“Come, have breakfast.”

John 21:12

One of my favorite passages in John’s gospel is the one we hear today. It’s a resurrection story. Peter, James, John, Nathaniel and Thomas decided to go fishing. After a night of not catching anything, a man on the shore yelled to them to cast their nets out on the right side of the boat where they hauled in 153 large fish. They instantly realized that it wasn’t a stranger on the shore who helped them, it was Jesus—resurrected and alive!

When they made their way to him, they saw (and probably smelled) the fish he already had on the fire. That’s when he invited them: “Come, have breakfast.” If you’ve ever had the joy of someone making you breakfast, you know what a treat that is, especially when it comes out of the blue and we’re not expecting it. Out of pure kindness, Jesus anticipated what would be appreciated and then made it happen.

It wasn’t the first time. He didn’t have to wash the feet of his apostles. He didn’t have to turn water into wine to help the newly married couple save face on their wedding day. He didn’t have to tell the apostles where to find the great catch of fish—a lucrative find for them. He didn’t have to sit down to eat dinner with the outcasts of the day. And yet did.

And in a remarkable act of kindness, Jesus tells us that when he comes again, he will have us sit at the banquet table so he can wait on us (see Luke 12:37). That’s remarkable.

Maybe what Jesus hopes we’ll tap into is the goodness that we already have within each one of us; goodness that’s there. The kindness that moves us to follow that instinct within that says, “what can I do to show kindness to this person in front of me, not because I have to do, but because I want to and I know they’ll appreciate it.”

Maybe that’s why after breakfast on the shore, when Jesus asked Peter three times if he loved him, he encouraged him three times to develop the attitude of a servant leader’s heart. Just like Peter, if we say we love Jesus Christ then he tells us to do what he did: “feed my sheep.” He asks us to tend to those he loves, which happens to be all of us.

So what if, out of the blue, we did something simple today for someone who could use some kindness—not because we have to, but because we want to. Simple acts of kindness do make a difference, even making breakfast. It’s a way to answer Jesus’ question: “Do you love me?”

Alive in the Spirit! Congratulations to our Newly Confirmed!

What a great moment: On April 30th, after an absence of two years, we welcomed our Bishop to Saint Hubert as he confirmed 84 of our teens. In only the way God can make it happen, the Holy Spirit descended from heaven to earth, like a dove in flight, right into the hearts of our Confirmandi.

The Holy Spirit enlivens us with the gifts that help us get through life; gifts we need, like courage, right judgment (which not only helps us but is needed as we give advice and counsel others), wisdom, understanding, and knowledge. We receive the gifts of reverence and awe and wonder in who God is, which are gifts that allow us to know we have a Lord of our life and the world.

We’re very happy for our Confirmandi and their families. The Holy Spirit is moving through them and out into the world. Congratulations!

—Fr. Mike

Jesus came over and took the bread and gave it to them, and in like manner the fish.
—John 21:13

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD

Could it be that God's image has become so soiled and distorted that it is hard for us to see it? Our self-serving agendas have done a great job twisting God's image into what profits us. We want our agenda to be God's agenda and use prayer as the convincing leverage we need. Worse still, our success and egocentric agenda often erases God's image completely, replacing it with our own. St. Oscar Romero instructs us that the Son of Man "dies on the cross to cleanse God's image, which is soiled in today's humanity, a humanity so enslaved, so selfish, so sinful." Striving to preserve control of our destinies at all costs, we fail to see the risen suffering servant, the Christ, standing right beside us.

Jesus, who suffered and died on a cross and was raised from the dead, corrects our soiled image of God. He shows us God as God is, not who we want to make God to be. God is the God of the poor, the weak, and the marginalized. He is the God who tenderly caresses us when we are suffering and hurting, assuring us that all will be safe and well. He is the God of equity, peace, justice, and compassion who wants happiness for each of His children, desiring their wellbeing and success. God goes where men and women are afraid to go, sitting with the lost, the broken, and the sorrowing. St. Oscar Romero challenges us to illuminate with "Christ's light ... even the most hideous caverns of the human person: torture, jail, plunder, want, chronic illness. The oppressed must be saved." The resurrection calls us to be God's microphone, a messenger, and a prophet (St. Oscar Romero).

Using eyes that see beyond the limited constructs and desires of our world, we can see the true and real Jesus standing before us, calling us to transformation and change. Asking us more than once, "do you love me?" We are beckoned to give an answer. Answering in the affirmative, it is now our task to feed the sheep and the lambs who belong to God. In short, equipped with the power of the resurrection and a corrected image of God our task is to make things better, brighter, holier, more life-giving, and just for all of God's children. Considering our choices, our interactions, our philosophies, and aspirations, how can we do this?

