PRAY FOR OUR SICK

Please keep these parishioners in your prayers,
and all the sick and their families:

Fr. Miroslaw Stepien, Christina Wallace,
Alice Walent, Kevin Larson

If you or a member of your family is ill or hospitalized and would like to be placed on our Prayer List, please call the Rectory office and let us know. The sick will be listed here, and prayed for by name at Sunday Mass. Names of the sick will remain on the list for two weeks, unless notified.

FLAMES OF FAITH

Candles will burn perpetually this week before the Blessed Sacrament in the Adoration Chapel of Our Lady, Mother of the Eucharist, for the following intentions:

- For an increase in vocations to the priesthood and religious life
- In thanksgiving for favors granted

THE DOCTOR IS IN

January 28 is the Feast Day of St. Thomas Aquinas. He is a Doctor of the Church and is thought by many to be the greatest mind in the history of the Church. For centuries his scholastic theology and philosophy have been taught in seminaries and Catholic universities.

Theology is the study about God. Prayer before the Blessed Sacrament gives us knowledge of God Himself. One is the academic study of love, the other is the warm experience of Love Personified. One may be likened to a book all about a person, while the other is that Person telling us firsthand all about Himself.

St. Thomas said it best a long time ago. He stated that he got more out of one Holy Hour of prayer before the Blessed Sacrament than what he learned from all of the books he ever read. He discovered more about His love by being in His Real presence, than all he ever wrote. All that has ever been written and said was as meaningless as straw, in comparison to the meaningfulness of a single personal encounter with Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament. (from Letters to a Brother Priest)

Listen to the Doctor. He has the prescription for your soul.

We currently are trying to strengthen the following hours with partners:

Mass Intentions

Our priests will offer a Mass for several reasons: in thanksgiving, for the intentions of another person (such as on a birthday), or, as is most common, for the repose of the soul of someone who has died. One must never forget the infinite graces that flow from the Sacrifice of the Mass which benefit one’s soul.

To have a Mass said, please stop by the rectory or call 630-834-6700

GOSPEL

The prophet Isaiah wrote about Jesus a long time before he was even born. When Jesus read Isaiah’s words, they described Jesus perfectly. Jesus did come to free people from sin, to help those in pain, and even to help blind people see.

For many retired athletes, coaching is the next step. For Rob Mendez, it was the first. Rob loved football, but he couldn't make his high school team. He couldn't run or throw, block or tackle—literally. Due to a rare disorder, he was born without arms or legs.

But people took a chance on Rob. As a high school freshman, he was the team manager. Years later he was named quarterback coach, and later the head coach for the junior varsity team that made it to the conference championship game before losing 3-0. More important to him than the score was what happened off the field. "Those kids gave me a purpose. A feeling that I not only belonged but that I was their leader."

Rob received the Jimmy V Award for Perseverance in sports and life. The first person he thanked? His mother. The next? His father. It was only right: they took the first chance on Rob.

Life is opportunity. Life is good.

TRUTH SETS CAPTIVES FREE! HAVE YOU OR A LOVED ONE BEEN DECEIVED & WOUNDED?

Could someone still be mourning a decision they made thirty-plus years earlier? Could it have such an impact that they decide to devote their life to spreading how evil, horrible, and degrading it is? Such is Nancy Kreuzer's story. Nancy Kreuzer had a second trimester abortion in the 1990s and now travels around Illinois to share her story with women, men, and anyone willing to listen, in the hopes that she can change their mind or help them find healing. Kreuzer is a member of Silent No More, an organization that gives a voice to women who had an abortion and regret it. Nancy's story is unique, as are all the women's stories: unique and different in their own ways, but very much the same in the ways that abortion has caused all these women unutterable grief and misfortune in multiple aspects of their lives.

Come here why it's so important for the Catholic Church to stand firm on preaching the truth about the evil of abortion and the healing & redemption that can only be found through Jesus Christ.

CHRIST RENEWS HIS PARISH
Women's Renewal Weekend
 January 29 – 30, 2022

Christ Renews His Parish (CRHP) is a personal and parish spiritual renewal process. As Catholics, we are called to witness to one another about the amazing things God has done for us.

The CRHP process allows us to do just that—take a break from our busy lives, share our faith with others, and get to know God through His works.

Come to a CRHP Renewal weekend for time to relax, pray, or rethink your priorities. You will have time to get to know other women in the parish and grow as a community, as well as in your own personal relationship with Christ. It is not a silent retreat; however, it is a weekend of reflection and sharing about real life issues and spiritual experiences.

I have no idea why I felt drawn to attend a CHRP weekend in the fall of 2014, but I thank God I did all the time! Being involved with this beautiful ministry for the past 7 years has been a game changer! I have been blessed by all the different teams of incredible women from Visitation. It was nothing I would have thought I would love so much and it wasn't anything I was searching for either. I was called by the Holy Spirit, through a friend, and my life has changed for the better and forever because of it!

"A new heart I will give you, and a new spirit I will put within you..." Ezekiel 36:26

If you can swing the time away at the end of January, then here's your invitation! You will be so blessed to share the room with this community of amazing, but very ordinary women who have grown in their faith and want to share their stories with you. God is always working in our lives and it's so nice to hear how and be encouraged by someone who lives right here by you. You will enjoy great conversations and great food with lots of great Visitation women!

Take Courage, He is calling you! Come and share a CRHP retreat weekend with us!
 MM

The CRHP retreat weekend was a life changing experience for me. I have learned so much about prayer, about myself and grew a lot closer in my relationship with Jesus. I am not perfect, but being a part of CRHP is helping me to become the best version of myself.

Come, and let the Holy Spirit transform your heart.

