Humility That Brings Life

How far would we go to live a humble life? What would we sacrifice for our faith and our church?

Our first reading is always a challenge for me to reflect upon if we allow it to enter into our hearts. A mother and seven sons are living their lives according to the Jewish faith. They are faithful to what their faith asks of them, even as to what they eat. When the decree of the king demands that all his faithful subjects eat pork or be tortured to death. This seemed to have little consequence to them. They would rather die than go against their faithful ancestors. One by one the brothers were tortured and killed. All declared that although they loved living in this world, the world beyond us, the resurrection, is more important to them in the long run.

So what would you do? Whether as one of the children in this story or as the mother who encouraged her sons to accept death rather than infidelity, how brave and humble would you be in this situation? It frightens me to think that this may be asked of me some day. Would I have the courage? Yet, this is asked of us each day. There are moments every day when we are asked to be faithful to our ancestors who upheld our faith. Will we lie or cheat to get out of an embarrassing situation? Will we speak up when someone speaks badly or wrongly of our faith and church? Is it easier to just go along with the ‘crowd mentality’ of the moment rather than hold on to and express the eternal values we uphold in our faith. Every day, every moment we have opportunities to step up to our own truth. If we can’t stand up in these everyday moments, we certainly will fail when one day there may be much at stake.

The mother in this story has a beautiful and humble understanding of her life and of her family member’s lives. Speaking to her sons as they faced torture, she repeated one of the most humble, courageous, and faith-filled statements we find in the Scriptures: “I do not know how you came to be in my womb; it was not I who gave you breath and life. Therefore...the Creator of the universe will give you back both breath and life since you now disregard yourselves for the sake of his laws.”

That is enough to pray and reflect on for the rest of our lives. If we can hold this humble gift of life in our hearts as she did, then our everyday decisions to live our faith come naturally from our hearts and souls.

Be open to a true humility that brings eternal life.

Blessings,
Fr. Tom

Triennial Military Services Collection Nov. 10

This week we will support our parishioners and their families who serve or have served this nation with distinction as members of the U.S. military. The collection for the Archdiocese for the Military Services, USA will provide the Gospel, the sacraments and other forms of spiritual support to the men and women of the U.S. Armed Forces wherever they serve and to veterans who are in VA medical centers. Please prayerfully consider a generous contribution to this Triennial National Collection approved by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops.

Inspire and Empower project

The INSPIRE AND EMPOWER project began the first weekend in November. Look for supplies available at the three church entrances and at the Welcoming Center desk for you to jot down a favorite saying, thought or short prayer that uplifts your soul or empowers your feelings or mood. Parishioners can also email their contributions to Margaret Guzek at margaretguzek@gmail.com or Jennifer Friedel at jgfriedel@att.net. Contributions will be shared with parishioners in the bulletin, on the screens and on the parish website beginning in January 2020.
