

Parish News & Notes

From Fr. Frank

In family gathering, a youngster stood up and recited the 23rd Psalm from memory. It was a beautiful rendition. His words flowed like music. His folks applauded enthusiastically and asked him to do it a second time. He proudly obliged.

Then the patriarch stood up. In a cracked and halting voice, he began, "The Lord is my shepherd. There is nothing I shall want..." His family sat there hypnotized till the conclusion. They were too overwhelmed to applaud. One of their company later summed up the reaction of all, "The boy knows the psalm, but the old man knows the shepherd."

We are invited, when we listen to scripture, to listen not only with the ears of their head but also with the ears in their hearts. It does much to flesh out the person of Jesus. He becomes less a mystery and more an open book.

Jesus the Teacher refers to His relationship to us as that of shepherd to sheep.

The term shepherd applied to leaders was quite common. The Greek poet Homer who lived out his life about a millennium before the Christ called the celebrated soldier Agamemnon "the shepherd of the people." And a trip to even a third rate museum on some city's back streets will show you images of the pharaohs of Egypt standing with the staff of the shepherd in their hands. Thus, when Jesus used the term in reference to Himself, no one was surprised.

But, as we all know from history, not all shepherds are the same. Look at Messrs Stalin and Hitler. All in all, many shepherds do a pretty dreadful number on their sheep.

Eagerly this shepherd, Jesus, listened to His sheep with both the ears of His head as well as the ears in His heart.

He was a most effective counselor, advocate, and listener. There was about Him no condescension. He was quite willing to spend, as we like to say, quality time with His constituency.

Look at Nicodemus, the widow of Nain, the blind fellow, the leper, etc. If you wanted His time, consider it yours.

His own agenda He put on the back burner. His time becomes your time. You need no appointment to approach Him.

And, as today's Gospel indicates, He was most anxious to get His sheep out of this transitory life and into eternal life.

In the words of the union organizers of old, He believed not only in bread on the table but roses too.

His agenda was twofold - making both this life more attractive and making heaven the final stop.

References are made to eternal life a dozen times from chapters 3 through 6 of John's Gospel.

And today's Gospel raises that number to a mighty thirteen. "I give them," said Jesus, "eternal life; they will never be lost." (vs 28)

If you are given the option of knowing either Psalm 23 or the shepherd, be smart. Choose the shepherd every time out.

Lord Jesus Christ, who are called the Prince of Peace, who are Yourself our peace and reconciliation, who so often said, “Peace to you” – please grant us peace.
 Make all men and women witnesses of truth, justice, and brotherly love.
 Banish from their hearts whatever might endanger peace.

 May all peoples on the Earth become as brothers and sisters.
 May longed-for peace blossom forth and reign always over us all.
 Amen.

Prayer for Vocations

God our Father, we thank you for calling men and women to serve in your Son’s Kingdom as priests, deacons, and consecrated persons.

Send your Holy Spirit to help others to respond generously and courageously to your call.

May our community of faith support vocations of sacrificial love in our youth and young adults.

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever.

Amen
