alone. Medical tests can detect the flu easily.

The symptoms of flu can include fever or feeling feverish and chills, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, muscle or body aches, headaches and fatigue. Cold symptoms are usually milder than the flu.

Colds do not generally result in serious health problems. Flu can have serious associated complications.