Letting Go of False Fear

By Ron Rolheiser, OMI

Recently in a radio interview, I was asked this question: “If you were on your deathbed, what would you want to leave behind as your parting words?” The question momentarily took me aback. What would I want to leave behind as my last words? Not having time for much reflection, I settled on this. I would want to say: Don't be afraid. Live without fear. Don't be afraid of death. Most of all, don't be afraid of God!”

I'm a cradle Catholic, born to wonderful parents, catechized by some very dedicated teachers, and I've had the privilege of studying theology in some of the best classrooms in the world. Still it took me fifty years to rid myself of a number of crippling religious fears and to realize that God is the one person of whom you need not be afraid. It's taken me most of my life to believe the words that come from God's mouth over three hundred times in scripture and are the initial words out of the mouth of Jesus whenever he meets someone for the first time after his resurrection: Do not be afraid!

It has been a fifty-year journey for me to believe that, to trust it. For most of my life I've lived in a false fear of God, and of many other things. As a young boy, I had a particular fear of lightning storms which in my young mind demonstrated how fierce and threatening God could be. Thunder and lightning were portents which warned us, religiously, to be fearful. I nursed the same fears about death, wondering where souls went after they died, sometimes looking at a dark horizon after the sun had set and wondering whether people who had died were out there somewhere, haunted in that endless darkness, still suffering for what they'd had not gotten right in life. I knew that God was love, but that love also held a fierce, frightening, exacting justice.

Those fears went partially underground during my teenage years. I made my decision to enter religious life at the age of seventeen and have sometimes wondered whether that decision was made freely and not out of false fear. Looking back on it now however, with fifty years of hindsight, I know that it wasn't fear that compelled me, but a genuine sense of being called, of knowing from the influence of my parents and the Ursuline nuns who catechized me, that one's life is not one's own, that one is called to serve. But religious fear remained unhealthily strong within me.

So, what helped me let go of that? This doesn't happen in a day or year; it is the cumulative effect of fifty years of bits and pieces conspiring together. It started with my parents' deaths when I was twenty-two. After watching both my mother and father die, I was no longer afraid of death. It was the first time I wasn't afraid of a dead body since these bodies were my mother and father of whom I was not afraid. My fears of God eased gradually every time I tried to meet God with my soul naked in prayer and came to realize that your hair doesn't turn white when you are completely exposed before God; instead you become unafraid. My fears lessened too as I ministered to others and learned what divine compassion should be, as I studied and taught theology, as two cancer diagnoses forced me to contemplate for real my own mortality, and as a number of colleagues, family, and friends modeled how one can live more freely.

Intellectually, a number of persons particularly helped me: John Shea helped me realize that God is not a law to be obeyed, but an infinitely empathic energy that wants us to be happy; Robert Moore helped me to believe that God is still looking on us with delight; Charles Taylor helped me to understand that God wants us to flourish; the bitter anti-religious criticism of atheists like Frederick Nietzsche helped me see where my own concept of God and religion needed a massive purification; and an older brother, a missionary priest, kept unsettling my theology with irreverent questions like, what kind of God would want us to be frightened of him? A lot of bits and pieces conspired together.

What's the importance of last words? They can mean a lot or a little. My dad's last words to us were “be careful”, but he was referring to our drive home from the hospital in snow and ice. Last words aren't always intended to leave a message; they can be focused on saying goodbye or simply be inaudible sighs of pain and exhaustion; but sometimes they can be your legacy.

Given the opportunity to leave family and friends a few last words, I think that after I first tried to say a proper goodbye, I'd say this: Don't be afraid. Don't be afraid of living or of dying. Especially don't be afraid of God.

World Day of Prayer for Vocations

In our politically charged society, I imagine many have heard the quote, "It takes a village..." Whether or not one likes the politics of the author of that quote, in the words are truth. It takes many people to create and sustain a community.

For those of us who are Catholic, we believe in the power of vocations to help spread the Gospel message. And vocations are an important part of the community. The vocations to priesthood, or the diaconate, or religious life are at the center of our efforts to spread the good news. However, we need to also speak about the vocation of married life as service to the church; and furthermore, the vocation of single life. It is at our baptism that we are given the mandate to spread the Gospel through our vocation in the church.

"Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, then I will enter his house and dine with him, and he with me" (Rv 3:20).

