OLD ST. PATRICK'S

A "Farewell" from Fr. Ken

"Welcome! We already love you and are grateful for your presence."
 "No matter how long or short you are with us, you are always part of us."

I heard this from a Hospitality Minister and a Staff member in the very first few days of my surprise appointment to Old St Pat's 15 months ago. I was grateful, and frankly a bit cautious. I was an unknown stepping into an already tumultuous second year of pandemic, in a strange role (Administrator) and who, while experienced as a pastor, was also seen as a "downtown, archdiocesan guy." I have come to know the sincerity of those initial greetings to be true for me and for so many strangers that find their way to OSP.

For this community, this has been a year of surprises, grief, confusion, suspicion, anxiety, withdrawal, caution, reinvestment, curiosity, pivoting, faithfulness...the list of emotions and reactions is pretty much endless. We have walked together through it all, and now prepare for the next part of transition to your next pastor: Fr Pat McGrath, SJ. It has been a joy to work with Fr. Pat over the past few months. We are both ready.

It has been a privilege to serve here and get to know the community. The staff and the priests have been a gift. I cannot thank them enough. Without their immediate and ongoing support and generosity, this year would have been impossible.

I am excited for OSP and the next steps this remarkable parish will take. I found not only ministries with breadth, but also with depth. The reach of OSP has only increased as a result of the forward-thinking online capabilities already in place when everything shut down. We now work to find the balance of the fundamental need to be together with the already-valuable service to the church that comes from providing virtual connections.

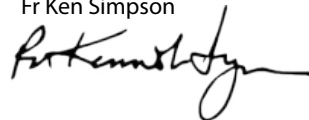

Worshiping with this community -being able to celebrate the Sacraments, Masses with children, Confirmation, First Communion, preside at the Easter Vigil - has been a great blessing on my life. My work with the Archdiocese with ongoing formation of priests and charting a path for evangelization is important and fulfilling work. But parish is the place the church gathers, its human face. It is where I have always been most alive. And I am grateful that however the Holy Spirit worked, I have had this opportunity. Many people have graciously expressed thanks to me for stepping in when called. I hear that. But I have equally, if not more so, benefited from being here with you.

People have also asked what is next. My stepping out of Old St Pat's on June 30 is also the date of my "retirement." Most immediately, that means decompressing by being largely 'off the grid' for a few months by going to beautiful places in the US and visiting friends and walking in nature. I will continue to live with seminarians next to Holy Name Cathedral. The work I have been involved with for the priests of the Archdiocese is at pivotal point. If I can be helpful in advancing those initiatives, I will. I have a few commitments at OSP in the fall. One thing that I can witness to is that I have always been led to where I am supposed to be. And I tend to keep turning up.

I have been looking at the Celtic knots that adorn the church. That wonderful expression of spirituality captures my gratitude that I am intertwined with this community just as promised in those first days.

My heart is full. My deepest thanks.

Fr Ken Simpson

These next few months will offer many opportunities to capture the energy and celebrate new life here at Old St Patricks.

Due to the rise in the level of COVID transmission in Cook and Lake Counties to "medium," the CDC recommends wearing masks and taking additional preventative measures to help reduce the spread of the virus. If you have any symptoms -- even if you think they might be seasonal allergies -- please take a COVID test before attending Mass or other in-person events at Old St. Pat's. We will continue to offer the Livestream experience at two of our Masses each Sunday, so you can continue to celebrate with the community without skipping a beat!

GOSPEL MEDITATION

And to another he said, "Follow me." In every moment of every day, in every circumstance and experience, God is calling us. We can easily get distracted and not hear it or simply ignore it, pretending it wasn't even heard. When we do hear it and favorably respond, there are some conditions that must be met. Jesus makes it clear that once we say yes to his invitation, we must stay focused and forge ahead. We cannot keep looking behind or worry about unfinished business. There are some tasks, and discipleship is one, that require our full devotion.

There are many "masters" vying for our attention. We need something or someone to give us direction. Human nature requires it. Our motives and actions reveal what has our allegiance. It is tempting to give ourselves to masters that lure us with intriguing promises. When given the choice between a "master" that promises worldly success, abundant wealth, status, privilege, and security versus a "master" that asks for self-sacrifice, hardship, suffering, ridicule, and death, to whom do we go? While the promise of immediate pleasure is enticing, there is always a catch.

