Mass Intentions

One must never forget the infinite graces that flow from the Sacrifice of the Mass which benefit one's soul. To have a Mass said, please stop by the rectory or call 630-834-6700

Young Children at Mass

There's nothing quite as joyful as the sound of a crying baby to break the sacred silence of the Mass.

You might think this is written this in jest, but there is profound truth in these words. As one saying goes, "If you don't hear crying, the Church is dying." Or, as Pope Francis once put it in a much more poignant way, "God's voice is in a child's tears."

Please be patient with our young families. They are the future of our church!

Earn Money For Visitation School When You Shop!

- Visitation School has earned more than $14,000 over the years by collecting Box Tops with the help of our parishioners.
- Box Tops labels are found on many food and home-essential products.
- Each Box Top is worth 10 cents for our school.

Did you know the Box Tops program has changed the way schools earn money?

A new label  has replaced the older Box Tops clips label . Now, instead of clipping Box Tops off of packages and bringing them to church, please follow these steps to earn money for our school whenever you purchase products with the new  label:

- First, download the free Box Tops for Education App to your smartphone.
- Next, choose Visitation Catholic School as your donation recipient.
- Then, every time you purchase products with the new Box Tops label use the App to scan your receipt. The $ your Box Tops have earned for our school is instantly added to our Visitation School Box Tops account.

*Receipts must be scanned within 14 days of purchase.

If you happen to find any of the older Box Tops clips, you may continue to put them in the Box Tops collection basket located at the back of the church as long as they are not expired. Scanning receipts is the only way we can earn money on the NEW label.

Thank you for supporting the Box Tops program over the years. We appreciate everyone's participation and hope you will enjoy the new, more convenient way to donate money to our school whenever you purchase products with Box Tops labels. You really are making a difference!

Please join us in praying for our priests. We meet each Thursday in the church at 8:45 AM.

ST. PEREGRINE PRAYER GROUP

Please join us in the Church on Thursday, April 21st from 7PM to 7:30PM.

Deacon Mike O’Ryan, assisted by Tim Koch, will lead the group in praying for those suffering from cancer and other chronic illnesses. All are welcome.

GOSPEL

It was very early in the morning on Sunday. The tomb stone was rolled away. Jesus was gone. All that was left inside were the strips of linen cloth. When John and Peter saw it, they were amazed. They did not understand all the promises the prophets wrote about Jesus yet. However, they knew he was alive. He had risen from the dead!

PRAYER

God, I thank you for bringing Jesus back to life.

April 2022

Dear Friends,

On the weekend of April 23-24, our diocese will take up a second collection for the Catholic Home Missions Appeal.

Home mission dioceses are those dioceses in the United States and its territories that need outside help to provide basic pastoral services, such as the Mass, the sacraments, religious education, and ministry training for priests, deacons, religious sisters and laypeople. These dioceses often face fragile financial situations, vast distances or difficult terrain. Nearly 40% of the dioceses in the United States and its territories are considered home missions.

We are one Catholic Church. What happens to one of us, affects us all. As Pope Francis notes in Fratelli Tutti, “we need to develop the awareness that nowadays we are either all saved together or no one is saved.” (Paragraph 137).

Let us remember our brothers and sisters in Christ in home mission dioceses so they may share fully in our Catholic faith.

Paz y bien,

Most Reverend Ronald A. Hicks

Bishop of Joliet

THE ANSWER

HAPPY EASTER! The Lord is risen.

The Eucharist is the sacrament of hope, for Jesus assured us before He ascended into Heaven that He would come back to us: "I will not leave you orphaned: I will come back to you." The way He chose to come back and to dwell with us always is through the Holy Eucharist, the fulfillment of His promise: "Know that I am with you ALWAYS even to the end of the world."

The glorious Resurrection of Our Lord continues in the glory of the Blessed Sacrament BECAUSE THIS IS WHERE OUR RISEN SAVIOR DWELLS, pouring out His life, His light, and His love to all who come into His presence.

If your faith in the Eucharist is weak, then you simply pray: "Lord, I do believe, help my unbelief." For the gift of faith, all you have to do is ask! (adapted from Come to Me in the Blessed Sacrament)

On that first Easter morning, when Mary Magdalene and others went to the tomb and found it empty, they were frightened and confused because: "They have taken the Lord from the tomb and we don't know where they put Him."

Mary Magdalene's question is easily answered at Visitation. He is in our Adoration Chapel waiting for you. The following hours are most in need a partner:

Tuesday 11AM to Noon, Tuesday 8-9 PM

Wednesday 2-3 PM

Thursday 2-3 PM

Friday 1-2 AM, Friday 8-9 PM

Saturday 1-2 PM, Saturday 5-6 PM

Please contact the Adoration Committee by leaving us a message at VisitationAdorationChapel@gmail.com and volunteer to be a Registered Adorer. You can also contact Joan Taylor at 630-530-8963 or Owen & Gail Hilding at 630 573 0033 if that is more convenient.

