Pastor's Letter / Carta del Pastor

Dear friends in Christ,

In his book The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People, a New York Times bestseller, Stephen Covey proposed seven practices that improve leadership, personal growth, and overall wellbeing. His fourth habit was simple: "Think Win-Win." This habit begins with listening to others, identifying their goals and interests, and seeking actions that move toward your own goals but also help each person a bit closer to the achievement of their own goals. It requires an "abundance mentality" – a confidence that the authentic needs of all can actually be realized, that there is enough for all of us, if only we are able to lay aside our egotistical, competitive, us-versus-them mindsets, and seek "win-win" solutions.

This is a good introduction to the principle of the Common Good from Catholic Social Teaching. The Common Good is defined by the Second Vatican Council as "the sum total of social conditions which allow people, either as groups or as individuals, to reach their fulfillment more fully and more easily" (Gaudium et Spes #26). This principle calls us not just to try to beat out others for market share, political power, publicity, etc., but to try to create structures, institutions, and messages that will lift up everyone in the long run. Obviously, competition can be good, it inspires innovation, motivates people to perform, and helps good ideas to rise to the surface, as St. Paul says in 1st Corinthians 9:24, "run so as to win!" But in the Christian mindset, we want competition to lead ultimately to improved opportunities and services for everyone.

As Christians, we should expect ourselves and others to work for the common good – to recognize the rights of "food, clothing, and shelter; the right to choose a state of life freely and to found a family, the right to education, to employment, to a good reputation, to respect, to appropriate information, to activity in accord with the upright norm of one's own conscience, to protection of privacy and rightful freedom even in matters religious" (Gaudium et Spes #26). We need to recognize that our rights come with responsibilities: to work, to participate in political life through education and voting, to volunteer and build up healthy local organizations, and most of all, to improve ourselves and our society by growth in virtue, prayer, and witness to the teachings of God.

Today, may we think "Win-Win," and may our society grow in attentiveness to the development of opportunities and security in basic rights for every member of society.

In Christ,

Fr. Edward

Queridos amigos en Cristo,

En su libro "Los siete hábitos de la gente altamente eficiente", un bestseller del New York Times, Stephen Covey propuso siete hábitos que mejoran el liderazgo, el crecimiento personal y el bienestar general. Su cuarto hábito era sencillo: "Pensar en ganar-ganar". Este hábito comienza por escuchar a los demás, identificar sus objetivos e intereses y buscar acciones que avancen hacia nuestras propias metas, pero que también ayuden a cada persona a acercarse un poco más al logro de las suyas. Requiere una "mentalidad de abundancia": la confianza en que las necesidades auténticas de todos pueden satisfacerse, en que hay suficiente para todos, siempre que seamos capaces de dejar de lado nuestras mentalidades egoístas y competitivas, de "nosotros contra ellos", y busquemos una solución "ganar-ganar".

Esta es una buena introducción al principio del Bien Común de la Doctrina Social de la Iglesia. El Bien Común es definido por el Concilio Vaticano II como "el conjunto de condiciones de la vida social que hacen posible a las asociaciones y a cada uno de sus miembros el logro más pleno y más fácil de la propia perfección" (Gaudium et Spes #26). Este principio nos invita a no solo intentar superar a los demás en cuota de mercado, poder político, publicidad, etc., sino a tratar de crear estructuras, instituciones y mensajes que eleven a todos a largo plazo. Obviamente, la competencia puede ser positiva: fomenta la innovación, motiva a las personas a rendir y ayuda a que surjan buenas ideas; como dice San Pablo en 1 Corintios 9, 24: "¡corran de tal manera que lo obtengan!". Sin embargo, desde la perspectiva cristiana, buscamos que la competencia conduzca, en última instancia, a mejores oportunidades y servicios para todos y todas.

