Good Shepherd Sunday In God's Hands

Today's gospel reading is just 62 words. But they're powerful words. Jesus compares himself to a shepherd who cares for his sheep. He reveals an intimate relationship where the sheep know the shepherd so well, they know the sound of his voice.

They also know Jesus holds them in his hands, which reminds us of the way our mothers held us. In that way, Jesus comforts us. He's got us. He cares for us. This is captured so beautifully by this incredible piece of artwork created by our seminarian, David Jameson.

David has been with us for the past five years as part of Mundelein Seminary's Teaching Parish Program. He has been serving as a transitional Deacon this past year and on June 4th will be ordained a priest for the Diocese of Grand Rapids. David chose the image of the Good Shepherd as one of the models for his priesthood. It's fitting because he will be ordained to serve others and to bring Christ to others. He will be a bridge to communicate Jesus' voice, to be His hands and His touch in the lives of the people he's with.

We have been blessed by David's presence, but now we let him go to enter into this blessed time in his life. Because our parish means a lot to David, he has extended an invitation for ordination for those who are able to make the trip (see page 7). But because that might not be possible, we will also send him forward to his ordination day as we gather for Masses on the weekend of May 14 and 15. It will give us an opportunity to wish him well, to bless him and thank him for his kindness, compassion and care of those in our community. If you know David, you know he has a big heart. It's not hard to see him as a shepherd holding his sheep in his hands.

As we celebrate World Day of Prayer for Vocations, we celebrate David and all those who are considering the religious life. We need good shepherds, especially for our own Archdiocese. We know there are some young people in our community thinking about it and we are praying for them. We're also blessed that one of our parishioners, Jazzy Rangel, is continuing her formation as she discerns with the Salesian Sisters. If you know her, you know she is very joyful and a real witness to the fact that following God's will—like a sheep follows the voice of their Shepherd—brings meaning and fullness in life.

Congratulations to our First Communicants!

We're very happy for all those who received First Communion on Saturday and for their families. They are like the sheep in Jesus' arms—they have experienced his presence in this sacramental way. They've experienced his touch. Congratulations!

May the Good Shepherd continue to hold us, care for us, and keep us together,

—Fr. Mike

*“My sheep hear my voice;
I know them, and they follow me.
I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish.”*
—John 10:27-28

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD

“Human beings, while capable of the worst, are also capable of rising above themselves, choosing again what is good, and making a new start.” (Pope Francis) We have a difficult time figuring out what is true and best for us. There are many voices talking and so many trying to get our attention. We wrongly convince ourselves that the true voice is the voice of progress, the one that speaks of contemporary wants and desires, enticing us with the latest trends and causes. We are taught, by listening to the voices around us, that truth is found in feelings and thought, and ideals must match current and popular human wants. Because we feel a particular way it must be true. Then, we find a shepherd who empathizes with us and affirms us. We follow that voice even though listening to that voice will render us powerless and lead us to harm. There are many with me in this procession to this pasture. I must be on the right path and listening to the right voice.

We are very confused. What can keep us safe and from harm? Where do we go to find life, love, and happiness? Jesus tells us that he is the way, the truth, and the life. The only way to get to Truth, who is God, is through him.

There is no other way. The Church, the gate around God’s pasture of life, is charged with the mission of directing us where God desires that we go. In the midst of all of the conflicting voices around us, the voice of truth is often muffled in all of the noise, but it beckons us to a life of virtue and grace. Helping us understand who we are and where we have to be, it discerns the voice of God, providing us with the safety net we need to stay straight on our path to life eternal.

We have to trust the voice of God, the true Shepherd, even when it does not mirror what we want and what others may believe. Faith goes way beyond feeling and involves a radical trust in Someone who can lead us and form us. At day’s end, if we do not know to find our way home, we will be truly lost.

Searching for God Among Many Voices

By Ron Rolheiser, OMI

We are surrounded by many voices. There's rarely a moment within our waking lives that someone or something isn't calling out to us and, even in our sleep, dreams and nightmares ask for our attention. And each voice has its own particular cadence and message. Some voices invite us in, promising us life if we do this or that or buy a certain product or idea; others threaten us. Some voices beckon us towards hatred, bitterness, and anger, while others challenge us towards love, graciousness, and forgiveness. Some voices tell us that they are playful and humorous, not to be taken seriously, even as others trumpet that they are urgent and weighty, the voice of non-negotiable truth, God's voice.

Within all of these: Which is the voice of God? How do we recognize God's voice among and within all of these voices?

That's not easy to answer. God, as the scriptures tell us, is the author of everything that's good, whether it bears a religious label or not. Hence, God's voice is inside of many things that are not explicitly connected to faith and religion, just as God's voice is also not in everything that masquerades as religious. But how do we discern that?