The History of the Papacy --- Article 29

By Matt Pozen – Director of Faith Formation

Last week we looked at the iconoclast controversy of the 8th century, which began in the Byzantine east in 726 AD after the emperor in Constantinople issued a decree ordering the destruction of all icons and other artistic depictions of Christ and the saints. During the 50 years of this controversy, the church in the west, guided by the courageous teaching of the popes, put up a strong defense against the iconoclast heresy. Finally, in 787 AD Empress Irene, working with Pope Hadrian I, convoked the seventh ecumenical council in the Church's history, the Council of Nicea II, which reaffirmed the use of icons in Christian worship and devotion. This would be the last time that Constantinople and Rome would work closely together to bring unity to the one Church, for subsequent events would gradually lead these two centers of the Church further apart. (In a few more weeks we will discuss the schism of 1054 AD, in which the eastern and western halves of the one Church broke communion with each other, resulting in the Orthodox Churches of the east and the Roman Catholic Church in the west.) Nicea II would be the last council recognized as truly "ecumenical" (universal) by the eastern orthodox churches, whereas the Roman Catholic Church, over the centuries up to the present, would go on to convoke another 14 councils that it would consider "ecumenical".

As relations with the Byzantine Empire soured, the papacy looked to the north more and more for the protection and stability it needed in the midst of the chaotic changes of the early Middle Ages. The king of the Franks, Clovis, had converted from paganism to Catholic Christianity around the year 500 AD, and he ordered his subjects to do the same. This did not exactly bring about true conversion to the faith, especially in rural areas, so in the 7th century it was Irish missionary monks who began to truly evangelize the Frankish (French) people. As the armies of Islam crossed from north Africa and conquered Spain in 711 AD, they even surged into France. Thankfully, at the battle of Tours in 732 AD, Charles Martel, leader of the Franks, was able to stop the Muslim advance near Paris and push them back into Spain.

Meanwhile in England, ever since Pope Gregory the Great (d. 604) had sent Benedictine missionaries to convert the Anglo-Saxons, the Church there had grown and thrived. By the early 700's the Church in England was sending its own missionaries back to continental Europe to evangelize the barbarian peoples of Friesland (Holland) and Saxony (northern Germany). In 719 AD, an English monk named Boniface traveled to Rome to get the pope's blessing for his mission to Germany. Pope Gregory II (d. 731) consecrated him as bishop and sent him with a letter of protection to Charles Martel of the Franks, that he might support Boniface on his mission. In 732 AD, Pope Gregory III (d. 741) conferred on Boniface the "pallium", which is the small woolen stole worn around the neck by archbishops (also known as metropolitans). This gives them the authority to found dioceses and appoint local bishops, thus enabling a more rapid and thorough building up of the Church in newly evangelized regions.

In 741 AD, Charles Martel died and his son, Pepin, became leader of the Franks. He immediately began working with St. Boniface on a series of synods to bring reform and better organization to the Church in his realm. The problem was that Pepin, like his father, was not of the royal line descended from Clovis, and therefore could not claim the title of king, even though he was the one exercising true leadership. So in 750, Pepin wrote to Pope Zachary with the following question: "Who is the true king, the one with the name or the one exercising true leadership in the realm?" The pope responded that it was not the name that made one king, but rather the exercise of leadership and power. Armed with this papal sanction, Pepin was elected by the Frankish nobility as true King of the Franks. He was then anointed and crowned by none other than St. Boniface himself, thus conferring God's, and the Church's, blessing. This event marked the beginning of what became known as the Carolingian dynasty in France.

In 752 AD, the pesky and powerful Lombard tribes that controlled northern Italy began to move south into papal realms and threatened Rome itself. The new pope, Stephen II (752-757), decided to cash in on the favor that his predecessor had done for Pepin. He traveled north to the French court and begged Pepin and his armies to come to the aid of Rome. Pepin agreed, and after marching south and repelling the Lombards, he gifted to the papacy the whole region of central Italy, in perpetuity! This became known as "The Donation of Pepin", a key step in the establishment of the so-called "Papal States" that the popes would rule as kings for the next 1000 years. In return, Pope Stephen anointed and reaffirmed Pepin as King of the Franks, and even further, gave him the title "Patrician of the Romans". Thus the papacy turned away from its traditional ally in the east, the emperor in Constantinople, and threw in its lot with the rising kingdom of the Franks. This move greatly offended the Byzantines, who saw themselves as the true patrons of Rome. Next week we'll see how this tension increased when Pepin's son, Charlemagne, became king in 771 AD.