For all that secular masters can promise, they always keep us looking behind, checking on ourselves, second guessing choices, calculating options, and being slaves to excess worry. Our guard can never come down. Only one master really promises life: Jesus Christ. Hearing his call, we either trust him or we don't.

Saying yes to following Christ does come with a risk. But it also comes with the brightest of future hopes and dreams. There is no need to keep looking behind. Sins are forgiven and regrets serve no effective purpose. God is not there. He's moved beyond all that stuff. God is in the today and the tomorrow and what he can continually do with our daily affirmation to follow Him. All we need to do is be obedient. St. Gianna Molla is credited with saying, "The stillness of prayer is the most essential condition for fruitful action. Before all else, the disciple kneels down." Begin with prayer. We will not only hear God's call but find the courage to trust that He will guide us where we need to be. God uses us in the most ordinary of ways through the simple daily expression of our lives.

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

God calls us in the midst of ordinary things. Often only looking for God in the dramatic, spectacular, the ritual or the sacred places, we miss that He is walking beside us. Every moment of every day, in every circumstance and experience, God is calling to us, "Follow me." Sometimes, we are too distracted to hear this call. Other times, we would rather ignore it or pretend it wasn't heard. God, however, is very persistent. Whether we fine tune our hearing to receive this invitation now or when we close our eyes in death, we need to make a choice. The choice involves leaving some things behind and moving forward, taking risks. Choosing to keep focused and single-minded, the lens we then use to see our world and one another is God's, not our own. Life is no longer about what is important or matters to me but what matters to God. We acquire a new filter and are asked to use that filter to make choices, establish priorities, and determine what direction we will take, and how to love. Once we accept God's invitation, we cannot keep looking back to what was left behind, only forward to the surprises yet to come.

BEST KEPT LOCAL SECRETS OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH INCLUDING OLD ST. PAT'S

Old St. Pat's Monday Evening Rosary Prayer Group - Back in April of 2015 Katy Egan from Global Alliance for Africa and I started a Rosary Prayer Group at Old St. Pat's that met in person monthly. With the onset of Covid-19, the group went to a virtual meeting every Monday Evening at 6:00 PM. We became super important in each other's lives during the pandemic. We just hosted a May Crowning outside in the Courtyard on this past Sunday May 15th. We had a gorgeous day and a beautiful ceremony to honor our Blessed Mother.

May Crowning 2022

Susan and Steve in the Courtyard with Our Blessed Mother

Thanks to Susan for her Handmade Gorgeous Crown

A huge thank you to Susan, Ann and Margaret who worked with unbelievable enthusiasm to update the website (oldstpats.org/rosary-prayer-group.html), create a powerful and sustainable mission statement and shared our May Crowning with the Old St. Pat's Community.

If you would like to join us, please contact us at rosarypraygroup@oldstpats.org
You can submit prayer intentions online too that will be included in our weekly rosary prayers.

- Individual Reconciliation is also held before the 12:10 Mass on Wednesdays starting at 11:30 am.
- 3rd Wednesday of the Month 12:10 pm Mass of Anointing – Old St. Pat's hosts a 12:10 PM Mass which wraps up with an Anointing at the end for folks in need of physical, emotional or spiritual healing. Next Gathering Wednesday July 13.
- St. Peregrine Ministry at Our Lady of Sorrows Basilica – I cannot imagine anyone in this community that hasn't been affected by a cancer diagnosis – whether them personally or a family member or friend. I am a firm believer in the power of prayer and divine intervention. I have been connected with this Church Community since 2000 when I returned home to Chicago from Houston, Texas. The St. Peregrine National Shrine is located in the Basilica itself and the prayer ministry there prays for folks suffering from cancer. On the Third Saturday of the Month an 11:00 AM Mass is offered in the church along with a Blessing with the Relic of St. Peregrine. Next Gathering Saturday July 16.

