“Making the House of the Lord as beautiful and awe-inspiring as possible”

by Deacon Chuck

In Bible Study, we are beginning to read 2Kings and are finally reading chapters of the Bible that many are less familiar with. It is a blessing to “fill in” parts of our Salvation History that we might not know very well.

A couple weeks ago, we read chapters full of details about how King Solomon built the Temple in splendor, and our footnote explained:

“As the descriptions of the magnificence of the Temple convey, Solomon spared no expense in making the house of the Lord as beautiful and awe-inspiring as possible . . . the beauty and quality of sacred objects used in worship is meant to move people to the contemplation of God’s greatness.” (The Didache Bible, p. 370-371)

I thought this was really cool because as I was reading this footnote, God was doing the same thing for our sanctuary! Our parish was being blessed with new items: a new sanctuary lamp, candlesticks for the altar and ambo, and flower stands. Our processional cross had been re-plated. The rays coming out from Jesus’ body are stunning!

How this came about is several families offered to purchase something for our church to honor the memory of their loved one (as noted on the cover). A committee was formed to review what our sanctuary could use, and after much research and shopping, these items were selected. We are still awaiting a new Paschal candlestick holder which should arrive later this month.

Even more beautiful is the intent behind these items: a desire to bring glory and honor to God and to thank Him for the gift of their loved one.

Others have made donations which have been added to our Endowment Fund. So to honor all these gifts, I would like to set aside one Sunday Mass each month to pray for these generous benefactors and their loved ones. With the help of the Pastoral Council, we will decide a name and further details. More information will be coming.

I pray that these new items in our sanctuary lead all of us into contemplating the greatness of God and understanding the depth of His unfathomable love for us.
