GET READY FOR EUCHARISTIC REVIVAL

In 2019 a Pew Research Center Survey found that only 31% of Catholics believed that “during the Catholic Mass, the bread and wine actually become the body and blood of Jesus.” Nearly seven out of ten Catholics believed that the bread and wine were merely symbols of the Body and Blood of Christ. Sadly, 43% of those Catholics surveyed believed both that the bread and wine were just symbols and that their belief accurately reflects what the Catholic Church officially teaches! Wrong, wrong, wrong! [You can check out an article about the survey here: <https://www.pewresearch.org/fact-tank/2019/08/05/transubstantiation-eucharist-u-s-catholics/>]

The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops have taken note of the shocking amount of ignorance and rejection among many self-professed Catholics regarding the Church’s teaching about the Holy Eucharist. If the Eucharist truly is “the source and summit of the Christian life” (Catechism of the Catholic Church, 1324) then we cannot afford to misunderstand and undervalue this great mystery.

With hopes of promoting the beautiful truth about the Eucharist the U.S. Bishops have announced a three year national “eucharistic revival.” To learn more about this project check out the website eucharisticrevival.org.

The mission of the National Eucharistic Revival is “to renew the Church by enkindling a living relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist.” The vision of the National Eucharistic Revival is “to inspire a movement of Catholics across the United States who are healed, converted, formed, and unified by an encounter with Jesus in the Eucharist—and who are then sent out on mission “for the life of the world.””

The Eucharistic Revival will take place in three phases. June 2022-June 2023 will be a “Year of Diocesan Revival.” During this upcoming year the Rockford Diocese will have many initiatives to help launch this revival. June 2023-June 2024 will be a “Year of Parish Renewal.” This year will focus on efforts to increase Eucharistic devotion at the parish level through adoration, missions, preaching, etc.

This will also lead up to a National Eucharistic Congress in Indianapolis in July of 2024.

Finally, July 2024-July 2025 will be a “National Year of Mission” where the entire American Church will be sent out on mission to share the gift of our Eucharistic Lord with our local communities and beyond.

Will this Eucharistic Revival bear good fruit? Or, will it just be yet another Church revival movement that goes largely unnoticed? That depends on you and me. I am excited about the possibilities. I must admit, I do not want to wait until June of 2023 in order to get things going here at St. Mary. We are already planning to have Eucharistic teaching and devotion be a central theme to all that we do over the next few years. You will see a special focus on the Eucharist spread throughout all of our ministries and programs: Sunday homilies, religious education, youth ministry, RCIA, Bible studies, our service to the poor, etc. You will be hearing more about our plans in the coming weeks and months.

One of our first initiatives will be to continue to promote our beautiful Our Lady of Perpetual Help Eucharistic Adoration Chapel. It is such a grace that our chapel is open 24/7. However, we have many hours where Jesus is left alone. St. Mary is one of the largest parishes in the Diocese of Rockford. There is no reason why our chapel should ever be empty. We will be talking about how Eucharistic adoration can change your life and bring a new vibrancy to our parish.

We will launch the Eucharistic revival with our Corpus Christi pilgrimage today. In the Holy Eucharist Jesus accompanies us and goes before us on our journey as disciples. Let us follow him with renewed devotion!

MONTH THREE- DEVELOPING BABY/ SPIRITUAL ADOPTION PROGRAM

Your baby is quite active in the womb now—although his/her mother won't feel him/her for another couple of months. If his/her mother's womb had a window, you could watch your spiritually adopted baby squint, swallow and move his/her tongue. He/she can make a tight fist if you touch his/her palm. He/she is breathing fluid which he/she continues until birth. He/she obtains the oxygen his/her body needs through the umbilical cord. The baby you are praying for weighs one ounce.

ASK FATHER

Question: “Is it true that we shouldn’t eat one hour before Mass? I grew up with ‘the rule’, and am curious if it is doctrine. – John”

Answer: Thanks for your question, John. The Eucharistic fast is not a matter of doctrine. Rather, it is a Church discipline that is found in the Church’s official code of law. Keep in mind, disciplines can be changed.

The custom of a Eucharistic fast arose after the third century and was mandated by early Church councils.

Fasting is a way to help one spiritually prepare to receive the Eucharist. We show reverence for the Eucharist by respecting the fast. The 1917 Code of Canon Law mandate a total fast from midnight until the reception of Communion at Mass. The Eucharistic fast was reduced to a three-hour fast in 1957. Finally, in 1964, the mandatory Eucharistic fast was reduced to one hour before reception of Holy Communion (note: that is one hour before you receive Communion and not one hour before the start of Mass). In the current Code of Canon Law (the 1983 Code) we read that “a person who is to receive the Most Holy Eucharist is to abstain for at least on hour before holy communion from any food and drink, except for only water and medicine” (Canon 919). If one normally receives Holy Communion around 40 minutes into the Mass then you really would need to start fasting a mere 20 minutes before the start of Mass. Of course, this is just the bare minimum required. If you want to show greater devotion and sacrifice you are always free to fast longer before receiving Communion. Also, Canon 919 paragraph 3 states: “The elderly, the infirm, and those who care for them can receive the Most Holy Eucharist even if they have eaten something within the preceding hour.” —Answered by Fr. DiTomo

JOIN THE $100 CLUB

The $100 Club has been established to help defray the cost of Summerfest! We are not looking for the fest to be a fundraiser—we are simply looking to get closer to a break even point. All who join will have their names listed on the $100 Club Honor Board in the narthex of church prior to and at Summerfest on August 13th.

