PASTOR'S CORNER

Dear friends,

Father Alex and I would like to thank all those who sent us Christmas cards and various gifts and tokens of appreciation, from cookies to gift cards. Thanks for your kindness and prayers.

The annual Octave of Christian Unity begins January 18th through the 25th. These eight days of prayer have been in existence since 1908, with Catholic participation since 1916 during the pontificate of Pope Benedict XV.

This year's theme is the from the Epiphany story of the wise men's search for the Christ Child. The magi entered Jerusalem saying, "We saw the star in the East, and we came to worship Him" (Mt. 2:2).

We at SJV mark this Unity Week with our friends at Calvary Lutheran Church across the street.

Last year the pandemic disrupted the week, but this year we will have a joint prayer service at Calvary on Wednesday, January 19, at 11 AM, followed by fellowship. It is good to pray and sing together as we look to what unites rather than what separates. Christians praying together can be a good example in our very divided world. Hope you can join us.

Peace,

Very Rev. Edwin Kornath

COINS FOR BABIES BOTTLE COLLECTION!

The bottles are out, and we will be collecting them with your donations the weekend of January 23. Thank you for your generous support to each of these agencies:

The Women's Support Center, Life's Connection, Women's Care Center, Milwaukee Birthright
 These agencies help save lives every day by helping mothers, fathers and their innocent unborn babies survive our culture of death. Through their efforts mothers and fathers struggling with a difficult pregnancy can receive guidance and financial help along with ongoing support after the baby is born. These efforts allow the parents the freedom to choose life for their baby. If you did not receive a bottle, we will be happy to take your donations; checks should be made payable to St. John Vianney Parish. We thank you for your generosity.

WHAT'S THIS?

January 22 – Day of Prayer for the Legal Protection of Unborn Children

The General Instruction of the Roman Missal (GIRM), # 373, designates January 22 as a particular day of prayer and penance, called the "Day of Prayer for the Legal Protection of Unborn Children". "In all the Dioceses of the United States of America, January 22 (or January 23, when January 22 falls on a Sunday) shall be observed as a particular day of prayer for the full restoration of the legal guarantee of the right to life and of penance for violations to the dignity of the human person committed through acts of abortion." January 22 is the anniversary of Roe v. Wade. This Mass may be celebrated with white vestments or with violet vestments.

Understanding the Church Calendar

Church celebrations are not merely random events but follow a seasonal, regulated schedule established by the Church's liturgical calendar. In the fourth century, Emperor Constantine ended the Roman persecution of all religious factions and claimed Christianity to be the state religion of the Roman Empire. As the Church and Christian faith expanded, the number of religious celebrations subsequently increased. Unfortunately, for centuries there was no centralized control over the observance of the many celebrations. Every diocese had its own calendar, therefore rituals differed. This all led to confusion and abuses that continued until the reforms of the Council of Trent (1545-1563) and the eventual development of a universal calendar.

A churchwide calendar prompted the need to effectively organize the numerous holidays in a manner applicable to every diocese. A most challenging aspect of this effort was the standardization of the rituals used during the different ceremonies and, further, the sorting out and assigning of common dates or time frames to each event. A well-organized liturgical calendar did not happen overnight, but has evolved over the past 450 years. While the methods of categorizing the various festivals have varied, the Church has been consistent in her effort to arrange the events according to importance. The Second Vatican Council simplified the classifications to solemnities, feasts and memorials.

If we look carefully at the Church liturgical calendar, there are some days that have no celebration assigned; no solemnity, no feast, no memorial. Such days are known as a "ferial" day, from a Latin word meaning free. On the liturgical calendar, a ferial day is always on a weekday, Monday through Friday, and occurs during Ordinary Time. On that day the priest has the option of celebrating the previous Sunday Mass, a votive Mass or a Mass acknowledging any saint he desires. The celebrant may select the readings or use those appointed in the Lectionary for that day.

SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Last week we celebrated the Baptism of the Lord. That feast day represents an ending and a beginning. It was, of course, the end of the Christmas season. However, it was also the beginning of Jesus' public ministry, as well as the beginning of what we call "ordinary time" in the Church. Thus, since endings and beginnings sometimes overlap, this Sunday is actually the Second Sunday in Ordinary Time.

Our readings this week not only mark the beginning of Christ's public ministry, but they also contain some vivid stewardship imagery and meanings. The First Reading from the Prophet Isaiah extols God's love for us. Isaiah compares that unconditional love to the feelings of a bridegroom toward his bride. The underlying idea which we must grasp is that if God rejoices because of us, we in turn need to rejoice in service to the Lord and to others. That is, after all, the joy which comes from stewardship—the joy of serving others without thought of a return.

St. Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians was most likely written from Ephesus while Paul was there for an extended period of time. Although Ephesus is some 250 miles from Corinth, there were many travelers between the two cities, so most likely Paul was kept apprised of situations and happenings in the Church in Corinth. With concerns about the Corinthians returning to previous practices and drifting from the Church, Paul wrote this letter, and the content reflects his apprehensions and his advice.

With a stewardship awareness, Paul states, "There are different kinds of spiritual gifts but the same Spirit; there are different forms of service but the same Lord; there are different workings but the same God, who produces all of them in everyone." We are all gifted in different ways, but regardless the gifts and the ways we are gifted, Paul makes it clear that all comes from God. When we reach that insight, we are well on our way to a stewardship way of life.

There are not many direct quotes from the Blessed Mother in scripture, but two of the more noteworthy ones are in this Gospel. Mary tells Jesus simply, "They are out of wine." Jesus, her son but also the Son of God, responds "My hour has not yet come." The loving Mother, who knows her Son well probably smiles in a knowing way and merely says to those around, "Do whatever he tells you." She knows that His time has indeed come; His work is just beginning. Jesus, of course, provides the wine through a miracle with which we are well familiar.

We tend to make our lives much more complex than may be necessary. It may be as simple as our understanding, as St. Paul indicates, that God is in control. Then, although it is not always simple or easily understood, we need to "do whatever He tells us." God loves us; we need to rejoice in that and love in return. We are each gifted with many wonderful gifts. Now all we have to do is to do what God tells us over and over: love one another.