Como cristianos, debemos esperar de nosotros mismos y de los demás que trabajemos por el bien común; reconociendo derechos como "el alimento, el vestido, la vivienda, el derecho a la libre elección de estado y a fundar una familia, a la educación, al trabajo, a la buena fama, al respeto, a una adecuada información, a obrar de acuerdo con la norma recta de su conciencia, a la protección de la vida privada y a la justa libertad también en materia religiosa" (Gaudium et Spes #26). Debemos reconocer que nuestros derechos conllevan responsabilidades: trabajar, participar en la vida política mediante la educación y el voto, realizar voluntariado y fortalecer organizaciones locales sanas y, sobre todo, mejorarnos a nosotros mismos y a nuestra sociedad creciendo en virtud, oración y testimonio de las enseñanzas de Dios.

Que hoy adoptemos una mentalidad de "ganar-ganar" y que nuestra sociedad preste mayor atención a la creación de oportunidades y a garantizar los derechos fundamentales de todos sus miembros.

En Cristo,

P. Edward

Handmaids of the Heart of Jesus Visit at the Cathedral

On Sunday, July 26, after each Mass, we invite our community to a gathering with the Handmaids of the Heart of Jesus, a Catholic religious community of women founded in 2007 by Mother Mary Clare Roufs in New Ulm, Minnesota. The mission of the Sisters is to live in imitation of Mary by serving as spiritual mothers in the diocesan Church, complementing the work of diocesan priests and providing a feminine consecrated presence in parish life. The Handmaids of the Heart of Jesus are establishing a new convent in Milwaukee, expected to open in the Fall 2027, to serve the Archdiocese with a diocesan religious presence. Come and meet them to learn about their Ministry. ### La Sagrada Familia Stories / Historias

"As we get ready to welcome a missionary from our Sister Parish, La Sagrada Familia, on the first Sunday of August for the Annual Missionary Cooperation Plan, I am reminded that our own Archdiocese of Milwaukee was started as a missionary church. In fact, much of the funding for the Cathedral building itself was raised overseas from Bavaria, Belgium, Mexico, and Cuba. It is because others answered the missionary call to share the Catholic faith beyond their own borders that a strong foundation was built here in Milwaukee. We are now given the wonderful opportunity to welcome missionaries both here at the Cathedral and to parishes throughout the Archdiocese to share the ways this spirit continues to be lived out every day through pastoral and catechetical programs, building new churches, providing healthcare, meeting educational needs, and so much more in mission territories throughout the world. The same foundations were laid by Catholic missionaries in Milwaukee in the 1800's. What a beautiful full circle and a reminder of how we are truly united in Christ with our brothers and sisters throughout the world." Erika Pyzik, Parishioner and Co-Chair of Sister Parish Commission. / "Mientras nos preparamos para recibir a un misionero de nuestra Parroquia Hermana, La Sagrada Familia, el primer domingo de agosto, con motivo del Plan Anual de Cooperación Misionera, recuerdo que nuestra propia Arquidiócesis de Milwaukee nació como una iglesia misionera. De hecho, gran parte de los fondos para la construcción de la propia Catedral se recaudaron en el extranjero: en Baviera, Bélgica, México y Cuba. Fue gracias a que otros dieron respuesta al llamado misionero de compartir la fe católica más allá de sus propias fronteras que se establecieron unos cimientos sólidos aquí en Milwaukee. Ahora se nos presenta la maravillosa oportunidad de acoger a misioneros, tanto aquí en la Catedral como en parroquias de toda la Arquidiócesis, para conocer cómo este espíritu sigue vivo cada día a través de programas pastorales y catequéticos, la construcción de nuevas iglesias, la atención sanitaria, la satisfacción de necesidades educativas y mucho más en territorios de misión de todo el mundo. Esos mismos cimientos fueron los que sentaron los misioneros católicos en Milwaukee en 1800. Qué hermoso ciclo y qué gran recordatorio de cómo estamos verdaderamente unidos en Cristo con nuestros hermanos y hermanas de todo el mundo". Erika Pyzik, Feligresa y Copresidenta de la Comisión de Parroquia Hermana.