Summerfest is meant 100% to be an evangelizing event!

We really want everyone who attends to be able to participate in all of the attractions, games, and contests free of charge. The only cost to anyone will be food and drink.

The Knights of Columbus will be doing the cooking and serving up beverages so families will find it more affordable than food trucks. Deacon Lincoln and his band, The Pagemen, will be playing again this year for our entertainment. Fun will be had by all!

If you want to be part of the $100 Club, please put your contribution in an envelope marked “$100” Club and drop it off at the parish office, place it in the collection basket, or mail it to St. Mary Church, 10307 Dundee Rd., Huntley, IL 60142. Don’t delay, join today!

The Challenge of Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship

Part I of II: Our Call as Catholic Citizens

This brief document is Part I of a summary of the US bishops' reflection, Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship, which complements the teaching of bishops in dioceses and states.

Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship is the teaching document of the Catholic Bishops of the United States on the political responsibility of Catholics. It provides guidance for all who seek to exercise their rights and duties as citizens. As Catholics, we bring the richness of our faith to the public square. We draw from both faith and reason as we seek to affirm the dignity of the human person and the common good of all.

Everyone living in this country is called to participate in public life and contribute to the common good.¹ In Rejoice and Be Glad [Gaudete et exsultate], Pope Francis writes:

Your identification with Christ and his will involves a commitment to build with him that kingdom of love, justice and universal peace. . . . You cannot grow in holiness without committing yourself, body and soul, to giving your best to this endeavor.²

As Catholics, we are part of a community with profound teachings that help us consider challenges in public life, contribute to greater justice and peace for all people, and evaluate policy positions, party platforms, and candidates' promises and actions in light of the Gospel in order to help build a better world.

Why Does the Church Teach About Issues Affecting Public Policy?

The Church's obligation to participate in shaping the moral character of society is a requirement of our faith, a part of the mission given to us by Jesus Christ. As people of both faith and reason, Catholics are called to bring truth to political life and to practice Christ's commandment to "love one another" (Jn 13:34).

The US Constitution protects the right of individual believers and religious bodies to proclaim and live out their faith without government interference, favoritism, or discrimination. Civil law should recognize and protect the Church's right and responsibility to participate in society without abandoning its moral convictions. Our nation's tradition of pluralism is enhanced, not threatened, when religious groups and people of faith bring their convictions into public life. The Catholic community brings to political dialogue a consistent moral framework and broad experience serving those in need.

Who in the Church Should Participate in Political Life?

In the Catholic tradition, responsible citizenship is a virtue, and participation in political life is a moral obligation. As Catholics, we should be guided more by our moral convictions than by our attachment to any political party or interest group. In today's environment, Catholics may feel politically disenfranchised, sensing that no party and few candidates fully share our comprehensive commitment to human life and dignity. This should not discourage us. On the contrary, it makes our obligation to act all the more urgent. Catholic lay women and men need to act on the Church's moral principles and become more involved: running for office, working within political parties, and communicating concerns to elected officials. Even those who cannot vote should raise their voices on matters that affect their lives and the common good. Faithful citizenship is an ongoing responsibility, not just an election year duty.

How Can Catholic Social Teaching Help Guide Our Participation?

In the words of Pope Francis, "progress in building a people in peace, justice and fraternity depends on four principles related to constant tensions present in every social reality. These derive from the pillars of the Church's social doctrine, which serve as 'primary and fundamental parameters of reference for interpreting and evaluating social phenomena.'"³ The four principles include the dignity of the human person, the common good, subsidiarity, and solidarity. Taken together, these principles provide a moral framework for Catholic engagement in advancing what we have called a "consistent ethic of life" (Living the Gospel of Life, no. 22).

Rightly understood, this ethic does not treat all issues as morally equivalent; nor does it reduce Catholic teaching to one or two issues. It anchors the Catholic commitment to defend human life and other human rights, from conception until natural death, in the fundamental obligation to respect the dignity of every human being as a child of God.