Immigrants and Refugees: A Faith Journey

“No one who sets a hand to the plow and looks to what was left behind is fit for the kingdom of God.” Luke 9:62

These were a ‘rough’ collection of readings. You get a sense of the urgency in Elisha and the disciples to make things right back at home before they follow the prophet or messiah. But you also hear the sense of urgency in Elijah and in Jesus. The time is now! You must not worry about the things you leave behind. You are called now to journey, to follow. Reflect on how you would respond, how quickly you would respond? Then reflect on the journeys of refugees, immigrants, and asylum seekers. “The time is now!” must have run through their minds as they took their first steps. What did they leave behind? What were they hoping to find at the end of the journey? Did they even know what the destination was? Reflect on the urgency they must have felt. Pray for so many who continue to fear for their lives or search for security. Act with urgency to bring about healing and welcome for them:

Green Notes from OSP Green Team: Creating a Pollinator Garden

“Pollinator Gardens are a recent concept. Reminiscent of the Victory Garden promoted by the government during World War I and II, the Pollinator Garden is intended to cover food shortages... for insects.”

--Maureen Sundberg, “More than Just A Pollinator Garden,” Ecological Landscape Alliance

More and more gardeners are concerned about declines in pollinator populations, and are wondering what they can do to help. A lot has been written about honey bees and colony collapse disorder, but the real issue is not just the non-native honeybee, imported from Europe, and currently managed as a domestic animal. Our native pollinators, including bumble bees, leaf cutter bees, orchard bees, butterflies, moths, beetles, flies and hummingbirds are also in decline. These natives provide billions of dollars of free pollination services to farmers and gardeners. For example, our native bumble bees are the most effective pollinators of tomato plants. A summer without juicy tomatoes just wouldn't be summer. About 70% of the food we eat is pollinated by insects.

The main reasons for declining native pollinator populations are habitat loss, invasive species, and widespread pesticide use. Planting a pollinator garden is a way the home gardener can help out native pollinators while creating beauty in the home landscape. Pollinators need pollen, nectar, and vegetation to thrive. Here are some tips to get you started in creating a pollinator garden.

- Site preparation is key. If planting into an existing lawn, smother the grass for 2-3 months, with black plastic, cardboard, newspaper, or other layers that will keep light out.
- Plant native plants with different bloom times, so pollinators can find food throughout the growing season. Cluster plants together for more efficient foraging.
- Go easy on mulch to allow the 70% of native bees which are solitary ground nesters, to find places to nest. Leave some standing stems in the spring so the remaining 30%, cavity nesting bees, can nest in the stubble.
- Leave a shallow pan of water with some stones so pollinators have a place to drink.
- Avoid insecticides, especially systemic ones. These products linger in the soil or in pollen and nectar, altering pollinator physiology and immune system responses.

What plants should you plant? Take into account the light and moisture levels in your yard.

There are lots of resources with plants lists for local pollinator gardens.

Experience Making a Difference

IVC Chicago began in September 2001 with twelve volunteers whose prior occupations ranged from fire chief and postal worker to business executive and nurse. They volunteered as hospital and prison chaplains, teachers' aides, and GED instructors at nine service agencies.

In 2021 – 22, there are 70 volunteers serving (in-person and virtually) in more than 35 partner agencies. Volunteers in Chicago are working with youth and young adults in education and mentoring programs, refugee and immigrant services, women's and children's services and hospital and prison ministry. They provide healthcare and food assistance and work in hunger and homeless services. They serve the elderly and disabled.

The IVC Chicago Leadership Team describes a typical volunteer as someone who is "committed to serving others and to reflecting on God's presence and power in their volunteer service and in all aspects of their life."

Women and Men of Faith

Blessed Raymond Lull

Saint of the Day for June 26, 2022

Raymond worked all his life to promote the missions and died a missionary to North Africa.

Raymond was born at Palma on the island of Mallorca in the Mediterranean Sea. He earned a position in the king's court there. One day a sermon inspired him to dedicate his life to working for the conversion of the Muslims in North Africa. He became a Secular Franciscan and founded a college where missionaries could learn the Arabic they would need in the missions. Retiring to solitude, he spent nine years as a hermit. During that time he wrote on all branches of knowledge,
a work which earned him the title
"Enlightened Doctor."

Raymond then made many trips through Europe to interest popes, kings, and princes in establishing special colleges to prepare future missionaries. He achieved his goal in 1311, when the Council of Vienne ordered the creation of chairs of Hebrew, Arabic, and Chaldean at the universities of Bologna, Oxford, Paris, and Salamanca. At the age of 79, Raymond went to North Africa in 1314 to be a missionary himself. An angry crowd of Muslims stoned him in the city of Bougie.
Genoese merchants took him back to Mallorca, where he died. Raymond was beatified in 1514 and his liturgical feast is celebrated on June 30.
