*I recall my childhood memories.
The snow and the lights upon the trees.
I remember the excitement, the anticipation.
For a holiday recognized by every nation.*

*As a child it was all about Santa Claus.
Sitting on his lap at the shopping mall.
The stores were all decorated head to toe.
They played all the music I came to know.*

*Wish lists were written and sent by mail.
All was noted down to the very last detail.
We behaved ourselves made sure to be good.
For he knew everything, we all understood.*

*As I grew older, childish things were put away.
I discovered the true meaning behind this day.
Mary and Joseph; their journey to Bethlehem.
A star in the sky that led three kings to them.*

*Away in a manger, some had gathered to see.
The son of God delivered, to save you and me.
No room at the inn, they had nowhere to stay.
They nestled with the animals in the dry hay.*

*This child who was born to become our king.
Was delivered on that night without a thing.
No crib for a bed, no clean garments to wear.
Only shepherds looked on with little to share.*

*The son of man was born to us on this day.
He would come to take all of our sins away.
His path would lead, to his death on a cross.
This passing would be but a moment's loss.*

*For in three days' time he rose from the grave.
To show to all that followed; they could be saved.
The true reason for the season is now oh so clear.
He will return to us again in glory, so have no fear.*

*My memories of Christmas past I will hold inside my heart.
The decorations, food and frolic, is where it all would start.
The presents from Santa Clause left underneath the tree.
Was my reward for good behavior for I knew he could see.*

*He saw me when I was sleeping, he knew when I was awake.
He knew if I was good or bad; so I'd do whatever it would take.
The faith I had as a child is the one thing that I have kept with me.
It is realizing all that I hope for now, even though I have yet to see.*

*The gifts now that await us all, go far beyond our good behavior.
They are what have been promised to us, by Jesus Christ our savior.
They are nothing you can ask for, because they have already been given.*

The day that Christ hung on the cross, suffered death, and had risen.

Preparing hearts and minds for lives of leadership, service, and excellence.

Note: Wednesday's daily Mass will not be live-streamed during the school year.

Our fourth and fifth grade classes recently took a field trip to the Catholic Ecology Center. Look at all the smiles they had while learning about water science exploration. The students loved using all the tools: microscopes, turbine tubes, thermometers, and probes...They evaluated, tested, took notes, and graphed. It was a beautiful day to spend some time out-

Christian Formation News

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

It's quite interesting that this year's liturgical calendar has us celebrating the Feast of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph right on the heels of Christmas. We are filled with wonder and joy at the mystery of the Incarnation, the Word made flesh, the Messiah-King coming into history as the baby Jesus. We are moved by the Holy Family's struggles and hardship in their early years. And then we jump to the story of Jesus getting lost in the Temple.

If you're like me, you might feel that it's nearly impossible to live up to the standard of being a "holy" family. Many of us deal daily with the reality of how our families, with their frailties and dysfunctions, fall short of the example of loving unity within the Holy Family.

But this Sunday's Gospel reveals that even Jesus, Mary and Joseph, sharing in the human condition, experienced anxiety (Luke 2:48) and misunderstanding (Luke 2:50) in their family relationships. I have often wondered if Mary, in a stereotypical fashion of a Jewish mother, would have been asking Jesus "Son, why have you done this to us?", not so much in a bewildered, sympathetic tone but more so in a scolding, frustrated tone. After all, Luke's Gospel skips the next 15 or so years of Jesus' life until he begins His ministry with His baptism...maybe He was grounded for life! And I can just imagine Joseph, the ever-quiet father, giving Jesus "the look".

But the story also reveals that they make the effort to live in the same spirit as St. Paul encourages us at the end of the 2nd Reading: "Wives, be subordinate to your husbands...Husbands, love your wives,...Children, obey your parents in everything,...Fathers, do not provoke your children..." The point is not about family hierarchy or authority as much as it is about each family member bearing a shared responsibility to all of the others, in order that the family builds one another up in love. God does not expect us to be perfect, but He does expect us to try to love each other as He loves us.

As we gather with immediate and extended families through this Christmas season, may we all "put on... heartfelt compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience, bearing with one another and forgiving one another..."

His Peace to all,

Gerry Wolf