New Book Club
Thursday January 27
9:30-11:30, in the Hospitality Room
(Every Thur: 1/27 - 2/17)

Please join us for a book club review of "The End of the Present World and the Mysteries of Future Life" by Conroy & Arminjon.

It's one of those books that come out of nowhere - almost literally - just when the world needs it most. But a great saint - Thérèse of Lisieux - was so taken by this book that it spurred her entry into the convent. "Reading this book was one of the greatest graces of my life," she wrote in her autobiography. Completed in 1881 by an aged French priest, this remarkable book surfaced long enough to draw Thérèse into the convent and then, for more than a century, plunged back into obscurity.

Now the very first English translation of this hope-filled, chilling work has been published.

In it, Fr. Arminjon writes: "The end of the world, Christ says, will come when the human race, sunk in the depths of indifference, is far from thinking about punishment and justice." Fr. Arminjon insists that we "steer clear of every perilous opinion and make no assertion that is not justified by Tradition and the doctrine of the Fathers." Yet it's precisely his sober reliance on Scripture and Tradition that makes this book so convincing and so chilling! But Fr. Arminjon doesn't merely sketch the darkness ahead; he also shows how Jesus will fill that darkness with light; and he details the rich bounty Christ has in store for all who stay faithful. This book will show you how to read the signs of the times and prepare you to bear yourself as a Christian (as it did Thérèse) . . . no matter what the future holds!

The History of the Papacy --- Article 17

By Matt Pozen – Director of Faith Formation

Last week we looked at the changed situation of the Church after Emperor Constantine's "Edict of Milan" in 313 AD, which ended the persecutions and legalized Christianity in the Roman Empire. Constantine gifted Pope Miltiades (311-314 AD) with imperial resources, but in return he put the pope in charge of dealing with the Donatist schism that divided the Church in north Africa. During the reign of Pope Sylvester (314-335 AD) Constantine conquered his co-emperor in the east and became sole emperor. He decided to move the capital of the Empire from Rome, which was still majority pagan, to the new city of Constantinople in the east (modern Istanbul), which was majority Christian.

Unfortunately, Constantine's dream of a unified Empire bolstered by a unified Christian faith was threatened by a major doctrinal controversy tearing the Church apart. The theological question at the root of the controversy was: If Christians, building on the Jewish faith, believe in ONE God, yet also believe that this one eternal God (the FATHER) also had an eternal SON (or WORD) who became flesh in Jesus of Nazareth, then did this not mean that they believe in TWO gods? (The controversy was not extended to the Holy Spirit until later in the 4th century). Were not Christians more like their pagan neighbors, who worshiped many gods, than their Jewish neighbors, who worshiped one God?

As a way of solving this conundrum, a brilliant presbyter in Alexandria (Egypt) named Arius began teaching that the Son/Word was not as truly eternal and divine as the Father, but rather was created in time by the Father as his first act of creation, and then through this Son/Word the rest of creation came to be. After all, according to the creation story in Genesis 1, "In the beginning... God SAID: 'Let there be light, and there was light.'" In other words, God created through his spoken WORD, so this WORD must have existed before creation. Arius said that this WORD could not have been equally eternal and divine alongside God, for that would imply there are TWO gods. Rather, God first created his WORD, and then through this WORD he created everything else.

The other key biblical text in this controversy was from John 1: "In the beginning was the WORD, and the WORD was with God, and the WORD was God." (The Greek word John uses for "Word" is LOGOS, so this became known as the LOGOS debate.) Since Arius was convinced that to call the Word "God" would imply the existence of two eternal gods rather than one, he interpreted the word "beginning" as meaning that the WORD came to be "in time". To help common people to understand his complicated theological point, Arius came up with a simple jingle: "There was a time when the WORD was not." In other words, in relation to the line between Creator and creature, Arius argued that the WORD was on the creature side (with us) rather than on the Creator side (with God). Thus, when John 1 says that "the WORD became flesh" in Jesus, since this WORD is not fully divine then Jesus could not be fully divine.

The bishop of Alexandria, a man named Alexander, recognized the danger of Arius' teaching, so in 320 AD he condemned and deposed him. Alexander knew that from the earliest days of the Church believers had WORSHIPED Jesus as "Lord", alongside the Father, and if Jesus was not truly divine, as Arius taught, then this would make no sense. The problem was that, through his popular preaching and hymns, Arius had won over to his side many of the people in Alexandria. He also had connections with other bishops in the eastern part of the Empire, and they rallied to his side and condemned Alexander. This whole "Arian" controversy threatened to divide the Catholic Church and undermine Constantine's hopes for Christianity to be the unifying "glue" of his empire. So he appointed as his theological advisor a man named Hosius, the bishop of Cordoba in Spain. In 324 AD Hosius gathered a local synod of bishops at the city of Antioch in Syria, and together they condemned Arianism and its supporters.

Unfortunately, this local synod failed to win over many of the bishops in the east. Constantine recognized that a more general gathering of bishops was needed, so in 325 AD he summoned bishops from across his empire to the imperial palace at Nicea, just outside Constantinople. Due to the challenges of travel, only about 1/5th of the bishops were able to attend, around 300 total, and most of them were from the eastern part of the Empire. Only 10 bishops came from the west, and the bishop of Rome (Pope Sylvester) did not attend in person but rather sent two legates. This council came to be known as the first "ecumenical" council, from the Greek word for "general" or "worldwide". Constantine himself gave the opening speech, and he attended all the sessions of the council, which lasted about two months. The bishops wanted to do more than just condemn the teaching of Arius, they wanted to issue some kind of positive statement to clarify the issue of the divinity of the Son (Word). So they decided to compose a CREED, a brief and precise statement of the Church's faith. Next week we'll look at this Nicene Creed, issued by the Council of Nicea in 325 AD, which we still recite to this day at Sunday Mass.