We hear in Scripture that Jesus stands at the door of our heart and knocks. He only invites and never demands or breaks into our lives without our acceptance. He knocks, we open the door, and the invitation and welcome are complete.

Let us pray...

God of the invitation, you knock upon the door of everyone's heart.

We seek the courage to open that door, for we know the responsibility of saying yes.

We humbly ask you for your wisdom to serve your church with compassion and acceptance.

We believe that when we say yes, you will provide the grace for the work ahead.

Give grace to those men and women who have dedicated their lives to constant service to your church.

Also give grace to those couples and single men and women who work for the church in their secular lives.

We ask all this through Christ our Lord and brother, who live and reign with you and the Holy Spirit.

Amen.

"How long has Jesus been knocking at the door of your heart, waiting to enter?"

—St. John Baptist de la Salle

222 for 22

Angels are sent by God to guard us in all ways (Psalm 91:11) and to deliver messages (Luke 1:19). One way they might communicate with us is through Angel Numbers, or repeated number sequences.

The Angel Number 222 is very significant. 222 as an Angel Number has to do with creating blessings on a huge and global scale. This message from heaven is a sign of direction. It is telling you that your intuition is providing you with the answer or information you need at this time. This number is sending you an angel message to look within for the answers and to listen to your heart.

For the coming year, we are trying to increase our student population to 222 students. We have many families who would like to send their children to a Catholic School but are unable to afford it. There is a Tuition Assistance Fund that has been able to help many families, but we would like to do more.

Please listen to your heart and help us create blessings for those who desire a Catholic education. If you are able to help, there is a yellow envelope in your monthly envelope packet, envelopes in the back of Church, and you can also make an electronic donation on Give Central. May God, and the Angels, bless you for your kindness and generosity.

Altar Servers: It's Time!

Once we have a list of those interested, we'll set up the training.

FOOD DRIVE

APRIL 23 & 24

Thank You St. Hubert!

Our April 23rd and 24th monthly Food Drive went well—even with the on and off rain, wind, and chill of April 2022. St. Marcelline food pantry volunteers filled four vans with your food donations. They also received four hundred and fifty dollars in gift cards for pantry clients and perishable food items. They thanked our parishioners, once again, for their generosity and support of their food pantry.

Friends, our next monthly St. Hubert Food Collection will be on May 14 and 15, 2022. Donations will benefit Church of the Holy Spirit's Food Pantry and will be accepted at all our Masses and on Sunday, from 1 to 3 PM at the south driveway of the church.

God Bless you for your generosity,

Deacon Larry

Helping Hands Ministry

We'd like to believe that when needing support, we all have a family member or friend close by to help out. Unfortunately, this is not always the case. Or perhaps a great deal of support is needed requiring more support than family members are able to provide. The Helping Hands Ministry was formed to assist members in our parish, free of charge, in various ways:

- Rides to appointments, grocery store, mass
- Relieving a caregiver by sitting with homebound family member
- Handy work or yard work
- Housework/cleaning
- Meals for those recovering from illness
- Just ask!

To request assistance or to volunteer, please contact the St. Hubert front desk: 847-885-7700, ext. 102 and your request will be shared with the Helping Hands Coordinator.

KNIT. CROCHET. PRAY.

LIVE THE LITURGY: INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

What prevents us from seeing the Lord? We are not used to seeing Jesus in the ordinary, everyday events of our lives. We expect some kind of startling, extraordinary revelation to occur that definitely and unmistakably sends a signal that God wants our attention. We don't expect a visit from Jesus while we are having breakfast, doing the dishes, running after the kids, negotiating a deal at work, or taking a shower! Sometimes when God simply stands on the shore of our lives casually looking for us, we don't recognize him. Did we ever stop and think that God is really and truly interested in the routine, run of the mill events of our lives? So, "what did you do today?" God may ask. Maybe we don't think that God is concerned about such things, or we are so consumed with life's demands that we give it little if any thought. Perhaps we are determined to achieve our own success, desire to control things ourselves or not really sure what God cares about. God is there. One day, out of the blue, God will get our attention and ask, "Do you love me?"

Are you, or someone you know, widowed?

If you have been recently widowed and are still struggling with the loss, or if you have been widowed for some time and need something to get you "over the hump" because you seem stuck in one spot, this program is designed to help you move on with life while still treasuring your past and its precious memories.

This unique retreat/workshop will be held at St. Julie's Parish, Tinley Park, Illinois. The Joyful Again! program is for both men and women (all ages) who have been widowed and are still trying to find hope and new joy in life. All are welcome.