Catholic voters should use Catholic teaching to examine candidates' positions on issues and should consider candidates' integrity, philosophy, and performance. It is important for all citizens "to see beyond party politics, to analyze campaign rhetoric critically, and to choose their political leaders according to principle, not party affiliation or mere self-interest" (USCCB, Living the Gospel of Life, no. 33). The following summary of the four principles highlights several themes of Catholic social teaching for special consideration: these include human rights and responsibilities, respect for work and the rights of workers, care for God's creation, and the preferential option for the poor and vulnerable.⁴

The Dignity of the Human Person

Human life is sacred because every person is created in the image and likeness of God. There is a rich and multifaceted Catholic teaching on human dignity summarized in the Compendium of the Social Doctrine of the Church. Every human being "must always be understood in his unrepeatable and inviolable uniqueness . . . This entails above all the requirement not only of simple respect on the part of others, especially political and social institutions and their leaders with regard to every man and woman on the earth, but even more, this means that the primary commitment of each person towards others, and particularly of these same institutions, must be for the promotion and integral development of the person" (no. 131). The Compendium continues, "It is necessary to 'consider every neighbor without exception as another self, taking into account first of all his life and the means necessary for living it with dignity' (Gaudium et Spes, no. 27).

Every political, economic, social, scientific and cultural program must be inspired by the awareness of the primacy of each human being over society.⁵⁵

Subsidiarity

It is impossible to promote the dignity of the person without showing concern for the family, groups, associations, and local realities—in short, for those economic, social, cultural, recreational, professional, and political communities to which people spontaneously give life and which make it possible for them to achieve effective social growth.⁶ The family, based on marriage between a man and a woman, is the fundamental unit of society. This sanctuary for the creation and nurturing of children must not be redefined, undermined, or neglected. Supporting families should be a priority for economic and social policies. How our society is organized—in economics and politics, in law and public policy—affects the well-being of individuals and of society. Every person and association has a right and a duty to participate in shaping society to promote the well-being of individuals and the common good.

The principle of subsidiarity reminds us that larger institutions in society should not overwhelm or interfere with smaller or local institutions; yet larger institutions have essential responsibilities when the more local institutions cannot adequately protect human dignity, meet human needs, and advance the common good.⁷

The Common Good

The common good is comprised of “the sum total of social conditions which allow people, either as groups or as individuals, to reach their fulfillment more fully and more easily.”⁸

Human dignity is respected and the common good is fostered only if human rights are protected and basic responsibilities are met. Every human being has a right to life, a right to religious freedom, and a right to have access to those things required for human decency—food and shelter, education and employment, health care and housing. Corresponding to these rights are duties and responsibilities—to ourselves, to our families, and to the larger society.

The economy must serve people, not the other way around. An economic system must serve the dignity of the human person and the common good by respecting the dignity of work and protecting the rights of workers. Economic justice calls for decent work at fair, living wages, a broad and fair legalization program with a path to citizenship for immigrant workers, and the opportunity for all people to work together for the common good through their work, ownership, enterprise, investment, participation in unions, and other forms of economic activity. Workers also have responsibilities—to provide a fair day’s work for a fair day’s pay, to treat employers and coworkers with respect, and to carry out their work in ways that contribute to the common good. Workers, employers, and unions should not only advance their own interests but also work together to advance economic justice and the well-being of all.

We have a duty to care for God’s creation, which Pope Francis refers to in Laudato Si’ as “our common home.”⁹ We all are called to be careful stewards of God’s creation and to ensure a safe and hospitable environment for vulnerable human beings now and in the future. Pope Francis, consistent with St. John Paul II and Pope Benedict XVI (World Day of Peace Message, 1990 and 2010), has lifted up pollution, climate change, lack of access to clean water, and the loss of biodiversity as particular challenges. Pope Francis speaks of an “ecological debt” (no. 51) owed by wealthier nations to developing nations. And he calls all of us to an “ecological conversion” (no. 219), by which “the effects of [our] encounter with Jesus Christ become evident in [our] relationship with the world around [us].”¹⁰ Indeed, this concern with “natural ecology” is an indispensable part of the broader “human ecology,” which encompasses not only material but moral and social dimensions as well.

Solidarity

Solidarity is “a firm and persevering determination to commit oneself to . . . the good of all and of each individual, because we are all really responsible for all.” It is found in “a commitment to the good of one’s neighbor with the readiness, in the Gospel sense, to ‘lose oneself’ for the sake of the other instead of exploiting him, and to ‘serve him’ instead of oppressing him for one’s own advantage.”¹¹

We are one human family, whatever our national, racial, ethnic, economic, and ideological differences. Our Catholic commitment to solidarity requires that we pursue justice, eliminate racism, end human trafficking, protect human rights, seek peace, and avoid the use of force except as a necessary last resort.

In a special way, our solidarity must find expression in the preferential option for the poor and vulnerable. A moral test for society is how we treat the weakest among us—the unborn, those dealing with disabilities or terminal illness, the poor, and the marginalized.

Conclusion

In light of Catholic teaching, the bishops vigorously repeat their call for a renewed politics that focuses on moral principles, the promotion of human life and dignity, and the pursuit of the common good. Political participation in this spirit reflects not only the social teaching of our Church but the best traditions of our nation.