Jesus leaves us a wonderful metaphor to work with, but it's precisely only a metaphor: He tells us that he is the "Good Shepherd" and that his sheep will recognize his voice among all other voices. In sharing this metaphor, he is drawing upon a practice that was common among shepherds at the time: At night, for protection and companionship, shepherds would put their flocks together into a common enclosure. They would then separate the sheep in the morning by using their voices. Each shepherd had trained his sheep to be attuned to his voice and his voice only. The shepherd would walk away from the enclosure calling his sheep, often times by their individual names, and they would follow him. His sheep were so attuned to his voice that they would not follow the voice of another shepherd, even if that shepherd tried to trick them (shepherds often did this to try to steal someone else's sheep) by imitating the voice of their own shepherd. Like a baby who, at a point, will no longer be cuddled by the voice of a babysitter, but wants and needs the voice of the mother, each sheep recognized intimately the voice that was safeguarding them and would not follow another voice.

So too with us: among all the voices that surround and beckon us, how do we discern the unique cadence of God's voice? Which is the voice of the Good Shepherd?

There's no easy answer and sometimes the best we can do is to trust our gut-feeling about right and wrong. But we have a number of principles that come to us from Jesus, from scripture, and from the deep wells of our Christian tradition that can help us.

What follows is a series of principles to help us discern God's voice among the multitude of voices that beckon us. What is the unique cadence of the voice of the Good Shepherd?

- The voice of God is recognized both in whispers and in soft tones, even as it is recognized in thunder and in storm.
- The voice of God is recognized wherever one sees life, joy, health, color, and humor, even as it is recognized wherever one sees dying, suffering, conscriptive poverty, and a beaten-down spirit.
- The voice of God is recognized in what calls us to what's higher, sets us apart, and invites us to holiness, even as it is recognized in what calls us to humility, submergence into humanity, and in that which refuses to denigrate our humanity.
- The voice of God is recognized in what appears in our lives as "foreign", as other, as "stranger", even as it is recognized in the voice that beckons us home.
- The voice of God is the one that most challenges and stretches us, even as it the only voice that ultimately soothes and comforts us.
- The voice of God enters our lives as the greatest of all powers, even as it forever lies in vulnerability, like a helpless baby in the straw.
- The voice of God is always heard in privileged way in the poor, even as it beckons us through the voice of the artist and the intellectual.
- The voice of God always invites us to live beyond all fear, even as it inspires holy fear.
- The voice of God is heard inside the gifts of the Holy Spirit, even as it invites us never to deny the complexities of our world and our own lives.
- The voice of God is always heard wherever there is genuine enjoyment and gratitude, even as it asks us to deny ourselves, die to ourselves, and freely relativize all the things of this world.

The voice of God, it would seem, is forever found in paradox.

A BLESSING FOR MOTHERS

God our heavenly Father, you give to each the ability to share your generative love.
 Bless those women in our lives who mirror your love and bring forth life through their willingness to risk bringing new life into this world.
 Help us to show them our gratitude for the gift of life and the gift of a mother's love.
 May our life-giving God continue to bless them and show them his unfailing love.
 We ask this through Jesus, God's Son and our brother.
 Amen.

An Amazing Easter Blessing

Thank you to everyone who made an Easter offering. It exceeded our expectations! We collected just under $35,000. It comes at a very good time, as we continue to find ways to fulfill the mission of building up the Body of Christ in our midst—through our ministries, education, service and liturgies. Because of your kindness and generosity, we're getting through some challenging times. We're truly grateful to everyone who contributed.

We also experienced the joy of being together. We had the largest attendance to date on Easter Sunday since the pandemic began. Almost 2,800 people came to celebrate the good news that Jesus is risen, alive and with us. It was truly a moment to sing "Alleluia!" with one voice in the parish that for many feels like being home.

Thank you everyone! —Fr. Mike

for 22

Angels are sent by God to guard us in all ways (Psalm 91:11) and to deliver messages (Luke 1:19). One way they might communicate with us is through Angel Numbers, or repeated number sequences.

The Angel Number 222 is very significant. 222 as an Angel Number has to do with creating blessings on a huge and global scale. This message from heaven is a sign of direction. It is telling you that your intuition is providing you with the answer or information you need at this time. This number is sending you an angel message to look within for the answers and to listen to your heart.

For the coming year, we are trying to increase our student population to 222 students. We have many families who would like to send their children to a Catholic School but are unable to afford it. There is a Tuition Assistance Fund that has been able to help many families, but we would like to do more.

Please listen to your heart and help us create blessings for those who desire a Catholic education. If you are able to help, there is a yellow envelope in your monthly envelope packet, envelopes in the back of Church, and you can also make an electronic donation on Give Central. May God, and the Angels, bless you for your kindness and generosity.
