The Right Thing

Last week after Mass, I was scolded by someone for not talking about abortion. In years past, I have been scolded because I did preach about it. I've also been criticized for speaking about gender issues, or for not speaking about them enough. Since speaking about these topics, or not speaking about them, will inevitably make someone angry at me, I may as well clarify the teachings of our Holy Church on these two issues which have been headlining the news a lot lately.

Abortion is a serious topic: it is about the termination of a human life. What should be a very personal moral, spiritual and pastoral struggle has been dragged into the public spotlight, politicized, and legalized. There are many voices shouting about the so-called "right" to an abortion. But does anyone have a right to snuff out the life of another human being? What does the right to kill a child say about our nation's values? In nearly a quarter of a century of hearing Confessions, I've counseled and prayed with many people (women and men) who have been party to an abortion. Not one has ever been proud of what they did, or tried to argue that it was the right thing. It is something which haunts a person their entire life. There is always remorse. Years ago, a woman in her eighties, who had aborted her baby when she was seventeen, finally found the courage to go to Confession. She had been afraid to come to Church all those years, and when she finally received absolution, she wept for all the lost years she had been away from the Eucharist, doubting Christ's love for her. She is but one of millions who are living with such guilt and fear, hoping for mercy.

Jesus does not justify sins; Jesus justifies sinners. To those who turn to Him with a humble and contrite heart, truly sorrowful for their sins, Jesus says, "I make all things new!" (see today's reading from Revelation). No doubt, the life of a Christian, even with the help of God's grace, is difficult. It is much easier to follow the way of sin and to accept what the world preaches as normal. But just because something is difficult to resist doesn't mean we should normalize it. As disciples of Jesus we are called to take up the cross each day and to resist sin in all its forms. In today's second reading, Paul and Barnabas tell us, "It is necessary for us to undergo many hardships to enter the Kingdom of God."

Gender identity issues are also in the headlines lately. We seem to be having difficulty these days telling boys from girls. God made it very simple: the book of Genesis says, "Male and female He created them," both in His divine image. God gave us two genders for the sake of becoming co-creators with Him of new human beings. But as a pastor, I also recognize the real struggle, and the pain of people who are wrestling with these issues. It truly is nothing to make light of. Again, many people over the years have come to me for pastoral counseling, in tears over their struggles. As the Church, we are called to meet such brothers and sisters with compassion. But, it is not an act of compassion to normalize anything which is not in keeping with God's design. This also means that we cannot justify co-habitation between heterosexual couples, or infidelity within marriage. Again, Paul and Barnabas remind us, "It is necessary to undergo many hardships to enter the Kingdom of God."

Judas sold Jesus out for thirty pieces of silver. In doing so, Judas sold his own soul. To do so, Judas left the side of Jesus, as he abandoned the first Eucharist for the darkness of the night. The world wants us to abandon our Lord, His teachings, and His Church. What is it worth to us? What is Jesus worth to us? What are our own souls worth to us? We know what our souls are worth to Jesus is: the price of His own blood. Jesus never justifies sin. Jesus justifies sinners who turn to Him for mercy.

Let us all kneel daily before the Sacred Heart of Jesus. And in this month of Mary, let us also kneel before her Immaculate Heart. There, let us cry out with sincere hearts which seek divine truth, and say, "What is the right thing, Lord Jesus? Mother of Mercy, show me what is right and good!" We will not find the answer in all the impassioned opinions of the world; we will only find the right thing revealed in Jesus, who once said, "Everyone who belongs to the truth listens to my voice." (Jn. 18:37) Our Lord Jesus never justifies sin; He justifies sinners who turn to Him for mercy. And, no matter how grievous the sin, He promises, "Behold, I make all things new!" May Jesus work through us, His Holy Church, to renew the world by His grace and truth.

Though St. Margaret of Cortona (1247 – 1297) is today known as being an incredibly pious Catholic, she didn't start out that way. Born into a farming family in Laviano, Tuscany, her mother died when St. Margaret was seven. Her father remarried, but life with her stepmother was so difficult that St. Margaret moved out of the home and instead chose to live with a man named Arsenio, though they weren't married. They had been living together for nine years when she gave birth to a son. Knowing in her heart that this wasn't the life that God intended for her to have, she prayed for purity.

One day while waiting for Arsenio, his dog led her into the forest where she found Arsenio murdered. So shocked was St. Margaret that she fell into a life of penance. She and her son returned to Laviano, but still found her stepmother to be as unwelcoming as ever. They then went to Cortona, and eventually her son became a friar.

Three years after her conversion, St. Margaret followed in her son's footsteps and became a Franciscan tertiary. During her life, St. Margaret established a hospital and founded a congregation of tertiary sisters. She was canonized in 1728.
