Pastor's Letter / Carta del Pastor

Dear brothers and sisters,

Today we celebrate the Solemnity of All Saints – a day of thanksgiving for the grace of God and those who have said yes to the adventure of holiness. Our Gospel, the beginning of Jesus' Sermon on the Mount, begins with a particular quality of sainthood: Poverty of Spirit. In this Jubilee Year of St. Francis, I want to share with you a few considerations about poverty from that great saint. In this, I draw from the book A Knight and a Lady: A Journey into the Spirituality of Saints Francis and Clare, by Bret Thoman, OFS.

For Francis, poverty of spirit means to live "sine proprio," that is, without anything of one's own. This has various consequences:

To live sine proprio means to live without possessing anything. For Francis and his followers, this meant selling all they possessed and giving it to the poor. Francis wrote in his Testament, "Those who came… gave whatever they had to the poor and were content with one tunic, patched inside and out, with a cord and short trousers. We desired nothing more." This is radical poverty, but every Christian needs to be ready to give up all their possessions if the call of Jesus asks that of us.

To live sine proprio means to live without the right to indignation and wrath at others. Francis wrote in his Admonitions that the "servant of God who does not become angry or disturbed at anyone lives correctly and sine proprio." Our judgments on others and our anger at them can become possessions weighing us down, opposed to poverty of spirit and to holiness.

To live sine proprio means to live without treating our good deeds as our own. Francis wrote, "No minister of preacher may make a ministry of the brothers or of the office of preaching his own." We must be vigilant not to treat our accomplishments or even our service in the Church as our own possession. Even our good deeds are the work of God's grace in us.

In poverty, Francis found joy – not owning anything himself, he found himself receiving everything from God. May God bless you, I wish you a very happy All Saints' Day, and may the Lord lead all of us through poverty of spirit to the joy of life everlasting.

In Christ,

Fr. Edward

Estimados hermanos y hermanas,

Hoy celebramos la Solemnidad de Todos los Santos, un día de acción de gracias por la gracia hacia Dios y a todos y todas quienes han aceptado la aventura de la santidad. Nuestro Evangelio, el comienzo del Sermón de la Montaña de Jesús, inicia con una cualidad particular de la santidad: la Pobreza de Espíritu. En este Año Jubilar de San Francisco, quiero compartir con ustedes algunas reflexiones sobre la pobreza de este gran santo. Para ello, me baso en el libro "Un Caballero y una Dama: Un Viaje a la Espiritualidad de los Santos Francisco y Clara", de Bret Thoman, OFS.

Para Francisco, la pobreza de espíritu significa vivir "sine proprio", es decir, sin nada propio. Esto conlleva diversas consecuencias:

Vivir sine proprio significa vivir sin poseer nada. Para Francisco y sus seguidores, esto implicaba vender todo lo que tenían y entregárselo a los pobres. En su Testamento, Francisco escribió: "Aquellos que venían… daban a los pobres todo lo que tenían y se contentaban con una sola túnica, remendada por dentro y por fuera, un cordón y unos pantalones. No deseábamos nada más". Se trata de una pobreza radical; sin embargo, todo Cristiano debe estar dispuesto a renunciar a todas sus posesiones si el llamado de Jesús así se lo pide.

Vivir sine proprio significa vivir sin el derecho a la indignación ni a la ira contra los demás. En sus Admoniciones, Francisco escribió que el "siervo de Dios que no se irrita ni se perturba por causa de nadie, vive rectamente y sine proprio". Nuestros juicios sobre los demás y nuestra ira hacia ellos pueden convertirse en posesiones que nos agobian, contrarias a la pobreza de espíritu y a la santidad.

Vivir sine proprio significa vivir sin considerar nuestras buenas obras como algo propio. Francisco escribió: "Ningún ministro o predicador debe apropiarse del ministerio de los hermanos ni del oficio de la predicación". Debemos estar atentos para no considerar nuestros logros, ni siquiera nuestro servicio en la Iglesia, como una posesión nuestra. Incluso nuestras buenas obras son obra de la gracia de Dios en nosotros.

En la pobreza, Francisco encontró la alegría, al no poseer nada, descubrió que lo recibía todo de Dios. Que Dios los bendiga; les deseo un muy feliz Día de Todos los Santos, y que el Señor nos guíe a todos, a través de la pobreza de espíritu, hacia la alegría de la vida eterna.

En Cristo,

P. Edward
